Mrs. L. D Thompson, PTA president, has mailed to parents of children in Roosevelt a plea to join PTA and help in the work it does for the school. Mrs. Robert Karrer is membership chairman, and signed the appeal with the president

Music will be provided by the Roosevelt Junior High School orchestra, it was stated, and Principal Harold Washburn will introduce the teachers to parents.

Cheerleaders Pit Band Against Football Fans

Cheerleaders at Hamilton High School have a contest going on between the band and the cheering section. If the cheering section yells louder than the band members at a game, it receives one point, or vice versa. Then at the homecoming game, October 24, the section with the most points will be awarded a bushel basket of confetti, cut by the cheerleaders. Either way, it looks like there will be plenty of confetti for the homecoming.

Miss Bernadine Coombs is the advisor for the cheerleaders this year.—Larry Watts.

Schiller Recreation Center is now operating on the regular indoor schedule of hours from 2 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 9 to 12 on Saturday. The fall and winter program will include activities each day for all ages of boys and girls and men and women. The afternoon and Saturday morning program is especially planned for children, and the evening activities are designed for teen-age and adult participation.

A professional staff of leaders is on duty during the center hours, to supervise and lead the varied program of activities which includes many clubs, groups and classes. Such things as woodworking, sewing, tumbling, dramatics, leathercraft, weight lifting, ping-pong, shuffleboard, basketball and many other interesting events, including games of all kinds such as chess, checkers, and many more.

Arts and Crafts

Classes in arts and crafts are being offered for all ages. The youngsters will find many interesting things to draw, paint, or make. Special classes are offered for children such as puppet-making, basket-weaving, leather braiding, flower-making, and other basic crafts. The adult classes will include leather tooling, carving, furniture-making, shellcraft, wood-burning, wood-fibre flowers, block-printing, textile painting, glass etching, plaster-casting, and other advanced crafts which can be used as gift items

Tumbling and Gymnastics

The objectives of tumbling and gymnastics are many and varied, including the development of coordination, strength, flexibility, poise and rhythmic sense. These classes are designed primarily for children aged seven to 15. Girls' classes are held Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Classes for boys are held during the same hours on Tuesday and Thursday.

Games

The games room is open during the regular center hours for table tennis, shuffleboard, checkers, chess etc. Physical-type games are held in the gymnasium; basketball, volleyball, badminton, and other organized games in season.

Woodworking

The woodshop at Schiller will be open Tuesday afternoons and Saturday mornings for boys and girls eight years of age and over. On Tuesday evening this activity will be available for adults.

Many projects of the "do-it-yourself" type are on hand for adults who like to work with tools. The tools, both power and hand, are available and ready for use.

Clubs

There are many clubs at the Schiller Recreation Center, such as Boys' Athletic Club, which meets Saturday mornings; the Golden Age Club, meeting the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 1:30 p.m; Travel Club for pre-teens on Mondays at 6:30 p.m.; Dramatic Club Monday at 4 p.m. The Teen-Club, which meets Wednesday at 6:30, has been re-organized and a program has been set up. These young citizens have scheduled several service projects, including the collection of toys and repairing them, visiting shut-ins, and helping with activities at the center. Also, several social events for the coming season are in the planning stage.

Ballet

Ballet classes for girls age six to 15 will again be offered on Tuesday afternoons from 3:30 to 5 p.m. The teacher of this class, Miss Dora Rosenfeld, will begin taking registrations Tuesday, Oct. 8.

Boys' Cooking Class

A new activity for boys will be started this year, the Chefs' Club. This is an opportunity for boys to learn the fundamentals of cooking. This group of youngsters aged 10 to 15, will meet each Wednesday evening from 6:30 to 8 p.m. to prepare simple foods which they can enjoy.

Movies

Free movies are presented each Friday at 4 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. The program alternates weekly between cartoons and feature-length films.

Locals Lead 'Light' Drive

Four South Side residents have been named area chairmen for the retarded children's "Light A Life" drive, the Council For Retarded Children, Inc., announced this week.

Mrs. Raymond Scholl, 1227 Lockbourne-rd; Mrs. Otto Grundey, 1356 Wilson-av; Walter Risley, 799 Thurman-av; and Edward J. Held, Jr., 1198 Wilson-av have accepted the campaign posts making them responsible for recruitment of neighborhood chairmen and volunteer solicitors to carry out the door-to-door one-day drive Nov. 12.

Fireflies

The volunteers, called "Fireflies," will number over 10,000 on the day of the drive. Funds contributed during "the" day's solicitation will be used to support the education of mentally retarded youngsters excluded from public schools.

The School For Retarded Children, located at 1235 Mt. Vernon-av has enrolled 160 students this year, but it filled to capacity, the Council announced. There are about 650 retarded youth in the county who could benefit from the training offered by the school, if adequate facilities were available, according to the chairmen conducting the campaign in the South Side.

Women wanting to help retarded children should call the area leaders and receive their assignments for the drive.

Young Peoples' Problems For Southwood R-E Group

"What young people can't talk over with their parents" is the theme for the first parent education study group of Southwood school, according to the chairman, Mrs. Chester Metzler. The meeting is scheduled for Oct. 10 from 2 to 3 p.m. at the school.

Mrs. Walter Barnhart will present the invocation. A film, "Getting Along With Parents," will be the main presentation. A discussion led by Mrs. Chester Metzler, will follow the film.

All Southwood parents are eligible to attend this study group, according to Mrs. Howard Schneider, publicity chairman.

UP AT 5 A. M.

A studio couch, a decision put into operation to sell it, a Thursday and a lot of calls—all these were involved in a little classified advertisement placed in the South Side Leader by Mrs. Harold Hammock, of 595 Whittier-st, offering a studio coach for sale. Telephone calls got her out of bed early Thursday, and Mrs. Hammock said the advertised studio couch. But that was not all; at 5 a.m. Friday morning, Mrs. Hammock got up and answered a call—know what it was? Yes, that's right, some one wanted to "come over" and see the studio couch. But since it was sold on the day the Leader was published, which was the day before, Thursday, the caller was thanked and received put up, and Mrs. Hammock went back to her disturbe slumbers. Those classified advertisements!

There is no use in trying to regulate the world—unless you can first demonstrate that you can regulate and control yourself.

Ohio farmers placed 277,979 acres in the 1957 corn acreage reserve phase of the soil bank, according to Ohio State University extension economists.

Coturnix Quail Released In Area

Game Protector Alan Ward releases some Coturnix quail. Watching are Jess and Paul Hart who operate a Madison County farm where the birds were stocked.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Coturnix quail have been released in Ohio by the Ohio Division of Wildlife for two years now, but this is the first year of wide-scale stocking.

Approximately 100 birds, also called Japanese quail, were recently released in Franklin County and about the same number was stocked in Madison County. The Oakland Park Conservation Club released about 75 birds that they hatched and raised as a club project.

Several states are experimenting with Coturnix quail to find out if they will live in our temperate climate. Since this work was begun, several interesting facts have come to light. It has been found that Coturnix live in more "open" areas, and would not compete with our native bobwhites for living quarters. This is very fortunate, for there are areas of pasture and intensively farmed cropfields that do not support a game bird. If the Coturnix is established in Ohio there is a possibility that it would provide bird hunting where none now exists.

Reproduce Well

Game experts have found that the Coturnix has a high rate of reproduction under game farm conditions. The eggs hatch in 16 days, and young birds begin to lay at 35 days of age. Released birds have nested in Ohio in the wild, but it is not yet known how many broods they will bring off during the nesting season. There is also the possibility of birds hatched early in the spring, raising broods of their own by late summer.

Coturnix are smaller than bobwhite quail. The average weight of Coturnix is 4½ ounces, and bobwhites average 7 ounces. In appearance the Coturnix is midway between a bobwhite and a meadowlark. It looks like a small quail, heavily streaked and with a pronounced white stripe over the eye. It has a bob tail, a longer, slimmer beak than the bobwhite, and its behavior is quite similar to the meadowlark as it has the same crouching stance while feeding or walking.

Coturnix are migratory in Asia and Europe, their native lands. It is not definitely known how they will react in the United States. One quail released in Ohio last year was shot by a Georgia hunter, who thought he had shot a bobwhite. Since bobwhites are non-migratory, he was very surprised to find an Ohio band on the bird's leg. Other Coturnix were known to stay in Ohio all winter near the release site.

Have Biblical History

The quail mentioned in the Bible, are Coturnix. The Israelites feasted on this bird when wandering in the wilderness. Led by Moses they were fleeing Egypt and were without food and water, when in answer to prayer, a great flight of quails lit in their camp. It has been determined that the birds had just migrated over a large body of water and were exhausted. Thus, they were easily caught by hand.

Coturnix do not live in large coveys like bobwhites, but congregate in groups of 3 or 4.

Bird dogs will point Coturnix, and the birds hold well to dogs. When the birds are flushed, they fly low with a rapid wing beat. People who have hunted them claim that hunting Coturnix is a lot like walking up singles and doubles after a covey of bobwhites has been scattered.

The meat of Coturnix is dark, and the report I have is that it is excellent eating.

Although the prospects seem bright for Coturnix as a future game bird, don't oil up the old scattergun with the hopes of shooting some soon. There is no open season on them, and it is not even known if they will thrive in Ohio. The whole project is still on an experimental basis.

Benefit Dinner Planned

Guild 16, Sts. Peter and Paul Missionary, is again sponsoring its annual benefit spaghetti dinner for a new seminary at Hebron.

Mrs. S. Presutti announced that this year's dinner will be arranged by Mrs. Sando DelMatto. It will be held from 1 to 7 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 6 at Del Rio restaurant, 1276 W. Fifth-av. Prices are $1.25 and 75 cents.

Last year $1400 was raised for homeless youth at the seminary, Mrs. Presutti said.

Ohio Apple Time

Apple harvest is under way in Ohio. This brings a rush of apples to the market and it is at this peak of the season that quality is usually best and price lowest.

Growers report a big apple crop for 1957. The dry weather in some areas has reduced the size of the fruit, but you'll like the high color of many varieties this year. The cool nights of late August and early September added color.

Dessert varieties like McIntosh, Cortland and Red Delicious are reaching that stage of mellow ripeness that makes them favorites for eating out-of-hand.

Jonathan, Golden Delicious and Stayman are also being harvested but improve in dessert quality after a period of ripening in storage. These apples are popular for pies and sauces.

Rome Beauty is the leading variety in Ohio in terms of production. It is being harvested now but is generally stored until early winter and then used for baking and for pies.

Buying—Central heating in our homes has changed apple buying habits. The modern home may not have a good place to keep apples that are at the peak of dessert quality except in the refrigerator. That fact explains the popularity of the 3, 5, and 10-pound bags of dessert apples now displayed in food stores.

The quality of apples to buy will depend on the desired use and the amount of storage space available. A bushel of apples usually contains 96 to 144 apples. Buying apples in this quantity is economical if you can use them while the quality is good. The firmer textured apples like Jonathan will keep well in a cool basement or garage. But sort apples frequently removing those ready for table use to avoid loss..

Having plenty of apples around is a good way of luring the children away from too many sweets.

A fortieth wedding anniversary on Sept. 24 was celebrated in a very pleasant fashion in Leaderland. The celebrants were Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton, 1522 Wager-st. Members of the family staged a surprise get-together to honor the couple, who are nearing that "golden" date of 50 years. Present at the anniversary celebration were Steve and Marian Toth and children: Kate Crouse and children; Emily and Robert Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Buchanan. We would like to add our congratulations to those the Hamiltons have already received, with an added one of good health.

Mrs. Carl Jorden, 197 Frebis-av, underwent surgery in Mercy Hospital last week, so a get-well card would be appropriate at this time.

Cub Scout Pack 31 held its first meeting of the fall season Sept. 24, at South Methodist Church, their sponsoring institution. The boys provided the entertainment by presenting gill's group, won the attendance award. The October meeting will be a Halloween costume party, with prizes to be awarded for various classifications of costumes. Oh, yes, "apple bobbers" will be in their glory, for this old American game will be on the agenda. On Sept. 16 all Scout groups met and discussed their needs. Boy Scout Troop 31 and Explorer Troop 31 need boys, while Cub Pack 31 needs den mothers. So, if you know a boy who would like to join a Boy Scout troop, tell him about the South Methodist troops, won't you? And you moms who have a yen to lead a den would be MOST welcome, we're sure.

A new arrival at 1016½ Parsons-av is the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Lynn.

We promised last week to tell you of one of Trudeau Guild's activities that was soon to take place. Well, it isn't really a Guild-wide participation, but five members of the Guilds will be involved. Nita Hutch, well-known former South-Sider who conducts a radio show on WTVN from the Deshler-Hilton's Sky Room, has asked the Guilds to furnish five "mistresses of ceremonies" for her program next week. Yep, the Gadabout is one of the five. Mary Merritt is the one responsible for this about-to-take-place catastrophe, but we still like her! Oct. 8 is our day and it's rolling around TOO fast. Ah well, it should be an experience, to say the least.

The first PTA meeting of the George C. Beery Junior High School will be held Tuesday, Oct. 8, at 7:30 p.m. Officers are Mrs. Tony Di Gioia, president; Robert Green, vice-president; Mrs. Carl Fischer, secretary; Mrs. A. H. Imhoff, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Green, Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. George Conaway, council members; Mrs. Paul Womeldorff, Mrs. Lawrence Gutridge and Mrs. James Davis, alternates to council.

Today's "closer" happened last week. Hope you get at least a smile from it. A four-year-old girl saw her mother get the mail, on one of the days when it was mostly of the "window" variety. She mumbled and grumbled a little about "bills, bills, I'm sick and tired of them, don't want to get any more." The next day, in preparing to burn the papers in the waste basket, she discovered a bill she didn't know had been received and it was all torn up. She summoned the four-year-old and asked if she had done the deed, to which question the child answered that she had. Her explanation: "You said yesterday you didn't want any more bills, so I just tore it up so you wouldn't have to worry about it. I just wanted to help!" Ah, life is so simple, when you're "age 4".

Hello

October seems to be full of "Special Days"—For instance, did you know that Sunday, October 15, has been proclaimed GRANDMOTHERS' DAY by the national Federation of Grandmothers' Clubs of America. The flower of the federation is a chrysanthemum. Honoring Grandmothers with a day of their own seems an excellent way to show them how we love and appreciate them. Pick up your phone and order now.

Get well wishes to Ed Lanning, Mrs. Zelma Zugschwert, Mrs. Grace Rader, Helen Benline, Grace DeLong, James Robinsons, Edith Scott and Mildred Rhoades . . . Congratulations to Mr. & Mrs. Carl Mehler who have just celebrated their golden wedding anniversary . . . Happy Birthday to Beverly Watson and to Mrs. Cheryl Stange who is ill in the hospital on her birthday . . . Best Wishes to newlyweds, Mr. & Mrs. Chalmer Williams (Barbara Munsch), and to Miss Betty Mattox and Mr. Don Seymour who will be married on Oct. 7th . . . Mr. and Mrs. Warren Baxter are cuddling a new baby son, Mr. & Mrs. James Mamone and Mr. & Mrs. Ronald Fisher are lullabying their new little daughters, while Mr. & Mrs. Ray Bragg have darling new twin daughters to cuddle and love. Congratulations to all . . .

DON'T USE IT

The greatest and the most amiable privilege which the rich enjoy over the poor is that which they exercise the least — the privilege of making them happy. —C. C. Colton.

There are many teachers who know the difference between teaching and learning, but who cannot teach.

The truth, as the late Rudyard Kipling pointed out, is often twisted by knaves to make traps for fools.

A Picture for Remembrance
THE DEDICATED purpose of every funeral director is to make the final hour of parting one that will bring comfort of mind — to create a Memory Picture that will live through the long years ahead. This is the reason for the beauty of the caskets, the soft lights and music, the flowers and the evidence of tenderness and reverence in the service. We have dedicated our chapel to this high purpose.

On the job barely four weeks, newspaper boy Alex Mezzaros has more than tripled his customers.

South Side Youth Sets Torrid Pace In News Carrier Competitions

The Hartley Newspaper Carrier contest is off to a whopping start with Alex Meszaros, 370 Hinman-av, a South Side Leader carrier, leading over 200 carriers.

Alex, 14, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Meszaros, has been a carrier only four weeks.

In his first collection period he built his route from 50 customers to 160, for which he received a total of 290 points—the highest ever accumulated in one collection period. Alex said, "they told me to go to the houses listed on the route but that didn't seem to be enough, so I went to every house on my Moler-st route."

He is in his freshman year at Barrett Junior High School and has been an almost-all-A student. His hobbies are archery and model airplanes, his favorite sport is football and he plays on a team at Lincoln Park.

In the carrier contest, Alex says that he is trying to win a radio, which takes 300 points.

As for the future—he'd like to go to West Point..

OG's Notes

By OLIVER GEDEIST

They're So Nice!

In another column of this paper there is a picture of Mrs. Ed Fornof, 71 E. Welch-av. The occasion for the picture of this generous-hearted lady is the gift of a piano to Southwood Elementary School. It came about this way: in the building, some one was heard to say that a piano would contribute mightily to the work of training youngsters. This author heard it, made inquiry of Principal Mearle Caskey, and put the message in the Leader—in this column. Mrs. Fornof says she reads the column regularly, and it is not strange that she should read the appeal and make the offer of a good piano . . . the Principal has expressed the gratitude of himself and teachers for this generous donation to the school.

Member Several Times

Last year we received regularly two copies of the PTA magazines — through the generosity of PTAs. This year we are two up—four now come to our home. . . . We appreciate the kindness of the PTA groups, which in the past year were also kindness personified in cake gifts. But between the office or schools and home many things can happen to a cake . . . which should have more expert handling than it gets when going for "its last ride" in the car . . . and there are the notes . . . which tell us of your kindly feeling for our efforts . . . and there are the personal appearances . . . one of the delights of being in the newspaper business . . . and one little fellow keeps popping into my mind . . . a little fellow in the Day Nursery, blind, but manfully making his way from place to place . . . this may appear in these pages pretty quick, now . . . and sometimes pictures get old before they can be used, because of crowded pages . . . omission is not our wish, but a "make-up" necessity . . . Thanks to the many for their great kindnesses . . .

But let's not forget: Rev. Frank Riehl, pastor of St. Ladislaus, and his assistant pastor, Rev. P. Miller, want it known that through the columns of the Leader much help was received in having good attendance at St. Lad's spaghetti dinner . . . and asks thta Gadabout be thanked for her contribution to the success of the dinner.

Bulldogs Down North 6 To 0

Pictured is a tense moment in the game when South High fans were treated to a 6 to 0 victory last Friday night at Mahaffey Stadium. The victim was last year's city champions, North High Polar Bears. Shown here is South's Bob Bateman as he was tripped after picking up a three-yard gain in the fourth quarter. No. 37 of South is Dick Schumacher and No. 45 is Jerry Merchant.

The South High Bulldogs defeated North 6 to 0 last Friday night. It was a hard-fought battle all the way, but the Southerners came out on top. Midway in the third period, Jerry Bordner, halfback, went off left tackle on the 46-yard line and outran the whole North team for the six points. Jerry Bordner now has scored both Bulldog touchdowns. This was the first Polar Bear defeat in the City League since 1955. The game was also the first Bulldog win over the Northerners since 1953.

Again the South defense was tough. The Polar Bears could not move the ball. But they were tough on defense also. One of the fine defensive standouts for the Bulldogs was Dick Schumacher. He intercepted one pass, recovered a fumble, and blocked a punt. Also playing good games were Harold Ward, Jerry Hill, and Jerry Fink. Dave Vargo, South co-captain, was injured in the third quarter of the game. He seemed to be all right, but Coach Duncan did not want to take a chance on his getting hurt seriously and kept him out of the rest of the game. South and North's record now stands 2-2, 1-1, in the City League.

The Bulldogs will go to Linden tomorrow night and play the Linden-McKinley Panthers. McKinley is so far undefeated and will be tough to stop

The PIC-C social, which will be held in the school auditorium, will begin at 6:30 p.m. PIC-C is a new name for an old-fashioned social serving pie, ice cream, cake and coffee. Teachers will be in their rooms for classroom visitation from 7 to 8:30 p.m. with room mothers acting as hostesses in the individual classrooms. Members of the ways and means committee are, left to right, Mrs. Frank Barbee, Mrs. Theodore Coon, Mrs. John Leach and Mrs. Peter Kielmeyer as chairman. Julie will go by plane Oct. 14.

In Training In Louisiana

Two Columbus brothers, Pvts. Jack A. and Ralph A. Seymour, sons of Art J. Seymour, 353 Reinhardt-av, are receiving on-the-job training as artillerymen at Fort Polk, La., under the Reserve Forces Act program.

They received basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

It's The Women Who Tackle The Indoor Weather Problem

By Janet Reeder,
Service Director

Men as home comfort "experts" are fading out of the picture, according to reports from the heating and air conditioning field. Women are much less inclined to pass the indoor comfort question over to "George" and with good reason, too.

"George, by the records, hasn't done a very good job. If somebody complained that the living room turned frigid with every west wind he was too ready to snort, "well, turn up the heat!" (and the heat had been turned up all day!)

So the feminine influence is welcomed by the home comfort industry generally—and the experienced, responsible dealers and contractors are dropping the fancy technical words from their talk. The mystery is dumped overboard, replaced by ordinary Main Street language. Home comfort principles are expelled as ordinary eighth grade elementary stuff, which they are.

Affects Attitudes, Health

Indoor climate surrounds and affects every phase of family life and health. Discomfort generates family arguments — creates tensions—undermines health — damages social relationships — takes the pleasure out of work and play — and inflicts numerous economic penalties. So it isn't something to just endure stoically as a personal inconvenience.

"Unlike "George" the women aren't out to show how shrewd and slick they can be; they know what they want in home comfort, because it's something they life with and they propose to get what they want. That is why they are moving into the driver's seat and taking the reins. And if history holds good the general standards of home comfort are due for a healthy boost—as the girls have a way of getting what they go after.

Altar Society Installation At St. Ladd

Sunday, Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m., the Altar-Rosary Society of St. Ladislaus Parish will have its annual installation of new members and benediction in the church. Ladies of the parish desiring membership should contact Mrs. George Holliday, membership chairman.

Refreshments will be served in St. Joseph's Hall after the services by Mrs. Sam Skunza and Mrs. John Worden, assisted by Mrs. Charles Fraley, Mrs. Frank MacDonald, Mrs. Michael Yandrich, Mrs. Joseph Ardner, Mrs. Harold Hirschman, Mrs. John Kustich, Mrs. Edward Horvath, Mrs. George Holliday, Mrs. Joseph Persichetti, Mrs. Joseph Cramo, Mrs. Albert Macioci, Mrs. Warren Marshall, Mrs. Bernard Karner, Mrs. Charles Erdoes.

Jitney Luncheon Coming Up Soon

The first jitney luncheon for the children of Lincoln Park School will be held Oct. 17, with a board meeting to follow at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium. Food for the jitney luncheon is a PTA program.

The annual cookie sale will open Oct. 22, with delivery of cookies to be made Oct. 28. Mrs. Lawrence Dodridge, Mrs. Donald Morgan and Mrs. Roy Hawkins are co-chairmen of the sale.

Plans were made on the selection of some of the hand-made articles pertaining to Christmas trimmings and gifts offered for sale at the December meeting. Mrs. Jack Kirby is chairman of this project with Mrs. Robert Steffans as co-chairman.

The theme "Gateway to Cooperation and Understanding" will be followed as the first step in the general theme for the 1957-58 program, "Through These Gates."

Breakfast Is Important In Child's Health

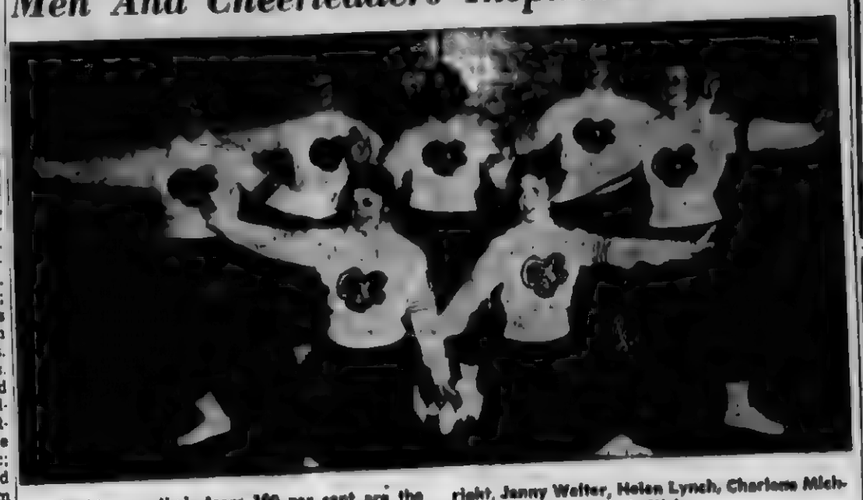
Teaching children what foods make up a good breakfast and why they need such a meal to start the day helps but doesn't insure that they all get an adequate meal, the Pennsylvania Experiment station reports as a result of an educational program with 1,187 grade-schoolers in one Pennsylvania town.

According to Ohio State University extension nutritionist, Pauline Gruner, studies conducted by the Ohio Agricultural experiment station also support the fact that diets of Ohio school children do not include the essential foods for breakfast needed for growth, health and normal activity.

All these children in the Pennsylvania study were taught over a period of five weeks the foods they need for a good breakfast and what the foods do for them. At school they saw how white rats grew, or didn't grow, when given food typical of good, fair and poor breakfasts.

At the end of the breakfast education program, 86 percent of the grade school boys and girls could select a good breakfast menu on paper. Yet only 40 percent of them had eaten a good breakfast on the day of the survey.

The children reported having milk and cereal products for breakfast to about the same extent as they listed these on paper as good breakfast foods. But a relatively small proportion reported eating such foods as eggs, meat, fish, fruits and juices, although they also listed these on paper.



Significant are the children's own explanations for not eating the kind of breakfast they chose on paper: "No appetite," "Ate what was there," "Foods not there," "Too little time," "Had to prepare food myself."

The children gave other suggestions that might have helped toward a better breakfast: "Getting up earlier," "Going to bed earlier," "Having the kind of food I want," "Someone to eat with me."

Thursday, Sept. 5, approximately 286 students answered the call as school bells beginning another year at St. Mary's High. With these bells, coming activities already begin to fall into shape. First on the agenda is St. Mary's football team, led by their coach, John Magaw; trainer, Earl Gray, and the athletic director, Rev. Francis R. Schaefer.

Then there was the opening of the annual "Marian Drive." Each year a drive is sponsored by the senior journalism class to obtain patrons and subscription for the school paper, "The Marian." The drive lasts from Sept. 18 to Oct. 7. Prizes are offered to students as added incentives.

Election of Catholic Youth Organization officers was next on the program. Chosen were, president, Harold Gutknecht; vice-president, Vincent Newton; secretary, Jeanne Britt; treasurer, Jeanne Bard.

If you're in the mood to read a good book, obey that impulse! Hurry to your Columbus Public Library right away.

Consumption of all types of meat will be lower in 1957. Reduction the first half of the year was in pork. most of the reduction the second half will be in beef, economists predict.

Many soils in northwestern Ohio do not supply enough available manganese for best soybean production, say Ohio Agricultural Experiment station agronomists.

Something new, and what is expected to be different, is being offered to the younger girls of the South Side this fall. Schiller Recreation Center is organizing a junior girls recreation club, ages eight through 12, for Saturday mornings from 9 to 12 noon, the center's director announced.

This junior girls recreation club is organized for "adventuring in the sports" and wil feature all types of games from all countries. A taste of what's to come in the way of organized sports such as basketball, volleyball, and various other team games just made to order for pint-sized players, and some unusual games which were given to America as a gift from the boys and girls of other lands.

Some of the classes will be held in the gymnasium while others will be carried on in the tumbling room. For further information call Schiller Recreation Center, HI. 4-7262.

Real Estate Tax Collection Is Month Earlier This Year

Real estate tax bills were mailed to property owners on Saturday for delivery Oct. 7, County Treasurer Newton A. Thatcher announced that his office will begin the tax collection at that time. Offices for the collection will be open for four weeks until Nov. 4.

Thatcher calls attention to the fact that this collection is a full 30 days earlier than a year ago. This has been the result of efforts being made to restore collections to former schedules. These schedules had been seriously interrupted in the past three years by delays caused by re-assessments and re-appraisals, he said.

Taxpayers are urged, by Treasurer Thatcher, to get their payments in early in order to avoid the long waiting line which faces those who delay until the last minute

Social Dance Lessons 17th

The first series of social dancing lessons for junior high school students will begin at Schiller Recreation Center on Thursday evening, Oct. 17.

Director Crawshaw says boys and girls should register at the center this week and next week for these free dancing classes. The elementary classes, for those who have had very little or no dance instruction, will be held from 7 to 7:45 p.m. for a series of six lessons, after which an advanced class will be set up. At that time a new class for beginners will be started.

From 7:45 to 9 p.m. each Thursday evening there will be a free dancing and practice period for members of the class.

In addition to the basic steps, the "know-how" of dance courtesies and other ballroom etiquette will be taugh to the beginners.

Youngsters Help Fix For Halloween

Goblins, ghosts, and spooks of all kinds will be a big attraction for boys and girls in the arts and crafts classes at Schiller Recreation Center for the next few weeks, according to Director Crawshaw, who reports that the children are helping to make decorations for the center Halloween party to be held Oct. 31.

From now on until the big day many masks, decorations, and party favors will be made in these classes, which meet Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

All boys and girls who want to make something for Halloween are welcome to join the group, it was said. Suggestions for costumes and ideas for inexpensive home-made outfits will also be available.

Chief Urges Home Caution Against Fires

October 6-12 is Fire Prevention Week, the oldest Presidentially proclaimed Week in the United States. This year marks its 35th anniversary.

Walter Strickfaden, chief of the Columbus Fire Department, is asking that particular attention be paid to the homes of the community, where fires account for about 55% of the city's fire alarms and practically all losses of life by fire.

Local records show that 1856 fires in Columbus took the lives of 14 persons, six of them under four years of age, and the economic cost was $771,907. Call the Fire Prevention Bureau today and have them check your home for hazards you may know nothing about.

A TIME TO GIVE

No individual, no family, no community is immune to trouble. A child is stricken by a crippling illness, a cancer cell plays havoc with a once healthy body. A storm or a flood disrupts an entire city. Old people grow lonely, boys and girls become restless.

The new industry, new highway or housing development that means progress for a community can also mean trouble if dislocations or increased population are not accompanied by adequate health and welfare services...and dynamic Greater Columbus is certainly growing.

Making certain that those adequate health and welfare services are available in time of need is everybody's business. The tax dollar and the service fee can only reach so far. It is the voluntary United Appeal agencies, supported and operated by and for the community, that must meet the need.

When you are asked to contribute to your United Appeal campaign, remember that you are giving to 60 causes...both at home and abroad. The need is great... the responsibility is yours.

They feature such lines as Ann Fogarty, Suzy Perrite and Anita Modes, in popular to better merchandise. The Walz's have been in the style business for three years at the Great Eastern Shopping Center and are known for their complete selection of dresses, lingerie, sports wear and accessories.

OHIO POTATOES

Potatoes, principal vegetable on our dining tables, landed at Jamestown, Va., 112 years after the English colony settled on the shores of the James River 350 years ago. The humble spud, second only to rice as a source of food for the people of the world, is a native of South America.

Ohio growers produce about 4.5 million bushels of potatoes annually. The 1957 Ohio potato crop will be about 10 percent less than the 1956 crop. Approximately one-third of this crop will be made into potato chips. The Katahdin grown on many Ohio farms has quality that produces excellent potato chips;

WHEN YOU BUY POTATOES —Look for the trademark, "Buckeye Brand." All potatoes bearing this brand name are packed under federal-state inspection and meet U.S. No. 1 standards for quality. You will find this No. 1 grade of Ohio potatoes packed in convenient sized bags of five, 10 and 15 pounds, as well as in larger units if you have suitable storage space.

When potatoes are purchased in large packages quality is maintained by storing at 40-50 degrees and keeping the tubers protected from light. Exposure to light causes greening of the skins.

SAVE AS YOU COOK—Serving potatoes in their jackets saves minerals and vitamins stored close to the skin. Recent findings prove that potatoes boiled in their skins lose less food value than do baked potatoes. Some research workers report that potatoes pared lose nine times as much mineral matter as potatoes cooked in their skins. If potatoes must be peeled, keep the peeling thin to avoid loss of those valuable food elements.

Remember, too, that potatoes themselves are not fattening, it's what we put on them that piles up the calories.

Center Is Newest Casto Development

Don M. Casto, Sr., and Don M. Casto, Jr., who are largely responsible for "putting Columbus on the map" as a model city, nationally known for its shopping center industry, and directly affecting the shopping habits of more than 100 million people in the United States, have their own special brand of development philosophy.

The elder of the famous father and son team explains that shoppers nowadays are "on wheels" and won't take too many steps to make their purchases. The cruising land design, proven in West Columbus' Great Western development, permits customers to take their cars with them right to the store and places them during normal shopping hours only 30 feet from the store of their desire.

Casto, Jr., is especially enthusiastic about the new Great Southern Shopper's Mart, because of the ever growing trend of movement to the southern part of the city and the rapid rise of development in this area.

Don M. Casto has pioneered the shopping center industry for 35 years in Columbus and Central Ohio. During the past 18 years the Castos have assisted in making Columbus the mecca for developers nationally, to study the Casto developments.

Modern Fountain Of Youth

The original Fountain of Youth was an imaginary spring about which many legends were told in both Europe and America during the Middle Ages. Its waters were supposed to make old persons young, and to heal all kinds of sickness. Tribes of Indians in Central America and West Indies thought the spring was in a northern region called "Bimini." Spanish explorers searched for it through Florida and the Bahamas. Ponce de Leon decided he had found "Bimini" when he came to the coast of Florida, where he searched eagerly for the famous fountain. A spring in St. Augustine is shown today as the one he discovered. Today's Modern Fountain of Youth is a fountain of majestic beauty resembling a small volcano from which jets of water spring upward. A myriad of colored lights surround this outstanding exhibit. Linro Durst created the Modern Fountain of Youth.

New Ideas In Education Featured At New Center

The Avenue of Nations will feature flags of all nations flying on poles in the center of the parking lot.

The International Mile Post is a huge sign directly in the center of the parking lot with the mileage to faraway places of the world and is topped off with a Goodwill Beacon and will be dedicated to all people everywhere.

Aquar-Terrarium was built and designed by a local South Sider, Linro Durst, of 3580 Lockbourne-rd. At various times of the year this enclosure, located in the Surprise Mall will house exotic tropical fish, lizards, electric eels, alligators or rare birds in their natural habitat.

This is built to resemble the original Fountain of Youth which was discovered in St. Augustine, Fla., in approximately 1512 by Ponce De Leon.

Original New York Gas Lamplights, from the era 1825 to 1905 have been transplanted to Great Southern from the sidewalks of old New York.

Entertaining and educational exhibits are scheduled for the parking area from time to time and will tend to bring entertainment to all visiting this newest of new shopping centers of the city.

Tasty Bird Opens Store At Great Southern

With the opening of their new store at Great Southern Shoppers' City, Tasty Bird Farms now have a total of five in the Columbus area. Others are at Great Western, Northern Lights, Miracle Mile and at 1458 W. Fifth-av.

Aqua Terrarium Is Designed By Linro Durst

What is a terrarium?

Webster defines it is a vivarium without water; an enclosure for keeping or raising indoor plants or animals, especially terrestrial animals.

Now for the first time in any shopping center in America, you will have an opportunity to witness this magnificent display.

Its 20x29 foot stone enclosure is covered with Herculite glass. This exhibit is air conditioned in the summer and thermostatically heated in the winter. When you look down into this terrarium, you will see the berath-taking Aquatic Falls and Tropical Gardens. Housed in their natural habitat you could also find aviaries, rare tropical fish, lizards, electric eels or alligators or, as Linro Durst says, "almost anything that runs, flies or crawls." Many surprises are in store for the viewer because this display will be changed periodically.

Linro Durst, nationally known aquatic and terrarium artist, has been designing and maintaining unique displays of this kind since 1938.

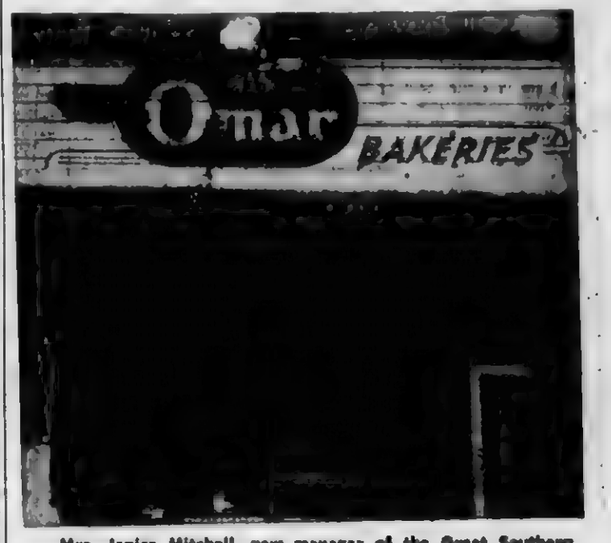
Library Lists Books On Children Problems

By Library Staff

Every person who comes in contact with children, be it parents, teachers, or just observer, has at one time wondered, worried, and tried to understand and appreciate the unique personality of children. To know and understand what makes a child act and react to his world and that of the adult is no easy job; it is an art, but fortunately there are valid and reliable books available on this subject written by leaders in the fields of psychology, education and medicine, and Parsons Library is highlighting them in a display entitled "You, Your Child, and the School," for the month of September.

We invite you to browse and select some of these books for a better understanding of children and teen-agers of today.

Parents will find these books of special interest: Your Child and His Problem, Teicher; Personality of the Young Child, Ribble; Young Child in School, Berson; Launching Your Pre-Schooler, Bley; These Are Your Children, Jenkins; Parents Can Be People, Baruch.



Parents of teen-agers will find this list vital: How to Live With Your Teen-Ager, Baruch; "Problems of Family Life, Stewart; Understanding Your Son's Adolescence, Gallagher.

Teachers will find these books helpful: The 3 R's Plus, Bech; Introducing Children to the World, Kenworthy; Teaching Children's Music, Myers; Teaching Every Child to Read, Hester; Child Drama, Slade; Teaching Spelling, Hildreth; Living In the Kindergarten, Wills; Counseling With Parents, Leonard; The Mentally Retarded Child, Levinson; Reading Ability and High School Drop-Outs, Penty.

Going Up!

A daring balloon ascension and parachute jump will attract thousands to the grand opening of the Great Southern Shopping Center, with a new thrill for the small fry of Columbus and southern Ohio, as well as the revival of an exciting event of yesteryear for the young old-timers of the area. The first ascension will take place Thursday, Oct. 10, at approximately 8 p.m., and will be repeated on Friday and Saturday at the same time.

While the ascension itself will captivate the crowds, they also will enjoy the added thrill of looking on as the huge black bag takes on its cargo of gas, produced from an open trench in the ground with a blazing wood fire. The hot air gases from the fire inflate the balloon.

Promptly at 8 o'clock, the balloon will be released with a man hanging into a trapeze bar attached to it. When the balloon reaches a safe altitude, the operator cuts himself loose and parachutes to the ground.

Gas Lamplights From 'Sidewalks' Of New York

Those renowned heritages of the Gay Nineties at Great Southern Shoppers' City are original gas lamplights. Many a top-hatted blade of the Gay Nineties paused for a glance at his fair lady beneath the venerable lamplights. They're the original beacons that once graced elegant Victorian New York.

All hark back to the days of Jenny Lind, Diamond Jim Brady and Lillian Russell . . . to the days when fine craftsmanship was a tradition that embraced the pride of old New York . . . its graceful gas lamplights.

The Marsh Foundation at Van Wert, Ohio, is a home and school for needy children which was established in 1920 by the Will of the late George Marsh, industrialist of Van Wert.

Egg prices likely will be around 10 cents a dozen higher this fall than a year ago. Replacement chickens raised last spring were about 18 per cent below 1956.

We have been in business for many years, selling suburbans, farms, Grove City homes and a few Hilltop homes. We feel at this time there is room for us on the beautiful Hilltop. Our spanking new modern to the minute office at 2960 Alkire Rd., is only five minutes from you all. We have seven full time salesmen able and ready to serve you. We belong to the Columbus Board of Realtors, Multiple Listing Service, the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards and to the National Association of Real Estate Boards.
This kind of wonderful service costs you nothing — the only cost you pay is when we sell the property for you, and that is 5% of sale price.
Another factor you should not overlook — Shoaf advertises and Shoaf's ads bring results.
If you plan on selling at this time, give us a try—remember our famous slogan coined many years ago . . .

Duck Hunting Season Is Near

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

The next important date for Ohio hunters is Oct. 18, when the waterfowl season opens.

Duck hunters received good news some weeks ago when it was announced that one wood duck per day would be allowed. There was no open season on wood ducks last year, contrary to the recommendations of Ohio wildlife officials.

Experienced duck hunters in central Ohio know that they will have to rely on wood ducks and blue-winged teal for early season hunting most years. The weather is usually fairly mild when the season opens in our area — not conducive to driving large flights of ducks south. The fast flying blue-winged teal, however, is an early migrator, and it starts south by mid-October. Many wood ducks are raised in central Ohio, and the wood duck population is usually at its peak when the season opens.

Use of Decoys

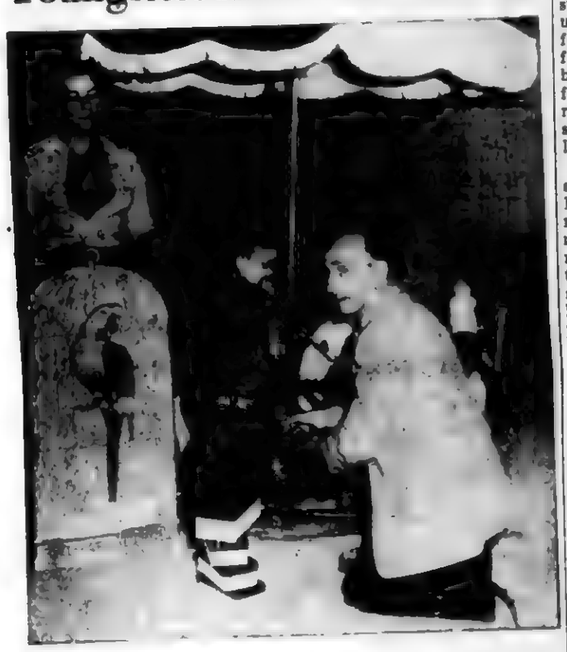
Wood ducks do not decoy well, and most hunters flush them from streams either by walking along banks, or floating down stream in a canoe or boat. Teal usually do not congregate in large flocks, but they come into decoys fairly well. If you hunt from a blind with decoys, or in cornfields be prepared to see a few mallards. They have a way of sneaking in, and you may be lucky enough to bag one or two.

As cold, blustery weather closes in, during late November and December, look for the duck hunting to improve. Large flights of mallards and black ducks (black mallards) show up, and provide the best duck hunting of the season. You'll get cold feet, and likely catch a cold, but you will also have some fine duck hunting.

Ducks and Pheasants

A couple of my friends don't make a special effort to hunt ducks, but they always buy a duck stamp. They often hunt pheasants along several large drainage ditches, and it's not uncommon for them to flush a few ducks off of these ditches. With a duck stamp on their hunting licenses, they are free to take a shot at them.

In addition to allowing one wood duck in the bag limit this year, there is another important regulation that is new. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service has banned the use of electronic devices or recordings in the taking of migratory game birds. This means that you cannot use an amplifier and loudspeaker to beam recordings of feeding ducks and geese over your favorite shooting hole. These devices were never widely used in central Ohio but they were so effective on the east coast and in the Lake Erie marshes that they were banned. The same regulation bars the use of electronic devices to amplify a recording of a man using a duck call.



After opening on Oct. 18, the season closes on Dec. 26. Shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour before sunset. The daily bag limit on ducks is four, and the possession limit after the first day is eight. The daily limit on coots is 10 and the possession limit is 10.

Late Report

Word just received from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and from Ducks Unlimited, indicates that ducks should be about as plentiful as they were last year, with an increase in the number of coots. Biologists working in Canada last summer reported that early nesting ducks brought off good sized broods, but that late nesting was harmed by drouth conditions.

Middletown is an important center of the paper-making industry and general headquarters for Armco steel products.

A new Economy Savings and Loan Co. office is now ready to serve the residents of southern Columbus and the surrounding area.

The Economy office will make loans from $25 to $1000 to men and women on signature only, or with automobile or furniture as security. According to the manager, Ralph V. Montenaro, "Loans will be made quickly and confidentially with terms arranged to suit the customer." The office will also finance merchandise purchased at local retail stores.

The Great Southern office is one of 11 Economy offices in Columbus. Economy Savings and Loan Co., founded in 1892, is a subsidiary of Capital Finance Corp., a nationwide consumer finance organization headquartered here. Capital now operates a total of 237 offices in 14 states of the United States and in Canada.

South Side Council Begins New Season Program

Organization Joins Recreation Dept. Planning Safe Halloween Celebration

Columbus' Council of South Side Organizations got back into activities after a summer of "keeping on working for the community," but with a slackened number of meetings.

With Chairman Jerry Fedderson in the chair, and following the invocation by Executive Secretary "Cap" Hoover of the South Branch YMCA, details of the organization's business affairs were examined.

Calling attention to the fact that the treasury was at its lowest point in a long time, the chair-man pointed out that there were added places where the organization could be of help—and that's the way the money went.

A Wet Birthday

One of the ways in which the money went was the Fourth of July celebration, which, they said, was so wet there was little display fireworks not being able to dominate pouring rain, which was heavy on the nation's annual birthday celebration.

Chairman Edderson told of appointing a number of committee chairman to handle the various phases of the organization's activities.

Roster of Chairmen

Chairman Fedderson reported acceptances by the following:

Recreation and Parks Committee, Ed Brand, chairman.

Publicity Committee — Oliver Gedeist, chairman.

Public relations committee and representative at City Council, C. L. Lensenmayer, chairman.

Social Committee—E. J. Reis, chairman.

The organization reported through Chairman Fedderson that the executive committee had devided to include membership as part of that committee's responsibilities in the expectation that duplicate efforts will be avoided.

Dangerous Crossing

It was also announced that contrary to past habit, no special committee would be appointed, the executives of the organization making such appointments as occasion may arise, thereby avoiding duplication of effort. One instance of this special according-to-need appointments is shown, with "Cap" Hoover being the committee. Prior to the meeting the executive secretary of the South Side Branch YMCA had discovered a serious danger to children at Frank-rd and S. High-st. According to the report to the organization, school children were prevented from reaching their places in Scioto Trail Elementary School because of the continuing motor traffic toward and away from Columbus.

When this condition had been pointed out, the executive committee appointed the "Y" secretary as a committee of one to get busy—and results—in protecting the children who are compelled to brave the heavy traffic on South High-st to reach their schoolrooms.

Halloween Parties

Following an annual custom, the organization, in cooperation with Columbus Recreation Department, will participate in the plans for observing Halloween as a safe "fun" night instead of an "unsafe" night. The organization cooperates with the recreation department in Schiller Park and in Barrett Junior High School, the latter from 7:30 to 10 p.m. and Schiller from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The organization supplies delicacies, including doughnuts and other delicacies, and also supplies auxiliary policemen to prevent outsiders inclined to make trouble from practicing their art.

Preparations were discussed in connection with another special occasion—Christmas. This the reporter will cover in another story about a live organization "which is dedicated to the welfare of the people of the South Side," as one who has been in the organization a long time stressed to the Leader writer.

From . . .

By OLIVER GEDEIST

There's a news story in this Leader about it, but it is important enough to justify mention here . . . a task gladly undertaken . . . It's about the Council of South Side Organizations . . . business and professional men representing every phase of our local life . . . a group of men who give much of their time to accomplishing worth-while achievements for all the people of our area . . . like the story of "Cap" Hoover's prompt action through the Organization when he discovered a dangerous traffic condition at or near Scioto Trail . . . Then there's the Halloween "big time"—and sane time, too . . . a good time for several hundred boys and girls where they may have the joy of mass get-together and no regrets afterward . . . and, yes, the same fellows also got into Christmas talk . . . they look ahead, do much, and the South Side is properly proud of the men who at the end of a day's work will still go on out to take care of affairs which are so close to so many of us. Dancing . . . I'm not much good at it, but it seems like I shall have to be in attendance at Corpus Christi PTA's dance tomorrow evening . . . It's a round and square dance, Mrs. Bernard Muetzel, publicity chairman, said. Get out and shake a foot for the PTA, won't you? They're a big help to every school . . . Happy is the fact that people here and throughout the country thrill to the accomplishment of putting a great weight into the universe and having it run around the world in only a few minutes as we count time . . . but there's no fear . . . and we go along about business with a "Phoey to you!" as the satellite wends its way on and on. Guess our consciences are pretty good, after all!

South Side UA Report Found Good

South Side volunteer solicitors in the Metropolitan and residential Divisions of the United Appeal campaign reported a total of $4,079 contributed from that area at the first report luncheon Wednesday of last week in the Southern Hotel.

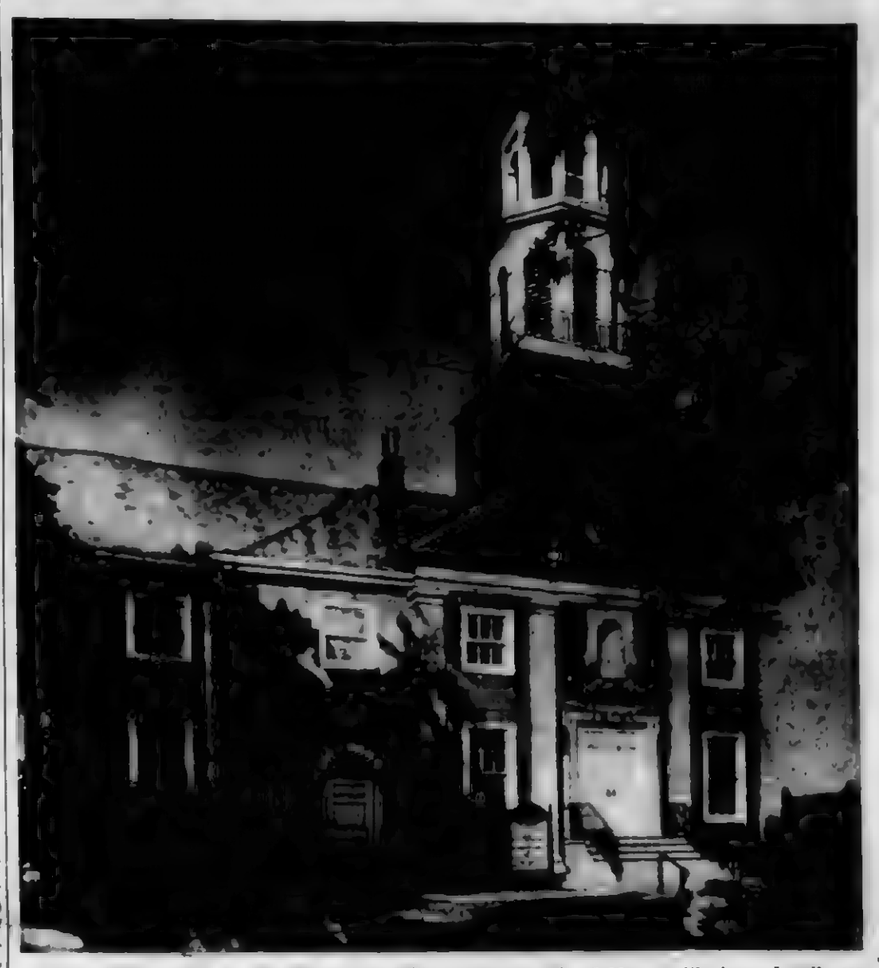
The overall report from all divisions was $1,030,139 for 31.4 percent of the goal.

George A. Snodgrass, general campaign chairman, said "this is probably the best start in United Appeal history. However, we have to remember we have the biggest goal and the biggest job ever to accomplish. It will take continued maximum effort from all of us to maintain this pace."

Snodgrass also noted that the residents of Columbus and Franklin County were showing more interest in their community services. He said "Sixty social service agencies come into each neighborhood through the United Appeal."

William Santanich, 155 E. Hinman-av, vice-chairman in charge of the South Side area, said the residential division reported a total of $2,872 in contributions. Mrs. Robert Frost, 756 E. Whittier-st, is chairman of that area.

Halloween Party Oct. 23



Members and families of South Gate Optimist and Craftsman Club will join in having a Halloween party at Southview Shelter House Oct. 23 at 7 p.m.

The committee, James Teske, Mrs. Claude Price, Don Hooper, Robert Ruetsch, and Mrs. D. W. Stewart is planning an enjoyable evening it was said. There will be dancing, card playing, prizes and refreshments according to Mrs. Carl C. Burton, publicity chairman.

Crest No. 8 Rummage Sale This Saturday

Crest No. 8 of Alum Crest Hospital will hold a rummage sale Saturday morning, Oct. 19, at St. Stephen's Community House, 379 E. Barthman, according to the records.

Bishop To Preach At Rededication Of Ohio Avenue E. U. B. Church

Bishop F. L. Dennis, D.D., of Dayton, will be guest preacher Sunday at Ohio Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, where he will lead in the rededication of the church and the dedication of the parsonage. The bishop will preach at both worship services, at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. Dr. D. S. Mills and Dr. C. F. Lutz, conference superintendents, will also be guests and will participate in the services.

This event will climax a year of extensive improvements at the church. The sanctuary has been remodeled and changed to be altar-centered. New pews were installed, new carpeting and lighting added, and the sanctuary decorated in white and Williamsburg blue, in keeping with the colonial architecture of the church.

The former gym was remodeled into an attractive fellowship hall which may be opened to accommodate a large meeting or partitioned into smaller rooms. The kitchen was also extensively improved.

A dinner will be served free at noon in Fellowship Hall to members and guests.

Sunday school will convene at 9:30 a.m. with classes for all ages. Child care will be provided at all Sunday services.

Rev. Glendon Herbert, pastor, and his family will observe open house at the recently purchased parsonage Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. The home is located at 973 S. Ohio-av.

Ohio Avenue EUB Church is located at 1013 S. Ohio-av, one block north of Whittier-st.

The improvements were carried out under the leadership of the board of trustees, Robert Stevens, Ralph Long, Ed Bornshine, Harold Harmon, Paul Brown, John Wine and Homer Valentine.

Barrett Junior Student Council Elected; Group's Duties Stated

Monday, Oct. 8, was election day at Barrett Junior High School, according to the school's publicity department. Elected were five students to direct the activities and work of Barrett Junior High Student Council.

The new president is Suzanne Bell; vice-president, Kenneth Lee; secretary, Alice Hackney; treasurer, William Bugh; sergeant-at-arms, Ferd Gaulke.

Barrett's Student Council is an important aid to the administration of the building a spokesman said, adding: it consists of two room representatives from each room, who elect their own group of officers, as listed above. After each Student Council meeting the members report to their home rooms on building news ands activities.

They assist the Parent-Teacher Association with school dances, they sell candy at games, as a service to spectators. They are now working on the "fun without destruction" program, preparing skits to take to the elementary schools.

The heaviest project confronting this year's Student Council is to compile, edit, and publish the Barrett Student Guide. This will include gathering, selecting, and eliminating the material, as well as the necessary typing, mimeographing, and stapling, and the final distribution.

Besides the above listed officers the Student Council includes the following membership, the room representatives, each elected in the home room:

Tim Badgley, Robert Bostwick, Daniel Boyles, Charles Brown, Carol Camper, Twila Carter, Elaine Charles, Martha Chattos, Roy Claar, Barbara Close, John Close, Jane Dodd.

Sharon Hahn, Janet Hamler, Vicki Hook, Cheryl Hoover, August Hoover, Mike Jacobs, Larry Jonas, Linda Johnston, Robert Kenney.

Terry Swingle, Shirley Taylor, Donna Thomas, Joe Vandall, Roger Watkins, Patricia Willis, Alice Womeldorff, Al Mullen, Deloris Mitchell.

The Student Council at Barrett is sponsored by Vice-Principal Ruth Castner and W. R. Gongwer.

Retarded Children Drive Only Education Recourse

The Southern Division chairman of the retarded children's "Light a Life" campaign announced to her workers this week that the goal for the Franklin County drive has been set at $25,000.

Mrs. Walter Risley, 799 Thurman, southern area division chairman, said the goal was set by the Council of Retarded Children, Inc., the sponsoring non-profit organization of parents and friends of mentally retarded youngsters in Franklin County.

She said a quota of $6,000 has been established for her division.

In announcing the goal, Mrs. Risley told her volunteer "Fireflies" that the amount represents the needed facilities to continue and expand the present program of the School for Retarded Children, located at 1235 Mt. Vernon-av. The school building was donated to the Council last year by the Columbus Board of Education. Current enrollment at the school is 160, and now contains 13 classrooms, Mrs. Risley said.

"Although enrollment at the school is the highest since the school was established in 1951," the division leader said, "we are still serving about only about one-fourth of the "trainable" retarded children in the county. Our aim is to admit every child on the waiting list," she reminded her co-workers.

Mrs. Risley said that the Council for Retarded Children is not a member of the United Appeals, and emphasized that each volunteer should be able to explain why they had not been granted membership.

"The Council has applied," it was said, "but has not been accepted because the UA screening committee considers the program of educating the slow-to-learn deserving of complete tax support, like public schools. Unless and until full tax support materializes, fund drives remain as the principal source of income, it was said.

Ward, general chairman; bazaar, Mrs. Maud Plesc; white elephant, Mrs. Helene Bateman; dinning room, Mrs. Erma Daugherty; publicity, Mrs. Mary Bellman; pies, Mrs. Daisy Mansberger, Mrs. Ann Valentine; biscuits, Mrs. Ann McCarthy, Mrs. Ruth Snyder; tickets, Mrs. June Ward, and Mrs. Mabel England.

Each room will have displayed in it work done by the children in the room, and each teacher will be in her room for the room visitations from 7:30 to 8:10.

At 8:15 the parents will select the room they wish to hear a brief discussion of the teaching methods by that particular teacher. Italian Orchestra To Open Season

The current season of the Symphony Club of Central Ohio, an organization which has for 34 years been bringing world-famous orchestras to Columbus audiences, will open with a concert at the Veteran's Memorial Auditorium Friday evening, Oct. 18, at 8:30 o'clock.

The first of this year's four concerts will present an orchestra from Italy, the Symphony Orchestra of the Florence Festival. This is the only foreign orchestra which will tour America this season and the first Italian symphonic group to visit these shores since 1920, when Arturo Toscanini brought over the orchestra of La Scala Opera. The 100-man ensemble is the permanent orchestra of the city of Florence, and is more widely known as the keystone of its annual May Festival, which attracts a vast international public of musical pilgrims.

Conductor for the Columbus concert will be Franco Mannino, a 33-year-old musical triple-threat pianist, conductor, and composer. Here he will play two of those roles. He will conduct a "Sinfonia Americana" which he wrote expressly for this American tour, a symphony which employs as its themes quotations from "Yankee Doodle," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "John Brown's Body," and other familiar bits of musical Americana.

Besides his own symphony, Mannino will lead the Florentine musicians in Mendelssohn's "Italian" symphony and shorter works by Verdi, Bellini, and Wolf-Ferrari.

Tickets are at Heaton's Music Store, 50 North High-st, and will be available at the auditorium before the concert.

Unsweetened frozen fruits lose quality faster than those packed in sugar or sirup. Longer storage will not make frozen foods unfit for use, but may impair quality.

On dairy farms from 20 to 25 tons of materials are handled each year for each cow, say Ohio State University extension agricultural engineers.

Who Will Be The New Queen?

THE BIG QUESTION at Marion-Franklin High School is who's going to succeed Linda Beveridge as the annual school carnival queen. Linda, last year's queen, is shown as she was officially crowned by Principal Edwin Gearhart last October. The name of the new queen, who will be selected by the number of tickets sold in her behalf by friends, will be announced on the evening of the carnival, Saturday, Oct. 26. The carnival will start at 4 p.m. and continue until 11 p.m., with proceeds to be used to buy band and athletic equipment. The lucky new queen will be awarded a portable radio. Sponsored by the Marion-Franklin Booter's Club, the carnival will feature homecooked foods, and game of skill and varied forms of entertainment.

Stuntman Escapes Instant Death

THE GRAND OPENING of the Great Southern Shopping Center was almost marred with tragedy last Thursday. Stunt balloonist Archie Potter, 35, of Indianapolis, narrowly escaped death when he attempted to go aloft in a hot-air filled balloon. A sudden gust of wind when the balloon was released carried Potter into high voltage power lines carrying 7600 volts. Potter miraculously escaped instant death when he managed to free himself of the balloon and clamber onto a crossmember of the utility pole. Potter sat atop the pole unable to move for more than a half hour until he was rescued by firemen. The young stuntman is a member of the Professor Claude Sheffer Balloon Show. Ordinarily Potter ascends beneath the balloon to heights of 1500 to 2000 feet, cuts loose and then floats to the ground by parachute.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — Ohio apples, cider, canned peaches.

Vegetables — Cabbage, cauliflower, Pascal celery, canned peas, pumpkin and tomato juice.

Protein Foods — Ground beef, rib end pork roast, turkey, cheese.

OHIO CANNED FOODS

Preserving food by canning dates back to the days of Napoleon, for it was on an order from this famous general that French scientists sought out the method of keeping food from spoiling so his men could eat better on their military campaigns. Today, the world eats better because of this development.

Happily, too, our own Buckeye state has a number of canning industry plants, as well as the raw material for their use. Did you know that Ohio is one of the more important states in the nation in the canning of tomatoes and tomato products, corn, sauerkraut, pickles and pumpkin, Ohio canners also pack cherries, fruit juices, jams, jellies and a long list of special products such as Chinese foods, olives, spreads and sauces. They operate over 125 canning plants, and annually process some 300 million cases of vegetables and fruits, plus the other items listed above.

These processing plants make seasonal foods available the year 'round. This helps to stabilize prices for the consumer as well as the producer. Relatively speaking, prices of canned foods have not advanced as much as those of other forms of food. Moreover, they are convenient, offer a wide selection at the market the year around, and they save the busy homemaker valuable time.

APPLES AND CIDER

Markets are loaded this week with apples at a peak in quality and color. There is a variety for every need. Cortlands from Ohio orchards are now at their best. You'll like this crisp apple for salads as it does not darken quickly after peeling. Cider is plentiful in both half-gallon and gallon containers.

Trout In Central Ohio

The day was warm and sunny for this time of year, and it felt good to be outdoors. I could see rainbow trout feeding in the little stream that meandered through the meadow.

Walter Lauffer and his grandson, Mike, were already catching trout, and I was racing to rig up my flyrod.

Fishing isn't meant to be hurried and when I rush I always snarl my line, spill the box of flies, or get a hook in my finger. This time was not an exception, and I think I accomplished all three. But a person shouldn't be held responsible for what he does when trout are feeding on the surface.

Shortly, I got things under control and dropped a black gnat on the sparkling spring water. It wasn't difficult to know where to drop the fly, for I could clearly see the fish. It took me only a few casts to hook one, and all was right with the world.

The trout I creeled that day weren't from a small mountain stream in Montana, nor were they from Pennsylvania or West Virginia. I was fishing at the Licking Springs Trout Club only three and a half miles north of Newark, Ohio. Here on 200 acres of land flows a man-made trout stream. It's hard to believe but it's true.

Twenty years ago, the late E. Mithoff Nicholas, financier and sportsman of Columbus, started the development of what is now the Licking Springs Club. He evidently liked trout fishing more than he did money, for he did away with a lot of the one to obtain the other. Springs were tapped that flow at the rate of 2,000 gallons per minute, and form the three-mile stream that empties into the Licking River. Seasonable drouths have no effect on the flow of the springs, and the water temperature never varies more than four degrees the year around.

The area is a self-contained fish hatchery, and has extensive hatching troughs, rearing pools, and raceways. The spring water flows through the hatchery before it empties into the stream. Facilities are available for handling 150,000 eggs at a time. Both rainbows and brown trout are raised.

For almost eight years now the area has been operated as a fishing club by genial Bill Bain. Members pay a nominal sum each year. This entitles them to trout fishing for themselves and their guests, and the facilities of the fine clubhouse.

The club has been very popular with fishermen in this area, and Bain has initiated a special membership plan this year for people living over 40 miles from the club. He figures that people from farther away wouldn't use the facilities as often as closer members, and is therefore accepting memberships at half the regular price. This special membership enables a fisherman to fish all year for less than a two-day trip to Pennsylvania's trout waters would cost him.

Well, it wasn't too long before the rainbows got wise to my flies, and refused all my tastiest (at least I hoped they looked tasty) offerings. I switched to a spinning rod, and found that a quarter ounce orange spinner fooled them all over again. I fished back and forth over a small section of the stream, and kept catching trout until long shadows began to fall over the meadow.

Great Southern Businessmen To Sponsor Paint Contest

Halloween witches and goblins will be out in full force next week at the Great Southern Shopping Center.

The business association of Great Southern is sponsoring the first elementary junior high school window painting contests ever held in this area. Eerie Halloween figures and scenes will come to life under the brushes of children ranging from the fourth to the tenth grade.

A total of 24 schools entered art teams in the contest. The painting will take place at the shopping center on Monday, Oct. 28, and Tuesday and Wednesday between 4 and 6 p.m.

Competition has been divided into two major divisions: senior, comprised of seventh grade and above; and, junior, sixth grade and below. Some schools that have grades running through the eights are entering a group in each division.

Judging will take place Thursday, Oct. 31, with suitable prizes to winners.

All schools in the area will participate.

Westinghouse Workers Get Pay Increase

More than 4,000 Westinghouse Electric Corporation employes will receive the third in a series of annual wage increases effective Monday, Oct. 14.

E. L. Smith, manager, Columbus operations, said the present automatic pay raise of another three per cent over 1955 base rates, means a minimum increase of about five cents an hour.

The pay increase applies to those represented by unions and those not represented by unions. It is the third annual pay boost put into effect by Westinghouse since the fall of 1955. It will be followed by raises in October, 1958, and October, 1959.

I have set the Lord always before me: because He is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.—(Psalm 16, 8.)

God is always with us, His children. But our willfullness, our selfishness, our stubborn clinging to unworthy thoughts and habits, keep us from knowing His love, in which we will find the strength to surmount all life's trials.

WE DELIVER

Freedom is that faculty which enlarges the usefulness of all other faculties.—Immanuel Kant.

A Picture for Remembrance

THE DEDICATED purpose of every funeral director is to make the final hour of parting one that will bring comfort of mind — to create a Memory Picture that will live through the long years ahead. This is the reason for the beauty of the caskets, the soft lights and music, the flowers and the evidence of tenderness and reverence in the service. We have dedicated our chapel to this high purpose.

BOBBY:
MAYOR IN 1988?

Mayor . . . governor . . . senator . . . why not? Our Bobbies of today are our leaders of tomorrow!

That's why Bobby and the 32,000,000 other boys and girls from whose ranks will come the leaders of our land need first-rate schools. Yet in many communities, the shortage of classrooms, teachers and up-to-date schoolbooks is dangerously acute. As a result, the level of teaching and learning is seriously lowered.

Let's be sure this doesn't happen in our schools. Join with the other good citizens to back up our School Board, attend PTA meetings and school conferences.

For a free booklet telling you more about what you can do, write to: Better Schools, 9 East 40th Street, New York 16, N. Y.

Thermometers Are Not Able To Register True Comfort

By Janet Roeder

Do you look at the thermometer to learn how uncomfortable you are? Many people do—and get fooled. Temperature is one thing, comfort is usually something else. In addition to temperature your comfort depends on humidity and air motion—neither is shown by the thermometer.

All air contains some water vapor, and tries to absorb all it can hold. Its capacity for moisture goes up as it gets warmer; or down as its temperature drops. Relative humidity is the actual moisture in the air expressed as a per cent of its capacity at that temperature.

When dry air, eagerly seeking moisture, draws moisture from your body surfaces it also draws off heat—and you feel cooler. Or with high humidity, the already moistened air declines to take moisture from your body and you lose the cooling effect.

In hot humid weather your discomfort increases. In that situation, why do you fan yourself or look for a breeze? Because air motion helps to speed up evaporation by passing more air across your moist body. The ordinary thermometer tells you nothing about the effect of humidity or air motion on your comfort.

Humidity — How Measured

Humidity is measured by comparing two identical thermometers. One ("dry bulb") shows the air temperature. The bulb of the other has a moistened wick (called "wet bulb") which is cooled by the evaporation of moisture as it is whirled in the air (motion), and shows a lower reading. A standard table relates the dry bulb and wet bulb readings and shows the per cent of relative humidity. The two-thermometer instrument is called a psychrometer.

Your body with its moist surfaces is something like a wet bulb thermometer, which explains why the familiar dry bulb thermometer cannot indicate your comfort (or discomfort) unless the air is saturated with moisture—when dry and wet bulb readings are the same.

So the modern year-around indoor comfort system removes excess moisture to aid hot weather cooling, but adds moisture during the heating season (if needed) for the opposite effect. You may be several degrees warmer or cooler than the thermometer shows, so don't take the readings too seriously and assume that you're more uncomfortable than you really are.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

From The Bible

And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?—(St. Luke 6, 46.)

The Lord Jesus Christ, our blessed Savior and Redeemer, expects us to do our part—to read and seek to understand His teachings in the Bible, to have faith and trust in Him, to love and obey Him—"for there's no other way."

The boys and girls of Schiller Recreation Center have been very busy the past few days preparing for the big Halloween party to be held there Thursday, Oct. 31, at 7 p.m. Shown here painting scenes of the season on the windows of the dining room, are, left to right inside the building, Sandra Quinn, Sharon Krebs, Diane Hackett, Sally Baker and Janet Fee. Goblins And Ghosts To Give Eerie Mien To Halloween; Schiller In Big Place In Plans

By Director Crawshaw

Many strange sights, such as goblins, ghosts, men from outer space, and children walking hand-in-hand, will be seen next Thursday night at the annual Halloween parties held for children of Southside. These are under the joint sponsorship of the Council of South Side Organization, the Columbus Recreation Department, and the Barrett Junior High PTA.

This annual affair is divided into two sections, one for teenagers at Barrett Junior High School from 7:30 to 10 p.m., and the other at Schiller Recreation Center from 7 to 9:30 p.m. for youngsters age 12 and under. Howard Henry, member of the C.S.S.O., is the general chairman in charge and is being assisted by Mrs. Wendell Green of Barrett PTA and Tom Crawshaw of Schiller.

The party at Barrett for teenagers will feature round and square dancing with the Y-Park Combo playing and Jim Wagner of the South Side YMCA doing the calling. Although there will be no prizes awarded for costumes at this party, there will be plenty of other activity for the participants to engage in.

The Schiller party, which will start promptly at 7 p.m., is open tot all boys and girls 12 years of age and under. All youngsters attending this party must be in some kind of costume (it need not be an elaborate one) and the parents are encouraged to accompany the younger tots, the Schiller director said.

Doughnuts, Cider

The program at Schiller will consist of (1) costume judging, where prizes will be awarded to boys and girls having the prettiest, funniest, wierdest, and most unusual costume; (2) games (3) ghost movies; (4) puppet show; (5) most unusual of all, a "Trip into the unknown." Members of the CSSO will be on hand to serve free cider and doughnuts to all who attend.

A unique feature of the Schiller event is that the children are divided into three separate groups according to age, 6 and under, 7, 8, and 9; and 10 through 12. Each age group is rotated to a different activity each half hour, and in this manner the party functions smoothly. The Schiller staff members will lead the

Blind Help Other Needy

Shirley McCullough, president Mutual Benefits for the Blind Club, has announced that the group will have its annual steak dinner and bake sale at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 2, at Monette House, 221 E. Mound-st.

The announcement stated that the proceeds from the $1 per-person ticket will be used to provide Christmas baskets for the needy.

Gates-Fourth Home Talent In Show 25th

"Home Talent On Parade" is the title of a play to be presented at Gates-Fourth Methodist Church, tomorrow, Friday, evening at 7:30 o'clock, according to a release by the Ruth Circle WSCS of the church.

Talent, a spokesman said, has been drawn from various classes of the church school. Added talent, from Barrett and South High schools, will be presented, it was announced. Southwood Church of Christ will supply a singing group, "Christian Crusaders," who some months ago made a trip to Jamaica, West Indies, paying their own expenses earned by their singing

The spokesman said there are no tickets, a free-will offering taking the place of an admission charge.

Lincoln PTA Date Tonight

Lincoln Park Elementary School PTA is scheduled to meet in the school auditorium this evening, according to Mrs. William Conley, publicity chairman

Invocation will be given by Glen Graham and the pledge will be led by Robert Steffens.

A panel discussion will feature the evening's program. Refreshments will be supplied by parents of the sixth-grade pupils who will act as hosts and hostesses, with Mrs. Dale Davy as chairman.

Eagle Dance Plans Told

Worthy President Harold W. Mathias of Columbus Aerie 297 Fraternal Order of Eagles has announced that plans have been completed for the Eagles annual masquerade Halloween dance at the Aerie Home, 771 N. High-st, Thursday, Oct. 31, at 8 p.m. Dancing will be from 8:30 p.m. till midnight, with the grand march about 10:30 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded to adults and kiddies for the best costumed, originality, and comic. The affair is open to members and their families and friends.

Hungarian Grape Harvest Dance

A Hungarian Grape Harvest dance is scheduled for this Saturday evening, Oct. 26, when a harvest queen will be elected to reign for the dance, according to official announcement this week. Dance starts at 8 p.m. The affair is a revival of an old Hungarian custom of celebrating the harvest, similar to our American Thanksgiving Day, it was said.

Ticket committee members are offering tickets, which also will be available at the door, it was announced.

Mothers To Meet

The Mothers' Club of the South Side Settlement will meet at 9:30 a.m., Wednesday, Nov. 6, at the Settlement House, according to Miss Mary R. Martin of the Settlement Board.

Miss Bucke Settlement House Chief

At the first monthly meeting of the season of the Board of Directors of the South Side Settlement House, 363 Reeb-av, Miss Martha Bucke was named director of the Settlement House.

Miss Bucke was educated at National College in Kansas City and received her BS degree at Baldwin-Wallace College in Beres. She has been associated with the South Side Settlement for 11 years as girls' worker, pre-school children's teacher, bookkeeper, acting director, and now director.

The fall program plans include redecorating several rooms of the Settlement House. Harry Vorrath has been hired as the new full time boys' worker.

Deaths Lead To Vigorous Enforcement Of Vent Law

Recent deaths in the South Side have prompted a tightening of restrictions and rules concerning improperly vented space heaters.

Instead of the usual "cease and desist" order when an inspector finds a violation, according to instruction issued to inspectors, they are to file charges against the person responsible for the violation.

The following order was issued by Building Regulation Superintendent Charles F. Bobst to all inspectors in the division of building regulation:

"The recent deaths of two people on South High caused by monoxide poisoning prompts immediate action.

"It has been the policy of this department where unvented or improperly vented heaters have been found, to issue an order to cease using and disconnect immediately. In the majority of cases this action has gained results, but has not taken care of all problems. Therefore, from this date you are ordered to file charges against any offender within the limits of the city of Columbus who is in violation of the space heater code of the city of Columbus, or the code of the state of Ohio."

Ill Children Change Plans

So many Reeb Avenue School children are victims of the current "flu" bug that delivery of cookies will be postponed from today, the 24th, to Oct. 31 or Nov. 1.

Bulldogs In Hard Fight, But Tie 6 To 6 With East

A little camera magic shows how large a tackler can look to a ball carrier in a football contest such as this one played in Mahaffey Stadium between the South Bulldogs and the East Tigers. In the second quarter of play South's Charles Williams, No. 43, took a pass from Quarterback Doug Childers to scamper for a 12-yard gain before East's Bob Griffin, No. 23, brought him to earth. The game ended with a 6 and 6 deadlock. —Photo by Chuck Toth

Bob Griffin of East High School is shown here as he skirted his left end for an eight-yard gain in the first period of play against South last Friday. He was finally tackled by South's Jerry Merchant, No. 45, and assisted by Dick Schumacher, No. 37, and Darrell Henkel, No. 24. South East played to a 6 and 6 tie.

This registration blank is to be placed in the containers provided at the party. After the children have gone home, a drawing will be made in each age group. There will be several names drawn from each age group.

Proved By Time

A fired-up East High Tiger football team tied a favored South High Bulldog team 6 to 6 last Friday night. The Tigers were a rugged ball club. They had good speed in the backfield as their halfback, Joe Brothers, showed. In the first period he went off-tackle and sprinted 70 yards for a touchdown. The extra point was blocked, by South's Jerry Fink. Midway in the second quarter Jerry Fink, who played a whale of a ball game, blocked an East punt and recovered it on the three-yard line. A play after, Chuck Williams went over for the score. Jerry Hill's try for the extra point was blocked, and that was the end of the quarter.

Others who played a good game for South besides Fink were Hal Ward, Dave Vargo, Alan Weinberg, who intercepted a pass, and Jerry Merchant. The next Bulldog game will be with Eastmoor Warriors tonight. It will be the Bulldogs' Homecoming. Eastmoor will be out to ruin the Bulldog's Homecoming. In football anything's possible.

There Goes Our Gas Man!
Yes, son . . . he's a "line flyer."
Natural gas must travel hundreds of miles through huge pipelines laid underground before it can be delivered to your home. These long transmission lines climb mountains, dip into valleys, and plunge under rivers. Miles and miles of pipeline right-of-way are under continual observation . . . both on land by the "line walker" and from the air by the "line flyer."
Inspection of these pipelines is made easier by the use of helicopters and other light aircraft. The man "on the fly" can cover great distances, spot conditions which might interfere with gas transmission, and quickly bring them to the attention of service crews on the ground. The result: a dependable flow of economical natural gas to your home.
The natural gas you use is the modern, efficient fuel. And it serves you best when you use it with modern, automatic gas appliances.

Carolyn's mother, Juanita, and Ray's wife, Margie, are busy these days with a project for the Band and Orchestra Parents. The project is selling the most delicious candy you ever ate. Twenty-four boxes of it is part of our living room decorations these days (and we mustn't forget the Camp Fire candy that adds a dash of color!). All kidding aside, it is really good candy and if you're not buying it from one of your own organizations or stores, call Mrs. Berger, CA; 4-1058, Mrs. Speakmon, HI. 4-0632, or this pencil-pusher, HI. 4-1051.

Wiener Roast Is Teen Club Starter

The Teen Club of Schiller Recreation Center, which has recently been reorganized, held its first social event of the season last Friday evening. This took the form of a wiener roast and was held at the Co-op Club Park along the Scioto River.

The group is in the process of selecting a name for themselves. All present members have been asked to submit names which they feel will add an air of distinction to the group. These names will then be considered by the members and voted on for the final selection at one of the meetings in the near future.

Regular meetings of the club will be held each Wednesday evening from 6:30 to 8 o'clock at Schiller Center. The officers of the group are Geraldine Clements, president; Jim Wishon, vice-president; Clara Clements, secretary; Frank Clements, treasurer; Judy Dupler, program chairman.

STEPS of PROGRESS

This is one of a series of messages designed to point out why this community is truly a wonderful place in which to live. Reflecting the steps of progress in our area, these advertisements are sponsored by local business and professional men who are appreciative of the loyalty, cooperation, and patronage of the loyal citizens whom they serve. Each message is a tribute to a group or organization having complete faith and confidence in the future progress of this community.

AT regular intervals it is a privilege and duty to cast our vote to fill the various elective city and county offices. It's true that many times these political campaigns get slightly enthusiastic and biased, but once these selections are made by ballot, it is our further obligation, as good citizens, to support these offices as they fulfill their various duties.

Let's take a moment, then, to pay tribute to our public servants. Theirs is a hard and exacting job with innumerable people to please. There are many conflicting opinions and problems. No wonder, then, that they often find it difficult to make decisions that will be of benefit to the best interests of the people they serve.

We believe our public servants are doing a good job. They deserve our confidence and trust . . . they are serving to the best of their ability and sincerely want to be of assistance at every opportunity. Let's forget the political implications just for a moment, to pay tribute to all men and women who are serving or have served this community in public office. Honest, sincere, God-fearing people, these elected offices merit a word of thanks for their efforts to be of service. We compliment each on his or her accomplishments. Your efforts are helping to make this an attractive and most enjoyable community in which to live.

Reformation Day Rally Planned At Vets Memorial

Reformation Day will be observed throughout the world on Oct. 27, and in Columbus a rally will be held at Veterans' Memorial Building, 4 p.m., sponsored by Lutheran Pastors' Conference.

Dr. William F. Schmidt, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran's Church in Waverly, Ia., will speak and music will be presented by a massed choir of several hundred directed by Prof. Richard Johnston of the Capital University Conservatory of Music, and a large children's choir under the direction of Dorothy Keller.

Ministers in charge of arrangements include Rev. Donald L. Fritz, Rev. Ewald Bash, Rev. Theodore Proehl, Rev. Arthur Rismiller and Rev. K. Jay Bishop.

Church Council To Televise Talks

A series of four information lectures on various protestant denominations will be televised over WBNS-TV, 10, under the direction of radio and television commission of the Columbus Area Council of Churches.

History and doctrine of the Presbyterians will be discussed Oct. 24, 2 p.m.; Disciples of Christ, Nov. 1, 9:15 a.m.; Methodists, Nov. 8, 9:15 a.m. and Evangelical United Brethren, Nov. 15, 9:15 a.m.

Dr. J. W. Montgomery, director of the commission, will moderate the discussions.

Planning on some hunting soon? Remember this important rhyme from the Safety Council of The Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce: The hurtingest gun that ever exploded . . . is the innocent one that "wasn't loaded!"

Youth Problems To Be Discussed By Town Meeting

Columbus Town Meeting will tackle one of the day's paramount problems — "Juvenile Delinquency" — on Sunday, Oct. 27, 1 p.m. over Station WBNS-TV.

The forum topic will be "Are You a Delinquent?" Speakers will be Dr. Richard Clendenen of Ohio State University, Judge Clayton W. Rose of the Franklin County Juvenile Court, and Richard Mann, a student at Denison University, Granville.

The public is invited to attend the discussion at the studios, 495 Olentangy-blvd. Telephone questions may be phoned to CA. 8-3881.

Commssion Urges Voters To Insure Future Parks

Nature is using her most vivid shades of orange, gold and red from her palette this year and nowhere is this more evident than in our metropolitan parks and forests.

Although parks like Blendon Woods and Blacklick Woods are used and enjoyed by millions of people in the Greater Columbus area all year long, at no other time are they so appreciated as in autumn, explained Edward S. Thomas, chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners.

Nature lovers, camera fans and those who enjoy cook-outs flock to these metropolitan parks each weekend to capture the charm of fall's colorama, Thomas added.

What about the future, however? Will there be new parks to help facilitate the recreational needs of a city with a population of more than half a million? "Lack of recreational facilities could be a deciding factor in the selection of a community for the location of new industry" stated William Papier, director of the Division of Research and Statistics.

If Columbus is to preserve some of the few remaining scenic sites around the city for parks, it must be done now. Many sites considered for parks 10 years ago are now gone forever, said Thomas.

The park board receives no funds from either the Columbus City Council or the Franklin County Commissioners and receives no part of the Columbus income tax.

The proposed 3/10 mill levy, effective for 10 years, for additional metropolitan parks, will be voted upon in the Nov. 5 election. This levy would cost the tax payer three cents on each $100 property valuation, beginning in 1958.

As placed on the ballot the park levy would provide funds for the purchase of land and improvements only. All maintenance and operation costs of the park district would be paid from present appropriations by the county budget commission.

According to National Recreation Association recommended minimum standards Columbus has only one-third of its present needs in metropolitan parks, commission secretary Walter Tucker said.

Christmas Overseas Mailing Deadlines Creeping Up Fast

It's far from early to be thinking about Christmas presents if you're sending them to servicemen and government employes stationed overseas, says the post office.

Christmas packages to be sent overseas should be mailed before the deadline dates to insure their receipt by Dec. 25.

Packages going overseas by regular mails should be mailed by Nov. 20. Those to be sent air mail should be mailed by Dec. 10, Postmaster Allen M. Rowe announced.

Classified stations or branches of the post office should be contacted in regards to the size and weight limitations of these parcels.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

The shortening days and falling leaves signal the end of the fishing season. A few stalwart souls keep at it until freeze-up, but it's just about over for most of us.

"Pete" Peters lives at Madison Lake, and keeps his finger on the pulse of that popular fishing spot. I asked Pete the other day how fishing had been this past summer. He told me that the bass fishing was spotty, not as many crappies were caught as in previous years, and the catfishing was excellent. It seems that Pete and his fishing pal, Jody Kelso, accounted for a number of lunker channel catfish this year. The vital statistics on their four best ones are as follows:

5 pounds, 23 inches, caught June 22.

6¾ pounds, 26¼ inches, caught July 21.

4½ pounds, 22 inches, caught July 21.

Naturally I inquired about Pete's secret in taking these fish plus some other smaller ones. He said that he didn't have a secret, but that in his opinion most people fished in a manner exactly opposite of what they should. "Most fishermen I see," he told me, "fish from the bank, and cast their bait into deep water. I anchor a boat in deep water, and fish in shallow water near shore."

They're Night Operaters

Fishing in shallow water won't work all the time; you have to fish there at night when catfish are feeding. Most fishermen know that catfish wait for darkness before they start to prowl around looking for a meal. Trot-liners bait up just at dark, and then run their line early the next morning. Anglers who catch catfish consistently have learned that some sleep is lost in the process. All of the big catfish listed above were caught after 2 a.m.

When it comes to baits, Pete's favorite is soft craws. He also uses night crawlers and chicken livers. The many catfish bait concoctions have all been tried, and Pete says some of them are so smelly that he hates to bait up with them. Consequently, he relies on soft craws to bring home the fish.

Pete experimented this year with a hook that has a kink in its shaft, and thereby better holds slippery baits in place. He is fairly well satisfied with the results, but is going to experiment further next year.

Pete's house is handy to the boat dock at Madison Lake—right across the street. When the weather warms up next year, he will be spending his nights on the lake. And I'm taking bets that he'll have some big catfish to show for his efforts.

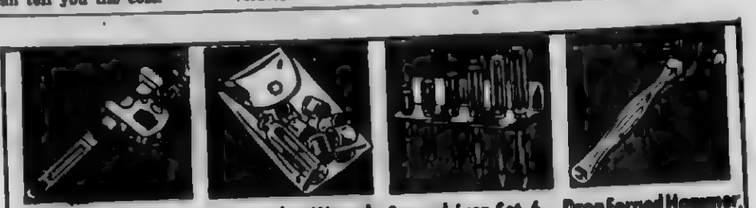
Barrett Jr. Has New 9A Orchestra

Barrett Junior High School's Herbert L. Germain has organized a 9A orchestra, according to the Barrett publicity department. The change from semester plan of organization to a full-year plan, left some very competent 9A musicians outside the regular ninth-grade program, it was said, and this permitted this additional class.

The 9A orchestra furnished music for the open house on October 17 and it will continue to play for school and class on other occasion, the spokesman said.

The names and instruments of these graduating musicians are Martin Mitchell, piano; Doris Goodwin, violin; Veronica Brewer violin; JoAnn Barto, viola; Gertrude Friebis, viola; Carol McCaffrey, viola; Diana Spencer, viola; Ray Richardson, drums; Al Mullen, drums; Mike Allemang, cornet; Robert Basham, cornet; John Trumps, cornet; Thurman Ramey, trombone; Patrick Badgley, clarinet; Maureen McCoy, clarinet; Patty Poeschel, clarinet; and Paul Riggs, clarinet.



In the open house program on Oct. 17, Patty Poeschel played a clarinet solo arrangement of "On the Street Where You Live," from "My Fair Lady," and Martin Mitchell played a piano solo transcription of "Maliguena" from the Andulucia Suite" by Lecuona.

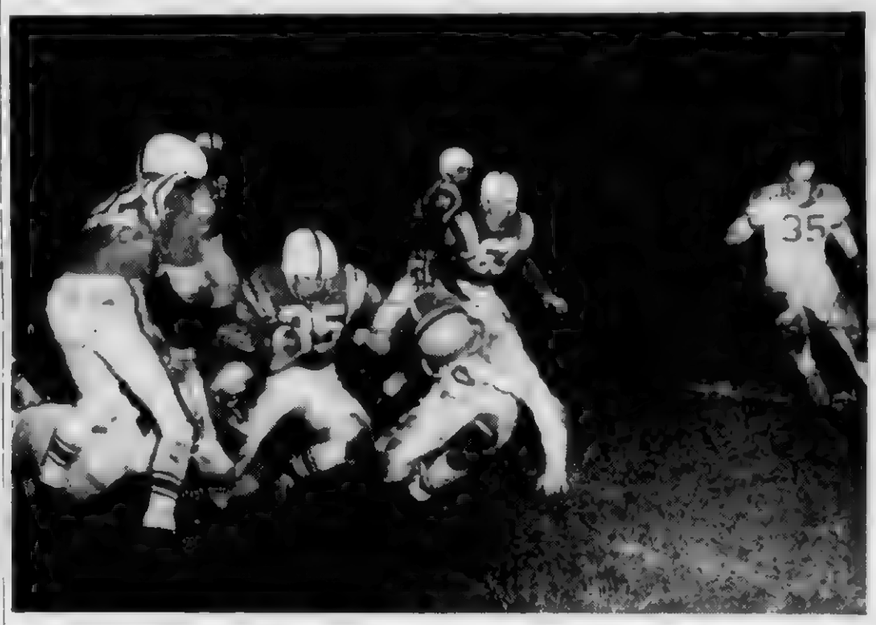
South Takes 19-1 Win From Eastmoor

A small crowd ventured out into the cold and wet weather to Mahaffey Stadium, South High School, Saturday night to watch the Bulldogs win 19-1 over the Eastmoor Warriors.

South started things off in a hurry in the first quarter when it moved the ball to the one yard line where Tim Woodyard plunged over for the touchdown. The placement kick by Jerry Hill was blocked by Jim Richason, ex-South High gridder.

Early in the second quarter Alan Weinburg moved the ball to the three yard line. Two plays later Chuck Williams went over for the touchdown. This time the conversion by Jerry Hill was good.



With 10 seconds to go in the second quarter, Eastmoor had the ball on their own 20 yard line. They attempted a pass which was intercepted by South's Chuck Williams who went to the four yard line before being knocked out of bounds. That play ended the half.

South moved 60 yards for the final score made by Alan Weinberg who played outstanding ball all evening with his solid stabs at the line.

Good defensive play by the Bulldogs held Eastmoor to a single threat. The Warriors were on South's 35 yard line late in the third quarter.

Standouts for Eastmoor were Dave Williams and Jim Richason, both former South High students.

Eastmoor Boys Lose To South Bulldogs

Curtis Haywood, No. 35, of Eastmoor is smacked from both sides on a jarring tackle by two South players early in the first quarter. This bit of action resulted on a kick-off return after the Bulldogs scored their first touchdown. South scored three times to win the ball game, 19 to 0. No. 35 of South is Hal Ward.

Like Magic, Girl Scouts To Become 'Fireflies' And Aid 'Retarded' Drive

As if by "magic" on Monday, Nov. 11, scores of Girl Scouts and Brownies on the South Side will turn into "Fireflies."

But, like Cinderella, at the stroke of 12, they'll be changed back again, having posted another community service during their "enchantment."

As youthful "Light-A-Life" drive auxiliaries, the girls will place a reminder at each door in the community the day before the campaign to raise funds for retared children is conducted.

Also dubbed "Fireflies," about 10,000 adult volunteers in Franklin County will solicit house-to-house, seeking funds to aid the more than 650 mentally retarded youngsters in the county who could benefit from special training.

The door-hangers to be distributed by the Girl Scout will call attention to the fact that retarded children can be helped and that an education geared to their level can make useful citizens of the retarded children excluded from public schools.

Southeast Lions Donate Bicycle Racks

Happy were these boys over the prospects of having new bicycle racks donated by the Southeast Lions Club this past week to Corpus Christi School. Just as happy were the Lions shown above viewing the results of their work. Money for this as well as all civic projects sponsored by Southeast Lions was raised in the community by their annual newspaper sale. The sale will be held the first Friday in December this year.

Beth Grogan Is October 19 Bride Of Bernard Hausberger

MR. AND MRS. BERNARD J. HAUSBERGER
J. Curtis Allen photo

Miss Beth Grogan and Mr. Bernard J. Hausberger repeated their marriage vows Oct. 19 in St. Aloysius Church. Rev. William F. Maloney read the nuptial service before an altar decorated with vases of white mums.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Grogan, 2035 Floral-av and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hausberger, 377 E. Mithoff-st.

The bridal gown of white chantilly lace and nylon tulle was designed with a bouffant, ballerina length skirt featuring lace inserts over tulle. Her elbow-length veil was caught to a lace plateau edged with orange blossoms and she carried a white satin Bible mounted with a purple throated white orchid.

Miss Ellen Spires served as maid of honor for her cousin. She was gowned in lilac chantilly lace with a purple velvet cummerbund and a half-hat of crystal flowers. Her bouget was of white mums with matching streamers.

Mr. Joseph Hausberger, brother of the bridegroom served as bestman and ushers were Mr. Bernard Grogan and Mr. Robert Farrington.

The mother of the bride chose a Dior blue satin frock with a white feather hat and the bridegroom's mother was gowned in blue lace and chiffon with a white ribbon hat.

Hostesses for the reception held at the Colony Restaurant were four cousins of the bride. Miss Marcia McDonald, Misses Kathleen, Patricia and Jane Grogan.

The new Mrs. Hausberger was graduated from St. Joseph Academy and is employed by Phoenix Insurance Co. Her husband was graduated from Aquinas High School and is employed at Tawco Products, Inc.

Lincoln PTA Has Panel Discussion

At the Oct. 24 meeting of the Lincoln Park PTA a panel discussion was held on "what teachers expect of the home and "what parents expect of the school". Panelists were Mrs. Louise Dennis and Miss Veronica Meurer, teachers, and Mrs. Richard Brown and Jack Davies, parents. The panel was under the moderation of Jack Kirby. Frye McDonald was also a supporting member of the teachers' panel. Mrs. Annabelle Schott, Mrs. Dale Davy and Mrs. Jack Kirby served as a screening committee for the audience questions submitted. Mrs. Zeige Smalley awarded banners for membership to Mrs. Alice Fetters' room, and first prize and second prize to Miss Priscilla Ziskind's room. Mrs. Delores Heiney, Miss Veronica Meurer and Dale James' rooms received honorable mention.

The next Columbus council meeting will be held Nov. 7 at 1:30 p.m. at Central High School.

The first meeting of the Parent and Family Life study discussion group will be held Nov. 14 at 10 a.m. in the school auditorium. The topic will be "the community as a teacher", based on the June, 1957, issue of the National Parent Teachers Magazine.

Mrs. Irvin Rollison, Mrs. Richard Brown and Mrs. Jack Kirby attended the Ohio Congress of Parent Teachers Association convention at Cleveland Oct. 28, 29 and 30.

Little Blind Boy Shows Value Of S. Side Day Nursery's Work

Although it's been weeks since the reporter visited the South Side Day Nursery at 255 E. Reeb-av, there still lingers in my thoughts the vibrant enthusiasm shown by a little blind boy whose week-days are spent at the Nursery while his parents work.

The writer first noticed the little fellow, who is shown at the extreme left of the pictured group of children who stopped their work to "let the man" see them. Attention was first attracted to the little fellow when the children were asked to line up to go outdoors for play. It was then that my heart was saddened and thrilled at the same time.

For those who can see, it is easy to right-or left-about face and go in the proper direction. But imagine being blind (and at this little fellow's age) and still having to learn the location of doors and windows—and unable to see!

When the children were called to line up and go outdoors our little blind friend lined up with the others, and then, with head turned to wall, he placed one hand over and ahead of his head, the other hand coming along on the wall to his left. The right hand was the "feeler" to find that door. He had a good time and enjoyed the march to the outside of the building, where the picture was taken. The youngster-who-cannot-see follows his teacher's voice across the yard, now and then having a partial tumble, but righting himself and continuing his way, whether it is to the jungle gym or other exercises. He asks no favors, this little blind boy, and seems happy in his environment — and when mother and father has reclaimed him at the end of the day, he goes with much happiness in his heart. His parents are happy to have such a place where the little fellow may spend his days in enjoyment and in education. For the Nursery is a place for study—like any other school.

A Factual Report

Director Mrs. Shaffer (whose telephone number is HI. 4-1529) says a considerable number of additional children may be taken care of. There is no color line at the South Side Day Nursery, Director Shaffer says. The factual report written by Mrs. Shaffer was written upon request of the Leader, and follows:

The South Side Day Nursery, a Community Chest Agency, is available to any child on the South Side between the ages of three and 10 years, who needs this service. The fee is based upon the family's ability to pay. Application can be made by calling Mrs. Shaffer, the director, at HI. 4-1529. The children have a variety of activities through which they gain valuable experiences.

One of the children's favorites is making and modeling dough. Mothers may be interested in having their children do this at home. The recipe is: two parts flour, one part salt, enough water (with food coloring added) to make the mixture the consistency of dough. The dough is safe, not messy, and is inexpensive. It may be kept in the refrigerator for a week, or may be allowed to harden in order to keep the child's product. Carrying it in a plastic bag for long trips provides an interesting activity for a child.

As used at this nursery, making and modeling dough encourages social, emotional, and physical development. The child himself experiences the completion of a process, from the mixing of ingredients to the end product. The consistency of the dough requires muscular coordination. Choosing his own color and what he wants to make with his own ball of dough allows a child to experience making decisions and using his imagination. While working with his dough along with other children, conversation naturally follows. From this conversation, new ideas develop for using the dough; such as, taking the dough to the housekeeping corner, cooking it as a roast, or making an animal to go in the farm made of blocks. Taking turns and sharing materials is part of the day-by-day experience of learning to get along with others. This is achieved by being with other children under the thoughtful supervision of an adult. The nursery school teacher is there to help when assistance is needed in the sharing process. She is trained to detect when a child or group of children are ready for another activity.

Some other things the children do at the South Side Day Nursery in order to gain these valuable experiences of growing up are: finger painting, water color painting, working with clay, housekeeping play with child-size furniture and equipment, dolls which the children can bathe, making puppets and puppet shows, story telling, reading from books which have been carefully selected by the teachers, music from records and playing instruments in their own rhythm band, folk dancing, woodworking, building with large and small blocks, quiet table games, trips to nearby places of interest (library, lumber yard, gas station, local parks, and fire station), and outdoor play with the swings, slides, sand boxes, jungle gyms, and space for active play. The daily program is planned to provide a balance of stimulating and restful experiences.

Trustees Are Against New Amendment

The Franklin County Association of Township Trustees and Clerks this week went on record as opposing the county government charter amendment.

Paul Wichterman, resident of Valley View and president of the county association, charged that adoption of this amendment could well be the end of local government in Franklin County. He pointed out that governments now established in the several small cities, villages and townships are threatened with extinction if a favorable vote on the issue is cast.

"We have seen plenty of evidence in the past several years that Columbus wants to take over all of Franklin County," Wichterman said. "Failing to get what they want in some instances by annexation, the big city interests are now backing this newest method to take over control," he continued.

A resolution adopted by the Trustees and Clerks points out that Article X as it now exists, makes adequate provision for the adoption and amendment of such charter, and contains safeguards designed to protect the rights of the residents of the smaller municipalities and of the unincorporated areas in the county.

The real democratic American idea is not that every man shall be on a level with every other but that every one shall have liberty to be what God made him. —H. W. Beecher.

New Surprises Ready For Winchester Lions Auction

Coy rumors of surprises are drifting up from the Winchester area this week. The local Lions Club is planning fun and festivities for its Seventeenth Anniversary Auction Sale scheduled Saturday, Nov. 2.

Farmers in the neighborhood are locking the pasture gates at night, counting goat and mule noses every morning, but that's no guarantee the family livestock won't be sneaked onto the sale block.

In years gone by, the resourceful Lions have brought in everything that wasn't tied-down.

This year's auction party will begin with a barbecue and trimmings dinner at 5 p.m. in the school gymnasium. Prime Black Angus beef will be ready on the pit for the early hungry crowd. The auction begins at 8 p.m.

Ray Gaib, Capital Finance executive and Lions publicity chairman, urged the Winchester and surrounding area to look-in on the party. The Lions have been "scrounging and scouring" new first class merchandise for weeks. Eight auctioneers will drum the things; everybody will make a good buy.

The 16 year Lion's project has brought Winchester a number of worthwhile civic improvements. Altogether, more than $23,000 has been returned from the auctions. Gaib breaks down local spending like this:

- Blacktop on the school playground, $2000.
- Lights for the school athletic field, $4,100.
- Swimming pool, $3000.
- Park shelter house, $5000.

In addition, they have used their money to improve downtown parking, for the street-light decorations at Christmas, for refuse cans and the Canal Winchester Welfare Fund.

The major project of the Lions International is eye research. They sponsor university studies and give aid to those who suffer eye defects.

Ernest Hummell, Route 33 farmer, and Richard Voorhies, the insurance man, are co-chairmen of the event. Both ask for community support

Schiller Golden Agers Romp At Halloween Costume Party

The Schiller Park Golden Age Club entertained its members with a costume Halloween party last Monday evening at Schiller Center. Although illness kept some persons from attending, there were about 50 members and their guests on hand for this evening of fun and frivority. The program consisted of a costume judging contest, games, a puppet show presented by the Schiller Puppeteers, a spelling bee and refreshments.

Winners of the costume contest were: "King of the Goblins," Henry W. Cotner; "Queen of the Witches", Mrs. Alberta E. Rigot; prettiest, Mrs. Clara E. Smith; most original, Mrs. Frances Colegrove; oldest person in costume, Henry W. Cotner; youngest person in costume, Mrs. Lilly (guest). Judges for the contest were Mr. and Mrs. Neil Hummel, of the Schiller advisory council, and Mrs. Jewell Johnston, former staff advisor to the club.

The next regular meeting of the Schiller Golden Age Club will be held this coming Tuesday at 12 noon in the dining room of the center. This will be the regular pot-luck luncheon meeting. It will take the place of the bus trip to the Hocking Hills, which was cancelled because of so much illness among the members. Explain Amendment That Seeks County Home Rule

(This article was specially written to explain a constitutional amendment to grant home rule powers to the metropolitan counties which will be on the ballot next Tuesday. Authors of the article are the legislators who worked together to formulate and develop the plan which was approved by the Legislature during its regular session. — Editor's Note).

For many years, the State Legislature has been plagued with the special problems of the metropolitan areas. These problems have been increasing in scope and in volume and have proved to be a particular problem to the legislature itself, because of the fact that any laws that have to be enacted to solve a metropolitan problem have to be state-wide in scope and often have presented the legislator from outside of the metropolitan area with grave doubts as to the law's effects upon his own community where no such problem existed.

After much study and research many of us felt that something ought to be done that would permit these metropolitan areas with their special problems to solve these problems on their own without involving changes in the law which governs all of the 88 counties; and, that is precisely how this constitutional amendment came into being.

At the present time, there are actually only three (3) counties which have population, area and other considerations which entitle them to be considered as metropolitan areas. There are, however, several more which are fast approaching this status. But, based upon present population factors, the only three (3) counties that can be truly classified as metropolitan areas are Cuyahoga County, which includes the Cleveland metropolitan area; Hamilton County, which includes the Cincinnati metropolitan area; and Franklin County, which includes the Columbus metropolitan area. Significantly enough, these three (3) counties each have a population far in excess of 500,000 people.

And so it was decided, that the mark of 500,000 population was a fair indicator of whether-or-not a county should be considered metropolitan and hence have the opportunity to develop a different set of rules governing its conduct, than that of a smaller county whose problems, reflected by population, would not be similar.

In drawing up the original legislation, it was decided to give the citizens of these metropolitan counties (i.e. counties with more than 500,000 persons) the right to draw up a local county home rule charter, which could then be submitted to the people of the area and provide for them the opportunity of solving their problems in a manner and way which would be satisfactory to them, without the necessity of changing the law affecting eighty-five (85) other counties which do not have similar problems.

Additionally, using this arbitrary measure, counties which were approaching this population would also become eligible to use the same home rule method when they attained the 500,000 mark. There are only three (3) counties that are likely to do so within the next ten (10) years, and they are Summit County, which includes the Akron metropolitan area; Montgomery County, which includes the Dayton metropolitan area; and Lucas County, which includes the Toledo metropolitan area.

Therefore, the 500,000 minimum was adopted and included into the legislation which provides for the constitutional amendment, since the right to adopt a county home rule charter is found in the constitution. It was thought that this would protect the rights of the eighty-five (85) counties not eligible under this measure, and yet assure to the large metropolitan areas a method by which they could take care of their incredible problem of sewerage, water, highways, housing and other metropolitan concerns.

The final proposal, adopted by a vote of 111 to 24 in the House and 29 to 0 in the Senate and signed by the Governor, which will appear on the November ballot for approval by all of the people in Ohio, simply gives the right to metropolitan counties over this 500,000 population mark to frame a charter giving their own county particular powers of home rule just like the cities now enjoy. However, the charter must be sumitted to the people for their final approval and must obtain a majority in the largest city, a majority in the county outside of the largest city, and, of course, a majority in the entire county.

Thus, Constitutional Amendment No. 3 which will be on the ballot affects, at this time, the rights of three (3) counties in the entire state. It will not make a change in any county government unless acted upon by the people in that area, and yet, it provides a very real opportunity for the people of the large metropolitan areas to solve their peculiar problems without asking the legislature to change the laws and regulations governing the government of all of the eighty-eight (88) counties of Ohio.

This constitutional amendment is the end result of the study, research, and considered judgment of the State Legislature pondering a problem which has defied solution for many years. It is hoped that the people of Ohio will agree with this legislative proposal and vote in favor of Constitutional Amendment No. 3 which only seeks to provide home rule powers for the great metropolitan centers of our state.

"These students seriously approach their daily responsibilities of learning to be good citizens of their community and of their country. They are continually adding to their wealth of factual information. They are participating in the various clubs and activities which give opportunity for the practice of leadership. They have in general accepted their responsibility in such a way as to have a personal plan for study and to meet their obligations on time.

It is hoped by the faculty and administrators of our school that other students, particularly those who almost made the roll this time, would be encouraged by these examples and their own experiences to try even harder and be successful the next time," states the principal.

Democrats Pledge More Progress

The three democratic candidates for City Council, Fred Shoemaker, Robert H. Smith and Robert Van Heyde, today outlined a ten point program.

In a joint statement, the Council aspirants declared "we want a prosperous and progressive city and we will work to achieve it. It is not enough to criticize the present Councilmen for their mistakes and shortcomings. We must state how we can help fulfill the serious needs of our community with more jobs and opportunities for everyone.

The program covering almost every field of municipal government included Expressways, grade crossing eliminations, expansion of police and fire protection, charter revision, development of parks and zoo, adequate sewer service, redevelopment of the city where needed, attention to traffic and transportation, elimination of spot zoning and no new taxes.

Robert Lee Van Heyde is a graduate of Aquinas high school and OSU where he was active in sports. He majored in political science and at present is working toward a law degree.

Robert Hampton Smith, a disabled veteran, was for ten years employed by the American Legion. He lives at 456 S. Jamesrd. He is a member of the Broad Street Presbyterian Church and secretary of the East Side Business Association. He is an attorney associated with Burchfield, Smith and Nelson.

Fred J. Shoemaker is an attorney and partner in the firm of Shoemaker, George and Passmore. He has been active in community affairs, projects and athletics. He claims if elected to council he will work for a charter revision which would provide district representation on council and for a city finance director.

Services Held Tuesday For Mrs. Martha Rose

Mrs. Martha Rose, 72, 1671 Alum Creek-dr, died Saturday.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. James Sherwood; son, Arthur Sanford; one grandchild.

Services were held Tuesday in Cook & Son Chapel with burial in Green Lawn Cemetery.

He was careless, so he's earless. A Troy, New York, man was driving along a highway when he tossed a lit cigaret from a front window. It blew back thru an open rear window and set fire to the rear seat. His 1956 model car was a total loss. Every car that carries smokers should have ashtrays and built-in carefulness. The Safety Council of The Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce says use them . . . every time.

Be Ready For Opening Day

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

The soft life we lead in our modern civilization becomes very apparent to a large segment of our population every year on Nov. 15.

The hunters who take to the field on opening day of the upland game season don a heavy hunting coat, weighted down with enough shotgun shells to last them all season, and tramp the fields and meadows, the ditches and fencerows, the hills and swales in a pair of boots that weigh a couple of pounds apiece.

The day is characterized by two words — exertion and overexertion. On the trip home, the driver is about the only one who doesn't fall asleep, and he may get a little foggy.

To top this off there is excitement in the air. This is opening day! Your heart beats a little faster as you close the farmer's gate, and walk through the frosty cover along a woodlot. It steps up another notch when you hear the blast of a distant gun. Then somebody in your party flushes a bird, or your dog piles up on point, or a rabbit scoots out from under your feet. Excitement isn't the word for it.

Physical Conditioning Important

Let's not kid ourselves into thinking that we can take it easy all year, and then go hunting on opening day and be in the peak of condition. Practically all of the lists of safe hunting rules assume that the hunter is in good physical condition — alert and in full command of his reflexes. This is not, however, a fair assumption. Most of us take great pains to keep our shotgun in good condition. We waterproof our boots several times a year. We see that our license is in a secure holder, and we may buy a new pair of wool socks. A few hunters have even been known to take to the field in a cleaned hunting coat. Everything is in top-notch condition but ourselves.

There are risks connected with hunting, just as it is a risk to cross the street. In both cases the risks are due to human error. Hunting "errors" are greatly lessened if you prepare yourself to go hunting. Go out now and locate a place to hunt, and hike over the territory a few times. If you're sporting a spare tire, take off a few pounds before opening day. You'll find that your shoulders won't get as tired from carrying a gun, if you do some push-ups every day for the next two weeks. Don't over-do on the exercise either, or you will be just as bad off as if you did none. Exercise moderately, hunt moderately, and you will hunt safely.

Dog Is 'Soft' Too

Chances are, that your hunting dog is just as soft physically as you are. You can't let a good hunting dog have the run of the neighborhood, so he spends 50 weeks of the year in a kennel or in the house with you. Putting a dog through a couple of hard days of hunting after this kind of conditioning borders on a criminal act. Cut down on his feed a little, and give him a chance to get in condition with you. You'll both live longer.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — Apples, apple cider, Emperor grapes.

Vegetables — Cauliflower, broccoli, cabbage, cucumbers, Pascal celery, potatoes.

CABBAGE COUSINS

The homemaker who wants flavor, economy and nutrition with a low calorie count, finds just what she's looking for when she buys broccoli and cauliflower this time of year.

Mark Twain described cauliflower as, "a cabbage with a college education." Both broccoli and cauliflower belong to the cabbage family. Both are available the year around but are most plentiful during October, November and December. Quality is highest then, too.

Cauliflower is in especially good supply this year, and the price tag is lower than last year.

Shopping Tips — When selecting cauliflower, look for a firm, heavy head; clean, compact, white or creamy white flowerets; and a jacket of bright green, fresh looking leaves. Good broccoli has fresh stalks with tightly closed, dark green buds.

Good For You — Nutritionally, both vegetables rate high. Broccoli is a good source of vitamins A and C. It contains iron, calcium, and phosphorus, too. Cauliflower provides considerable vitamin C, and small amounts of iron and B vitamins. Raw cauliflower provides twice as much vitamin C as the same amount of cooked cauliflower. The flowerets used raw on relish trays and in tossed vegetable salads are as pretty as they are good for you.

SEASONAL FRUITS

The apple harvest is moving on to the later varieties like Stayman, York and Rome. Prices continue to be very reasonable, so buying in basket quantities is economical for most families with young children. There's a wide selection available.

It begins to look as though there will be plenty of citrus fruits as well as apples this coming winter season. Florida reports more oranges and grapefruit than last year. The California crop of navel oranges is down, Texas is making a comeback in the grapefruit business this year.

Grapes are still plentiful. If you're looking for variety, pomegranates and persimmons are available.

D. Strausbaugh Asks Re-Election To Court Bench

Judge Dean Strausbaugh, 39, a candidate for re-election for judge of Columbus Municipal Court, is a life-long resident of Columbus.

He is the son of Mrs. Strausbaugh and the late Dr. Harold Strausbaugh, M.D., and is a graduate of Duke University, University of Michigan Law School and the Harvard Business School. He served overseas during World War II, is married and has two children, Ann, seven and John five.

Judge Strausbaugh was engaged in private practice of law for six years and served as first assistant City Attorney for two years before becoming judge. He has been active in bar association, civic and charitable endeavors, which in 1955 caused him to be named as "Young Man of the Year" for Columbus.

The Judge points to a recent article in the American Bar Association Journal commending the Columbus Municipal Court for having an up-to-date docket with a very small back-log of cases. He states that since more people appear in Municipal Court than all other courts combined, it is more important that a person receive a fair and impartial hearing in Municipal Court than in any other court, because few persons can afford an appeal there from a poor decision.

Judge Strausbaugh renews his promise made before his last election to continue to be a fair and impartial judge and give everyone appearing before him a fair hearing.

Bed Best Place For Fighting Flu

"Those who develop the signs and symptoms of influenze should go to bed at once, call a physician and follow his advice implicitly," advised Dr. Richard L. Wenzel, chief of Medical Services of the Columbus Health Department.

"The best place for a person who is developing an upper respiratory infection is in bed." Dr. Wenzel said. "If it turns out to be a cold, recovery will be aided by the bed rest. If it is influenza, staying in bed will help prevent a secondary infection of some other disease, such as pneumonia. It is the complications that sometimes accompany influenza which are dangerous.

Antibiotics are not effective against influenza itself but they successfully combat complication, the city medical chief added.

Dr. Wenzel said he expected the disease to spread in a wave in the community for from four to six weeks involving no more than 15 to 20 per cent of the people. Closing schools does not prevent spread of the disease, he asserted. Most schools will remain open unless the numbers of teachers or pupils who are ill make this impractical.

Dr. Wenzel said this illness is a relatively mild form of the same influenza we have known for years. Reason for concern is that it is being caused by a new strain of the flu virus for which we do not have immunity except by vaccination.

America's first electric street railway was placed in operation in Cleveland in 1884.

Duck Hunters Enjoyed Good Opening Day

Despite an estimated 15 per cent decrease in the overall population of waterfowl in Ohio there was a 45 per cent increase over the previous year in the kill of ducks on the opening day of the waterfowl shooting season.

The two factors believed responsible were: exceptionally favorable hunting weather on opening day and, return of the wood duck to the list of waterfowl that can be legally taken in Ohio.

During 1957 the Ohio Division of Wildlife chose to give up the final one-half hour of waterfowl shooting time in favor of returning the wood duck to the "huntable" list in this state.

Seemingly this was a wise choice, particularly Southern Ohio, as the wood duck made up over 30 per cent of the state's opening day take and ranked as the number one duck taken.

The kill of coots continued to decrease.

The take of geese, generally in the Lake Erie marsh area and a few of the larger inland lakes, was about the same as last year.

Legionnaires To Patrol On Halloween

Roger H. Myers, Twelfth District Commander of the American Legion has announced that legionnaires of the district will again patrol, in squads of two to a car, streets of Columbus and Franklin County on Halloween eve.

Cars in which legionnaires will patrol will be marked and the men will wear Legion caps.

Their activities of patrolling and reporting will be outlined to them by, and performed under the supervision of, Police Chief George Scholer.

Chairman of this year's patrol is Charles W. Heacock, vice commander of the 12th District, with immediate past commander Ralph R. Hedrick assisting.

Purpose of the patrol is to help make the Halloween season one of happy frolicking for the youth of Columbus by keeping the streets safe for them.

Last year's patrol was considered successful enough that Legionnaires were encouraged by city officials to repeat the Patrol. Men will be on duty two nights this year, Oct. 30 and 31.

Shea Campaigns For Municipal Judge's Position

John M. Shea, 348 Buttles-av, a native of Columbus and practicing lawyer with offices at 16 E. Broad-st, is a candidate for municipal judge in the Nov. 5, election.

He holds two degrees from Ohio State University.

His practice is mainly trial work, with experience in municipal criminal, traffic and civil courts. He also has been admitted to practice in the U. S. Courts.

In the army five years, Shea saw combat and arose to captain's rank.

Shea was elected 14th Ward Democratic committeeman in 1946 and served as such until 1948. He is a member of St. Francis Parish.

If you're bored and feel that nothing ever happens to you, why not pay a visit to your Columbus Public Library? All you have to do is open an adventure book, and before long you'll be sharing the excitement and experiences of a big game hunter, a skin diver, a treasure hunter or a pirate.

That old flu bug has really decended upon us. There are few families in the South End which have not been hit. We have had all four of our children ill with it. If you have a member of the family or a friend ill, try cheering them and speeding their recovery with a lovely gift of flowers. A beautiful bouquet of cut flowers or a mum plant will brighten the long, dreary days. We will deliver a vase of cut flowers, fresh from our greenhouses, or a plant at prices starting at $3.50. City-wide delivery.

Get well wishes to Bernice Slocum, Eleanor Dixon, Mrs. Hazel Flowers, Mrs. Barbara Collier, Mrs. Eleanor Ritter, R. B. Morris and Herman Frank. Also to Mrs. Teresa Egger, Roger McNaughton, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Charles Elliott and Evelyn Reading. A "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Pearl Yates, Mrs. Carol Bauer, and Mrs. Hazel Pasz. Happy parents to whom we offer our congratulations are Mr. & Mrs. J. E. Falk and Mr. & Mrs. Howard Wilcox who have new baby daughters, and to Mr & Mrs. Walter Borror who have a husky new son.

That proud look that Larry and Frances Rumsey are wearing these days comes from the arrival of their second grandchild, Little Larry Allen Rumsey was born in Youngstown, O., Oct. 22, and is the son of Larry and Janie Rumsey, 104 McKinley-av. (The seven pounder missed his cousin's birthday by a few days, for Tony Alexander had a natal day Oct. 13.)

St. Leo's PTA is sponsoring a "hard-time" round and square dance this Saturday, Nov. 2, 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. John Pope are chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Robert Barkey and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schneider.

Nov. 2 will be the wedding day for Patricia O'Brien, 608 Jenkins-av, and Donald Faist, Toledo, O. Miss O'Brien and Mr. Faist are both employees of the Kimble Glass Co.

It's time to wish a happy birthday to these youngsters . . . Thomas Contosta, 140 Bruck-st, Oct. 31; Thomas Moore, Jr., 160 Hanford-st, Nov. 5; Janet Haubert, 1734 Bruck-st, Nov. 5; Marcia Ratliff, 84 E. Welch-av, Oct. 31; Levi Gause, 316 E. Those flu bugs certainly have interfered with lots of well-laid plans in the recent past. One of the casualties of last week was the South High homecoming game. When we talked to Principal Delbert Swain, he told us it is hoped to hold the affair on Nov. 1, when the Bulldogs are slated to battle with the "Scioto River Pirates (or Central High School, should you be a newcomer to these parts). After the game, a dance will be held in the gym of the school.

Two days past the celebration date of Oct. 29, but wishes are just as warm, nevertheless, for the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Belcher. This wonderful couple are residents of 467 Markison-av.

The Wings of Nightingale Cottage have a unique project and we'd like to pass it on to you. They are selling full-length door decorations for the Christmas season. Five choices are available. The panels are made of bright-colored enamel paper that has been heavily inked and varnished to withstand weathering. General chairman of the project is Mrs. Stuart Jones, 288 Thurman-av.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sengle are now in the "parent" class, since the arrival of their little girl on Oct. 25. Mrs. Sengle is the former Barbara Canter, a South High graduate. "Grandpa" Canter is the well known Russ, WBNS radio announcer.

Sharon and Karen McCoy, pretty young twins, will celebrate their birthdays on Nov. 5. The McCoys are granddaughters of the Paskells, of 171 Markison-av. (The girls are the daughters of Leta Zella Willbarger, who is a twin herself.)

A two-week campaign of evangelism will be held at the Southwood Church of Christ, starting this Sunday, Nov. 3. Rev. Ernest Laughlin will be the preacher and Rev. William Lucas will be the song evangelist.

Need any "seamstressing" done? Well, we won't guarantee the prettiness, but there would be speed, we betcha. The "seamstresses" are the PEBS members who gave a party at Southview for their husbands on Oct. 22. While stretches across their wives' laps a pretty heart-shaped piece of material was stitched to the husbands' britches. Don't know who the winner was, but she'd be a speedy needlewoman, wouldn't she? We heard some of the other games played and we imagine the only ailment present at the gay party was "sore sides" from so much laughter. The affair was pot luck and square dancing was part of the evening's entertainment. (PEBS means Parent Executive Board of South.)

The next PVA meeting of Orient State Institute will be held this Sunday, Nov. 3, at 2 p.m. in the school building. Dr. Lloyd Covault, assistant superintendent of Orient, will be the speaker.

DESHLER PTA Fun Night will be held tomorrow evening, Nov. 1 from 5 to 9 p.m. A jitney supper will be served from 5 to 7 and other features will be a country store, baked goods, cakewalk, fish pond, white elephant sale and doll display.

Congratulations to two newly-wedded couples who exchanged their vows in Oct. On Oct. 5, Miss Vilma Gyure, 333 Woodrow-av, became the bride of Thomas Decker. 14 S. Souder-av. Mr. and Mrs. Decker are now residents of 344 Woodrow-av. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alan Lane exchanged their Oct. 12 vows in Oakwood Methodist Church. Mrs. Lane, a South High Graduate, was Donna Thompson before her marriage.

Members of Trudeau Guild 4 are busy making candles to be displayed at the Nov. 7 card party and style show, which will be held at the YWCA at 8 p.m. Orders for the candles will be taken. Fashions for the style show will be presented by Roberts and members will do the modelling. Patients of Benjamin Franklin Hospital will benefit from the evening's profits.

The Council for Retarded Children will be holding its annual drive on Nov. 12, and there is an urgent need for volunteer workers for that evening. Should you care to help these unfortunate children, won't you call Mrs. Risley at HI. 3-7098, and volunteer your services. She would be most appreciative.

Haste makes waste and sometimes a red nose! To explain, a friend of ours was in a big hurry to get to a hospital by visiting time, so quickly dabbed a little rouge on her cheks. Before she'd thought she'd gone ahead and dobbed some on her nose as well! No, we won't tell you the name of our "temporary Rudolf" friend for we promised not to, but we did get a hearty guffaw from the incident.

Once again it is the time of year that we will be telling you weekly of the "Gifts for Giving" which we have conducted for the past few years through this column. Our goal is to help the patients at Benjamin Franklin Hospital to participate in the joy of the Christmas season, by being able to give remembrances to their loved ones. Tuberculosis takes a long time to cure, and generally the family of the patient has a rough go of it financially while he (or she) is in the hospital. For this reason Christmas is usually an almost forgotten holiday for the tubercular. That is where you, gentle reader, can help. Perhaps you have some nice things around that you have no use for, white elephants so to speak. What better way to use them than to give them to the "Gifts for Giving"? If the response is great enough, we'll let the patients have gifts to give to several in their family instead of the one per person we have in these last two years. We can assure you the things get delivered right into the patients' hands, for we personally distribute them. The overflow goes to Franklin Village and Orient, so won't you let your "white elephants" be bearers of happiness for someone less fortunate than yourself? We'll be reminding you weekly, and we hope our plea strikes a responsive chord. Till next week, then, 'its .

Harmon-Bell Vows Exchang

Miss Rita Jane Harmon and Rev. Roger Alton Bell repeated marriage vows Sunday, Sept. 8, at seven-thirty o'clock in the Ohio Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harmon, 1524 E. Whittier-st. Rev. Bell is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Woodrow Bell, 147 S. State-st, Westerville, O.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Slendon Herbert and Rev. Woodrow Bell, who is the minister of the Second Evangelical United Brethren Church in Westerville, before an altar illuminated with taper in seven branch candelabra and decorated with palms and pompoms.

White tapers with greenery lined the aisle down which the bride was escorted by her father. The bride chose for her wedding a gown of nylon organza over net and silk taffeta. The fitted bodice was topped with a scooped neckline edged in appliqued lace motifs, sprinkled with irridescent sequins and pearls, and fastened in the back with self covered buttons. The very bouffant skirt also featured scattered motifs and floating panels, and was worn over an old fashioned hoop, extending into a wide chapel train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a queens crown of irridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white feather carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss June Joachim was maid of honor. Miss Donna Bernshine and Miss Sharon Bell, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. The attendants were dressed alike in Victory Blue taffeta gowns. The gowns were fashioned along princess lines with Sabrina necklines, cap sleeves and bouffant waltz length skirts. They carried white wedding bells covered with flowers.

Miss Roberta Bell, sister of the groom, was the flower girl in a light blue taffeta dress, featured with scallops at the hemline caught up with flowers matching those in her basket. Master Martin Bell, nephew of the bridegroom, was the ringbearer.

Rev. Richard Bell, of Ludlow Falls, O., served as best man for his brother. Seating the guests were Mr. Roderick Bell, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. James Vaughn, Mr. James Damewood, Mr. Sherman Smith Jr., Mr. Alan Norris, and Rev. Charles Hall.

Hostesses at the reception which followed immediately in the church fellowship hall were Miss Beverly Brown, Miss Sally Ruby, Miss Donna Leitnaker, Mrs. David Drummond, Miss Anetta Harris, Miss Barbara Gerhard, and Mrs. Richard Strouse and Mrs. Terry Hitt, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Harmon chose for her daughter's wedding a beige satin dress with dark brown accessories and she wore a corsage of pink scattered carnations. Mrs. Bell wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of red scattered carnations.

The new Mrs. Bell is a graduate of South High School, attended Otterbein College, where she was a member of Tau Delta Sorority, and is presently employed as a dental assistant to Dr. S. H. Bergman. Mr. Bell is a graduate of Westerville High School and is now attending Otterbein College. He is the pastor of the Miller Evangelical United Brethren Church, Johnstown, Ohio.

Following a wedding trip through Northern Ohio the couple will be at home, Rural Route 1, Johnstown.

A Picture for Remembrance

THE DEDICATED purpose of every funeral director is to make the final hour of parting one that will bring comfort of mind — to create a Memory Picture that will live through the long years ahead. This is the reason for the beauty of the caskets, the soft lights and music, the flowers and the evidence of tenderness and reverence in the service. We have dedicated our chapel to this high purpose.

South High Wins With Top-Heavy Score

TIM WOODYARD (No. 11) of South recovered a fumble by Herb Ragland of East during South's Homecoming game at Mahaffey Stadium. Woodyard's recovery of the fumble set the Bulldogs afire, materializing in the great one-sided score which came as a surprise to the dogged Bulldogs—a happy gift to South for its homecoming, one of the enthusiastic supporters declared at the end of the game. Photo by Chuck Toth

WITH ALL THE WEIGHT of the "enemy" hanging onto him, South's Lowell Latham lunged across the goal line in the fourth quarter pulling along behind him three determined East High Tigers. The TD play covered 12 yards and gave South the big 39 to 12 victory which brought joy to thousands, including homecoming fans. Photo by Chuck Toth

by Dorothy Ruoff

A large number of students and alumni saw South High Bulldogs defeat Central High Pirates 39 to 12 in their Homecoming game last Friday night at Mahaffey Stadium

The Bulldogs started things off in a hurry when Charlie Williams received a pass from quarterback Tim Woodyard on the 50-yard line to go for a touchdown on the third play of the game

In the second quarter, Bob Goodwin, one of the smallest boys on the field, scored from 25 yards out Later with the clock running out, the Bulldogs went to the air as Tim Woodyard threw a 35-yard pass into the end zone where John Foster was waiting for it

One of the most unexpected plays of the second quarter occured when the Central Pirates faked a kick and Henry Harrison ran 45 yards for a touchdown The score at the end of the first half was South 19, Central 6

The half time activities included marching by the South High Band, recognition of senior band members, and the naming of Joyce Lukeiz as Homecoming Queen. The Queen and her court were then driven around the track in convertibles.

In the third quarter South fumbled on the 13-yard line and Central recovered During the rest of the quarter both teams struggled for points, but received none

The fourth quarter was full of action for the Bulldogs. Coach Duncan put all seniors in because it was their last home game Jerry Bordner scored from the one yard line and Jerry Hill made the conversion Lowell Latham, member of the third team, went over for a 20-yard touchdown, Dave Spanner also of the third team, scored from the four-yard line with George Jones making the conversion With seven minutes remaining Central's Bill Penick exhibited one of the finest runs of the game in rambling 60 yards for a Pirate tally.

Mayor Gets Hoped For Dem Council

In an unusually light vote for the city, some 71 thousand voters went to the polls Tuesday . . and gave Mayor M. E Sensenbrenner his eagerly-sought-after Democratic majority in City Hall Damp, chilly weather held the balloting down.

Elected to council were Fred J Shoemaker, Robert H Smith and Robert L VanHeyde, all Democrats

Two Republicans, however, were returned to their city jobs. City Auditor John H Price edged out J. T Ferguson and Russell Leach easily defeated D H. Tishman

Republican Ted Hysell defeated Hilltopper Russ Drake in the race for Clerk of Municipal Court. Former resident Dean Straubaugh (R) took a safe margin over J. M. Shea for municipal judgeship. Another Republican, Horace Troop, defeated Hilltopper G. Arlowe Bryant for the judge's bench. Democrats returned Judge Alan E. Schwartzwalder

Sound defeat was given efforts to obtain a 3-mill tax levy to further develop Metropolitan parks in the county Approved was an ammendment to the city charter eliminating no-contest primary elections

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Marketing Information for Consumers
Franklin County Agricultural Extension Service

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits—Apples, Florida grapefruit and oranges, Emperor grapes, frozen strawberries.
Vegetables — Cauliflower, Pascal celery, canned green beans, frozen peas.

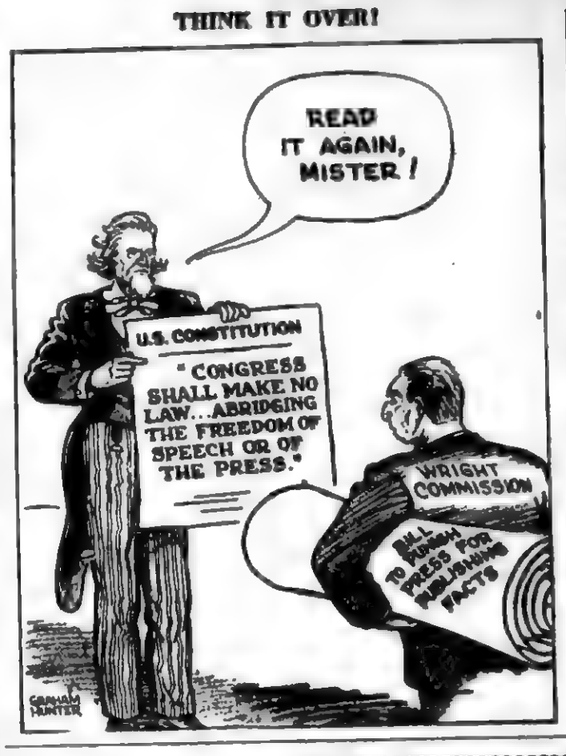
FOOD PRICES

"Who sets the price on the food we buy?" This is a favorite topic of many people, and our opinion probably varies according to whether we are a producer, food handler, or consumer.

Marketing specialists and agricultural economists say that you and I, as consumers, have more to do with setting the price of a given commodity than anyone else. Our influence as shoppers, they say, is the main price-setting force. We force changes in price by buying more or less or by not buying at all.



Supply and Demand at Work—

The merchant watching the trend of the consumer shoppers, and studying his source of supply, arrives at a balance between his supply and the demand of his customers. If he has a large supply, or demand is slow, he may mark prices down to move his stocks. If he has a small supply, or demand is great, he is likely to put prices up. He tries to get as high a price as he can, but must sell at a price that will move his merchandise.

We, as consumers, influence demand by purchasing or not purchasing foods at given prices. When we purchase any food at a given price we are casting a vote for that price or vice versa. In general, our conduct as food buyers determines the price at which food will sell in the retail store.

And as a last word — Do you know it's only about six weeks till Christmas?

THINK IT OVER!

Dear Son

By Joseph Martell

Chittlin' Switch,
Sunday noon.

Dear Son:

Last week your paw and I went to Polecat Junction to sell a load of hawgs. While we were there we went to a fancy restaurant for dinner. Paw embarrassed me no end. The waitress was very friendly and she told us she'd fix our lamb chops with paper panties on. Paw told her that if she cooked them real fast he didn't care what she wore.

Grandma Stronk bought a two-room bungalow at Prairie Corners. The place is bounded on the north by the gasworks, on the south by the glue factory, on the east by a rubber plant and on the west by a brewery. Grandmaw says there's two advantages to the joint. First, she can always tell which way the wind is blowing and second, she has no neighbors to bother her.

There's no question about it, Vic Pringle isn't the smartest cousin you've got. They had a movie at the Gem Theater at the Switch last Saturday where one scene shows a pretty girl in a forest getting ready to have a swim in a lake. (I might mention that she wore no bathing suit.) After she removed her shoes and stockings she was just about to slip out of her dress when a train went by and the next thing you know, the girl is in the water. Vic sat through the picture eight times. He didn't particularly like the movie but he figured one of those time the train would be late.

Last Friday morning your Uncle Lushmore had to appear in county court to answer charges of beating up your Aunt Galena every time he gets drunk which is daily. The last unscheduled bout she had with him he beat her about the head with his fists. The judge asked Lush what he had to say in his defense. He told his Honor not to pay any attention to Galena as she was punch drunk.

Your brother Luke finally got out of the sanitarium. The doctor thought that a couple of weeks in the "laughing academy" would be good for him as Luke kept thinking he was a dog. I don't think the treatments did him too much good because when he stepped in the house after his discharge from the hospital I asked him how he felt. Luke told me he felt great and if I didn't believe him I could feel his nose.

Guess I'll close now but before I do I'll have to tell you a joke on Paw. He was getting worried about his fat stomach and decided to go on a diet. The first week he lost three inches around his waist, the second week four inches and the third week two inches. Yesterday he lost his pants.

Write soon. Your loving,
MOM

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

Good Lord sends me troubles
And I got to work 'em out,
But I look around and see
There's trouble all about.
And when I see my troubles,
I just look up and grin
And think of all the troubles
That I ain't in!

One trouble I ain't in is politics. Flu is enough trouble to be in, and there are about as many people planning to run for office as there are having flu.

Andrew-Mark sitting is my favorite indoor sport. Mark Andrew is my three-year-old grandson, as the one reader of this already knows. One day last week I Mark-rat, and after he became bored with television, he asked me to play "Tree" with him.' I had never played Tree, so had no idea what to expect or what was expected of me.

The game turned out to be very simple. I, as the tree, had to stand in the middle of the floor and Mark sawed my legs (what price nylons!) with a "play saw" — thank goodness — then he yelled "Timber," and G-ma was supposed to fall on her face. Which she did, of course.

Mail—From my sister in Portland: "We went to Reno and Las Vegas for one week of our vacation. There is a lot of nothingness in Nevada; we rode for miles and didn't see a car or another person. We didn't gamble for it isn't as much fun when it's legal. It could have been an off-night, but there weren't many at the tables. Of course there could have been one of those mysterious "back rooms" you see on television."

From my favorite shutin: "Here in the east they have a good idea which I never heard of till I came to New York — though I didn't get around much in Ohio. Here in the towns in upper New York state they hire retired business men, patrolmen, firemen, etc., for school patrol duty.

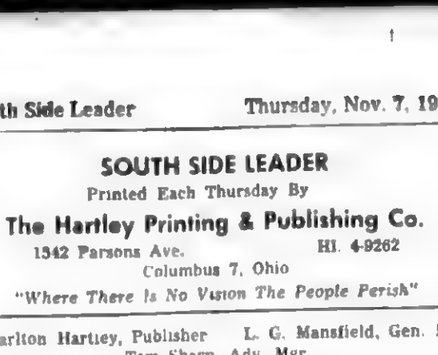
The school children adore the men, and motorists tell me it is mutual. One motorist who travels this area often, told me if he needs directing that his road map doesn't furnish, he asks directions of one of these patrolmen and says they have never steered him wrong. Filling station attendants and even policemen often have given him confusing directions, but never these gentlemen."

From Newark: "If you go to New England, don't fail to see the Shelburne Birches. They are very lovely."

We did see the birches and they are indeed lovely. They were planted along the highway into Maine, by the citizens of the New Hampshire town of Shelburne, in memory of the war dead of that vicinity.

The trees meet at the top and with the sun shining through the beautiful autumn foliage, we could easily imagine we were in a white-walled cathedral, with the sun shining through stained glass windows.

If you have not seen the Shelburne Birches, you should. Not far from them is Mt. Washington. It is a huge gray hill, topped with a weather bureau, hotels, and a cog railroad, and is the highest point in New Hampshire, as you know.



When men wear their Christmas neckties, business conditions are really bad.

Molesters' To Be PTA Subject 13th

"Ten-Point Protection Against Molesters" is the theme for the combined Parent Education and PTA meeting Nov. 13 at Southwood School at 8 p.m. A police officer from the juvenile bureau will be the speaker and tell the things the parents can do to protect their children from molesters and also how the children can be instructed in various ways to help protect themselves against molesters.

There will be a business meeting, according to Mrs. Charles Dayton, and then the Parent Education chairman, Mrs. Carl Jividen, will take over the program.

Mrs. Dayton also announced that those rooms which won money as rewards for getting 100 percent membership in the PTA drive will display the things they bought for their rooms with the money.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

This snappish weather makes the thoughts of a turkey dinner very appealing, so that's why our taste-buds started working when we heard of the project of Marion-Franklin for this Saturday, Nov. 9. The PTA will serve a turkey dinner from 4:30 to 7:30 at the school, 1527 Koebel-rd. The women hope that lots of their well-wishers will attend. Women who are working in key positions are Mrs. Nelson Miller, Mrs. Alva Dailey, Mrs. Charles Edwards, Mrs. Ralph White and Mrs. Robert Covert.

A birthday that got "lost" in our pocketbook file is the Oct. 18 one of Sharon Jackson who was 18 on that day. Sharon lives at 427 Siebert-st.

Mrs. L. D. Thompson, 771 S. 22nd-st, will probably feel the need for a slight "breather" for no sooner had she returned from the PTA convention in Cleveland when her school's fall festival was imminent. Mrs. Thompson, president of the Roosevelt Jr. High, hopes that most everyone will include the Nov. 8 project on their list of activities for the day. Features to be found tomorrow include an amateur show, movies, bake sale, cake walk, game room, novelties, white elephants, refreshments and dancing.

WSCS of Livingston Methodist Church will meet Nov. 7 at the church for a noon casserole luncheon.

First Community Church will be the Nov. 9 scene of the wedding of a South Side resident and a Painesville, O., resident. Patricia Ann Lahey, 579 Siebert-st, a teacher in the Upper Arlington Schools, will wed Haskel L. Hido of Painesville. Mr. Hido is a student at Ohio State University where he is a member of Kappa Sigma. Miss Lahey was a member of Delta Zeta Sorority and Chimes in her undergraduate days at OSU.

Received the news too late to include in last week's offering, but the warmest of wishes are sent to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver of Beck-st, who reached their 50th wedding anniversary in October.

Louise Shields was the hostess last week when the Mother's Variety Club met at Willard's Restaurant. After the women dined, they returned to the home of Mrs. Shields for the evening. Mrs. Shields resides on Sycamore-st.

(Those gals don't know it yet but ye Gadabout won't let them enter until they purchase a box of the BOP candy! Then they will nibble and nibble and won't need any refreshments which aren't going to be very good anyway. Got it ALL figured out!)

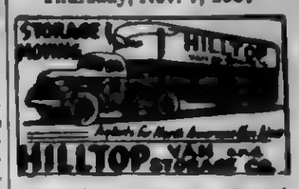
Phi Beta, campus music and speech group, will provide the entertainment. While thinking of this University, we'll report on a last week's event that was held there. The science department held open house last Friday so ye Gadabout attended, at her son's request. After viewing the displays held in the various departments (and the number of departments amazed us, didn't know "Cap" had so many fields) it was time for the featured speaker. We'll admit it was reluctant feet that took us to the lecture room, for there are times when we reach saturation point on speakers telling us to do this, don't do that, etc. (Getting old, Gadabout!) But what do you know? Mr. Anderson of Battelle Institute was absolutely the BEST speaker we've ever heard in our lengthening life. He spoke on the IGY which could have been boring in less capable hands. (IGY stands for International Geophysical Year) He treated the subject humorously, but managed to get his information across nonetheless. We're still quoting him in our home and that's a compliment to his oratorical impact. Yep, we're glad we went to Cap's Science Day open house.

Two sisters share Nov. 8 as a birthdate, so we'll send greetings to Mattie Rose, 1521 S. High-st and Opal Wears, 2223 S. High-st.



Frances Rumsey, 222 Frebis-av, spent last week-end in Youngstown seeing her brand new grandson for the first time. Little Larry was chistened while his grandmothers were there.

Free Guide To Game Cookery Offered To Our Subscribers

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

A recent survey conducted in the United States found that one household in every three harbors a hunter or fisherman.

This means that about 25 million people hunt and fish in this country, and virtually all of them bring home fish and game to eat sometime during the year. The enjoyment of hunting and fishing is more than doubled if your catch is properly cared for, and prepared for the table in a delectable manner. The trophies of the game bag and creel are a gourmet's delight, appropriate for the most festive occasions.

To make certain that you get the fullest enjoyment from the game you shoot this season, this newspaper will send you on request a free booklet entitled "A Guide to Game Cookery."

Covers Local Game

The book fully covers Ohio game, and includes recipes for venison, rabbit, squirrel, pheasant, duck, goose, partridge, pigeon, woodcock, and grouse.

Several lines of interesting information accompanies each species of game. For example, here is the information on rabbits: "More wild rabbits are taken by hunters each year in this country than any other type of game, big or small. The annual number totals over 45,000,000.

Often the terms rabbit and hare are used interchangeably; however, the Cottontail, Brush, Marsh and Idaho Pygmy are true rabbits whereas the larger Jack Rabbit, Snowshoe and Idaho Hare are hares.

Young tender rabbits have light meat and can be cooked like young, tender chicken. Larger, dark-meated hare should be braised, stewed or marinated, just as older chicken is cooked. Rabbits weigh from two to three pounds and hares range from four to 12 pounds. The Cottontail is the most abundant rabbit of our country and is found in every state from the Atlantic to the Pacific." Recipes for fried rabbit and hasenpfeffer follow this introduction.

Gives Dressing Information

The first page of the booklet is devoted to game care in the field. This is a very important step if you want to arrive home with some good eating. Game that has been pretty badly shot up should be dressed on the spot. In recent years I have been carrying plastic bags in my game pouch, and its a convenient way of carrying field-dressed rabbits and squirrels.

The back of the booklet is devoted to game accompaniments, with the mouth watering titles of wild rice, chestnut puree, baked hominy grits, braised celery, fried hominy grits, and gourmet game sauce.

For a real treat have a game dinner for your family, or for perhaps a few friends. Try some of these time-tested traditional game recipes, and serve them with appropriate side dishes. I guarantee that you won't want for hunting partners from this date on. They will be more than glad to help you gather the ingredients for another feast.

Don't forget, this 21 page book on game cookery is free. If you are a subscriber write to Hartley Newspapers, 2466 W. Broad-st, Columbus 4, Ohio. Additional copies may be picked up at the receptionist's desk.

Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.—(The Acts 20, 35.)

Often, when spontaneously bestowing a friendly smile upon a lonely person, or a word or deed of help and encouragement to one in distress, we have been wondrously rewarded by such an inner satisfaction as a fortune in dollars could not equal. Indeed we are blessed when we give, unselfishly, and in love.

Euchre Party

Saturday, Nov. 9, at 8:15 p. m. a euchre party will be held at St. Leo's School Hall, Frebis and Bruck-st. This party will benefit the Catholic chairities program of St. Leo's Altar Rosary Parish Council. Mrs. John Flowers and Mrs. Thomas Madigan will serve as chairman and co-chairman. Open to the public.

'Light A Life' Drive Set For Monday, Nov. 11

Not the right size, but the right idea, is this giant "Light a Life" drive reminder, similar to one which will be distributed Monday, Nov. 11, by the Girl Scouts and Brownies throughout Franklin County.

Girl Scouts Diana Heigel, center, 947 S. Ohio-av, and Carolyn Wood, 872 Linwood-av, both of Troop 416, are shown displaying the door-hanger with Mrs. Robert Doersam, 841 S. Champion-av, campaign area chairman.

Funds raised through the one-day, door-to-door solicitation conducted by South Side "Fireflies" help provide special training for Franklin County mentally retarded youngsters excluded from public schools.

Teen-Age Girls Die In Sunday Crash

"The cars were not going to fast," a Hamilton Township fireman reported.

What had been fun-driving for one group, was turned to tragedy.

The five Lockbourne airmen were returning from church.

A few minutes after 11 p.m. on Sunday evening, the two cars crashed at the intersection of Obetz and Lockbourne-rds. Carol Hayes, 19, of Columbus, was killed instantly, officers said. Sue Brown, 17, whose mother, Mrs. Darsel Sayer, lives at 109 Merilene-av, Obetz, died in Mercy Hospital at 2:30 a.m. Monday.

The others will recover, although A2/C Warner Ware, 21, driver of the south-bound car, is still listed in critical condition.

Hamilton firemen have made the emergency run to Columbus many times, saved a life, stopped suffering, given comfort to parents and friends.

They used jacks on this wreck, freed a soldier who was pinned in his car. They found the stunned bodies of the others scattered in the ditches along both sides of the road for a distance of 100 feet.

"In the dark it was difficult to tell just how many there were," a fireman said.

"The cars kept rolling," he added. "Parts of the cars were strewn along the road for nearly 400 feet."

It may be the brakes failed, officers said.

The stop sign that marks the abrupt end of Obetz-rd was violated. Driver James L. Campbell, 18, of 1066 Meadow Lane, has been cited for failing to yield the right-of-way from a stop sign.

His car crashed the other broadside, sent it spinning and rolling, scattering bodies as it went; tore apart the whole left side.

Sue Brown is survived by her husband, Ralph; her daughter, Sandra; father, Delbert Johnson; mother, Mrs. Sayre; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard McDade, 292 Lisle-av, Obetz; two half brothers, James and George Sayre; two half sisters, Shirley Sayre and Sheila Johnson, and a step-sister, Barbara Williams, all of Columbus.

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 3:30 at the Cook and Son Funeral Home. She will be buried in Obetz cemetery.

Sue Brown attended Obetz Elementary School, and Hamilton Township High School for one term.

Wives Meet On Nov. 11

The next meeting of the Overseas Wives Club will be held at the YWCA at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 8. Hostesses will be Mrs. Gerald Kirkendall and Mrs. Harry Bowser.

Membership in this group is open to any foreign-born wife of an American serviceman or ex-serviceman. Anyone interested may call Mrs. Robert Dorcy at CA. 4-7938.

"It can be done" is good, but "it's done" is better.

Joint Meet At Lincoln

The first meeting of the Lincoln Park Parent and Family Life study group will be held Nov. 14 at 10 a.m. in the school auditorium, according to an announcement by Mrs. William Conley, publicity chairman. The topic for discussion will be "The Community As A Teacher," based on the June, 1957, issue of the National Parent-Teacher Magazine.

Halloween was enjoyed by the children of Lincoln Park School. All the rooms participated in a parade around the grounds and surrounding streets of the school. Later parties were held in the rooms, according to each teacher's desires.

The parents of the fifth-grade students will be hosts and hostesses at the Nov. 21 PTA meeting to be held at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium. Chairman of the fifth-graders parents is Mrs. Harvey Bland and refreshments will be furnished for this meeting by the parents. In accordance with the theme "The Peamble to the Constitution," the topic for this meeting will be, "Insure Domestic Tranquility." A movie on tolerance and unity will be shown, with open discussion following.

Annual Bazaar

Central Community Church, 72 E. Mound-st, will hold its annual church bazaar Nov. 13. It will be an all-day affair, and open to the public.

The day will commence with a cafeteria luncheon, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. until 7 p.m.

Memorial Service

Tuesday, Nov. 12, 7:45 p.m., a memorial service for deceased members will be held by St. Leo's Altar Rosary Parish Council in St. Leo's Church. The regular monthly meeting will follow in the school hall. The religious activities program will be featured with Mrs. Andrew Theado chairman. Rev. Father Patrick Griffin will be the speaker of the evening.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

Hello

Plants for the home always make a good gift — a lovely potted "Mum" for a hospital patient or for a birthday or anniversary present is this season's favorite. Don't overlook a smart-looking dish garden for a wedding gift or for a new mother. We have lovely ceramic planters, as well as brass mesh planters for the mantel and candle centerpieces for the table. These are equally lovely filled with green plants or with fresh cut flower arrangements.

South Methodist Church has two new future choir members—the son of Mr. & Mrs. William Koehl and the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. William Harrison, whose parents now sing in the church choir. Congratulations to them, and to Mr. & Mrs. David White and Mr. & Mrs. Chester Molt who have new baby daughters. Get well wishes to Mrs. Holderfeld, Wauneta Hankison, Delbert Esseman, Mrs. Laura Reeves, Mrs. Mary Skunza, Mrs. George Doerflein, Ruth Pennell, Helen Lichtner, Maz Silberstein and Edith Christian.

Call us the next time you need flowers. We will be happy to serve you and will give your order our best attention. We have city-wide delivery.

Helpful Holiday Hint

Pecans Help Turn Plain Foods Into Holiday Treats

With pecan season underway, now is the time to liven some of your favorite foods with these nuts, says Pauline Gruner, Ohio State University extension foods and Nutrition specialist.

Pecans are especially good for making plain foods into festive holiday treats. They are hard to beat for use in candy, ice cream, and pastries. They are well adapted for use in biscuits, muffins, waffles, breads, cakes and cookies. They also may be used to add richness and flavor to poultry stuffing, croquettes, creamed chicken or fish. For eating alone, pecans are good plain or roasted and salted.

Pecans may be bought in the shell, as kernels, and as specialty gift packages. If the nuts are purchased in the shell, the nutrition specialist advices soaking them for 10 hours or pouring boiling water over them and allowing them to soak for 15 to 30 minutes. Either treatment tends to make the kernels more pliable and hold together better during shelling. It is best to shell the pecans as soon as they are dry.

Miss Gruner points out that pecans are nutritious in that they contain protein, fat and thiamin. She also cautions weight-watchers that one cup of pecan kernels furnishes about 750 calories and 12 medium halves furnish about 100 calories.

Joan Stanley, 1, Dies On Sunday

Joan Stanley, one-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stanley, 1888 South Parsons-av, died Sunday morning.

The attending physician attributed death to bronchial pneumonia.

Services were conducted by Cook and Son Funeral Home on Wednesday morning.

County Corner Still Probes Mystery Death

Laboratory investigators probing the mystery death of Arthur E. Jordan in a field at Studer-av and Marion-rd, were still conducting their tests at mid-week.

Results will not be known for at least another three weeks, the Franklin County Coroners office reported this morning (Thursday).

Death by foul play has been nearly ruled out since the body showed no marks, and money and other valuables were not disturbed, police officers said.

Jordan, 47, was a resident of Boaz, Ala., had formerly lived and worked in Columbus, and returned here a few days ago to work for a local pre-fab house trucking firm.

The body was found about noon Sunday in a field about 30 feet off Studer-av. Police say he died possibly on Friday evening.

Attempts to locate relatives in Alabama had brought no response, officials reported.

M-F Juniors Schedule Play

Marion-Franklin's junior class will present a play, "The Birds and the Boys," at the school on Nov. 22 at 8 p.m.

The play is being directed by Richard Coldren, M-F's new English and Speech teacher. It will be Coldren's first dramatic offering here.

The play is a three-act comedy about a newly married couple and their relationship with their neighbors who range from society to reform school boys.

There is a bit of moral involved too: it prfoves that Cricket (the housewife) did not place undue confidence in her teenage friends.

Dave Santo and Karen Reiber have the parts of Mr. and Mrs. Other students in the cast are Peggy Glenn, Kay Noble, Dan Dailey, Tim Kelley, Tom Baker, Ann Funk, Rita McGrew, Pat Skinner, Donna Munn, Linda Gaffin, Jerry Reed, Lois Riffle, Sandy Shaffer and Beverly Brown.

Prices Set By Shoppers

An old idea with real appeal would be one way of describing the phrase "If I were running things . . . "

"If I were running things, I'd mark prices down" might be a good campaign theme for some ambitious politician. However, most thinking voters would be skeptical about such a promise by any politician. Most people realize there are too many factors involved in present day economics for any one individual to be able to make good on such a statement.

Even so, most of us don't understand what all those "factors" are.

This week, Extension Specialists in Marketing Information for Consumers at the Ohio State University, Columbus, interviewed Dr. M. E. Cravens, of the University Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology, on the question "Who sets the price on goods we buy?"

Dr. Cravens explained that the consumer has more to do with setting the price of a given commodity than anyone else. The shopper's influence, he says, is the main price setting force. He explained that she forces changes in price by buying more or less or by not buying at all.

The merchant, watching the trend of the consumer-shoppers, and studying his source of supply, arrives at a balance between his supply and the demand of his customers. If he has a large supply, or demand is slow, he may mark prices down to move his stocks. If he has a small supply, or demand is great he is likely to put prices up. He tries to get as high a price as he can, but must sell at a price that will move his merchandise.

While it is not quite this simple, the consumer really does "run things" by her actions in the retail store, says the marketing specialist.

It is a good idea not to believe more than half you hear and less than that of what you think.

Mrs. Robert Karrer, program chairman, will introduce the guest speaker, Dr. Frank M. Fletcher, director of counseling and testing at Ohio State University and current president of the American personnel and guidance Association.

Various colleges and universities throughout the state have been invited to send representatives to talk to South High students and parents. This meeting is in keeping with the PTA's idea of helping graduates and undergraduates select their life's work before the close of high school life.

The representatives who have accepted the invitation are from Capital, Heidelberg, Miami, Hiram, Ohio State, Ohio, Ohio Wesleyan and Otterbein. The individuals will be introduced and then given designated rooms for the two conference sessions during which students and parents will have an opportunity to investigate the merits and programs of the respective institutions.

Refreshments will be served after the program, according to Mrs. Paul Mason, publicity chairman.

First Meeting

The first meeting of the Heyl Avenue Parent and Family Life Education Group will be held at the school Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 19, at 1:30.

Part of the new building extending the capacity of Siebert Street Elementary School is shown above with members of the school's PTA and several members of the teaching staff who have moved with their classes into the new building.

Following a new idea in city school architecture, the new Siebert building is off-ground by many feet, allowing the whole ground space covered by the building, 49x89 feet, to be used as playground area.

Modern-day construction methods insulate floor and wall and ceiling, keeping in the heat in the winter and keeping the heat out in the warmer months. The building is one of the most modern structures in the Columbus school system.

Program

They will explain activities for both girls of boys of elementary age.

The social committee has planned a reception in honor of Eugene Kirby, at which time everyone can become better acquainted during the social hour, according to Mrs. Donald Salser, publicity chairman who has written the following history for the South Side Leader.

The business men involved are the members of the South Side Business and Industrial Organization. This organization donated $35 for payment of the basketball team's entry into the "B" League.

Since a basketball team must have uniforms, the same organization stepped up and put down another money gift, $45 this time, for the purchase of uniforms.

Headquarters

There are 13 players wearing the uniforms purchased by the donations made by the business group. League headquarters are maintained in the Spring Street YMCA, and here the schedules and other business of the league are taken care of, according to Harry Vorrath, manager of the team.

Front row, left to right, the players are Ronnie Wilky, South High, 6 feet, 21 years old; Eugene Milner, Marion-Franklin, 5 feet 7 inches, 17 years old; James Smith, South High, 5 feet 6 inches, 17 years old; Lowell Latham, South High, 5 feet 5 inches, 18 years old; Jasper Reeves, Marion-Franklin, 5 feet 7 inches, 17 years old; Thomas Crowder, South High, 5 feet 11 inches, 22 years old.

St. Mary's CYO Visitors

Listening to Fr. Frank Schaefer

Pictured above are members of the Catholic Youth Organization when representatives met at St Mary's Catholic Church Sunday, Nov. 3. Seven hundred persons were reported as attending the meeting, coming from Chillicothe, Zanesville, Newark, Lancaster, Mt Vernon. At right are Jean Britt, secretary St. Mary's CYO; next, Jean Beard, treasurer St. Mary's CYO. St Mary's CYO president, Harold Gutenecht, is barely seen back of the visitor from out-of-town, while the group listened to Rev. Frank Schaefer. The three young fellows were visitors not identified by the photographer. Absent with "flu", it was said, was CYO vice-president Vince Newton. None of those below the platform could be identified.

South Church of Christ To Mark 50th Anniversary

The South Church of Christ, Woodrow at Bruck-st, has reached the half-century mark, according to the pastor, Rev. Clarence D. Mulkin. In recognition of this fact, the church will use the week from Dec. 1 to 8 to celebrate the event, the pastor and committee said. Speakers from away will come to greet the congregation and preach. Persons to come to Columbus to help observe the half-century of existence of the church will be announced later, it was learned.

It is expected that the observance of the half-hundred mark will draw many old friends back to participate in the observances. The committee in charge of the program plans to release further details as acceptances are received from those invited to come and take part in the observance ceremonies. One detail may be announced now: The week-long observance will close with a banquet at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 8.

Since we're an honorary member of Trudeau Guild 25, we like to attend their meetings whenever possible. Once more 'tis the end of our stock of items, so we'll remind you of the "Gifts for Giving," which enables the patients of Ben Franklin Hospital to have a merrier Christmas. The items that most of us have around the house (perhaps new) that we can't find a use for, could be used as gifts for the patients to give their loved ones. Those ties that pop didn't wear, or the jewelry or cologne that didn't suit Mom, or the items that were duplicated in the kiddies' presents, all could be put to good use. We particularly hope for games that the kiddies could play as a group, for understandably parents don't want to single out one child to remember, ignoring the rest. However, if the response is great enough, we hope perhaps the patients can receive enough to give to all the members of their families. It's a big order, but if there are enough children's items, we can do it. Well, enough of the project this week; we shall speak of it again next time. So we shall include our phone number, as per usual, and hope to hear from you. Till next week then, 'tis—

Radio Man Is Barrett PTA Speaker

The second meeting of Barrett Junior High PTA will be held Thursday, Nov. 21, 7:30 p.m., in the school auditorium, with Mrs. Wendell Green presiding.

Rev. Everett Mosslander of Thurman Methodist Church will give the invocation and the guest speaker will be Collis Young, who will speak on "The Positive Approach to Radio, TV and Newspaper." He is station manager of WCOL and has been connected with the industry for 15 years. He is also active in youth activities and organizations, it was stated.

The Senior Girls' Glee Club will round out the program and a social hour will follow in the cafeteria.

The sale of Christmas cards is the one yearly money-making project of the Barrett PTA and they will be available that evening at a table in the hall, according to Mrs. J. W. Paulus, 68 E. Welch-av, publicity chairman.

A speaker who does not strike oil in 20 minutes should stop boring.

Miss Bausch Tells Of Open House Observance 'Children Books Week

Librarian says, "Hearquarters for Good Reading."

"There is doubly good reason for you and your entire family to visit the Parsons Branch Library at 845 Parsons-av in the week of Nov. 18 through 23," according to Miss Margaret Bausch, librarian.

First of all, she says, it is the 39th annual National Children's Book Week, a week dedicated to focusing attention on the importance of good books for children. Even more important, the librarian says, it's "Library Golden Anniversary Week" in Columbus, proclaimed by Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner as a time for "all citizens and residents to visit their Columbus Public Library, its neighborhood branches, stations and bookmobiles this week for the purpose of acquainting themselves with the resources and services, and utilization of these services by all."

Full Week

The entire week will be observed as open house, with community residents welcome to visit the Parsons Branch during the regular hours, 1 p.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturdays.

Library Golden Anniversary Week actually celebrates the opening in 1907 of the main library building, an edifice made possible by the generosity of philanthropist Andrew Carnegie. His gift of $200,000 permitted the first substantial expansion of service to keep up with the growing needs of the city since founding of the library as the public library and reading room of Columbus in the old State Street City Hall in 1873.

Historical Event

The historical event will be celebrated as the forerunner of expanded services which include the institution of neighborhood branch service in 1928, deposits in county schools, bookmobiles serving the entire county and sections of Columbus far removed from branch service, service to hospitals, film loans, phonograph records, and many other services. The week also marks the opening of Parsons Branch in October, 1928.

Among the anniversary displays will be photographs of all Columbus Public Library agencies serving residents of the city and the county.

An Invitation

Book Week plans include an invitation of all boys and girls in the area to visit the branch and be introduced to the fun of reading good books. Schools have already been scheduled to visit the library to enjoy discovering new books and finding old favorites, and see a puppet show called "Cinderella."

Book Week was founded in 1919 by Franklin K. Mathiews, chief Boy Scout librarian, who suggested the idea to the American Book Sellers Association. The idea grew quickly and Book Week has been observed nationally ever since.

Gra-Y Induction Held At St. Paul

The South Side Branch Gray-Y induction was held at St. Paul United Church of Christ E&R Church, Monday evening, Nov. 4, when more than 100 boys were given full membership in the South Columbus Elementary Schools Gra-Y Clubs sponsored by the South Side "Y." Thomas Quick, principal of Barrett Jr. High School, and Rev. Paul C. Kaefer of St. Paul United Church of Christ Church, were the main speakers of the evening.

Principal Quick challenged the boys to live up to their purpose by "being strong in mind, body, and spirit, and living in a Christ:on way in their homes, schools, churches and neighborhoods.

Gary Kunz, a member of Stewart Gra-Y Club, explained the meaning of the Gra-Y emblem and how it directed the functions of the club.

The ritual was attended by many parents of the boys who gained a much better understanding of their son's club activity.

HOUSEWIVES NOTE!

The brush in an upright vacuum cleaner should be lowered to make good contact with the carpeting. It will gradually wear down with use.

When you drive near schools, take this sound advice from the Safety Council of The Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce: Approach every school the way you did when you were a child . . . slowly!

Young man with faith in his future

7 pounds, 8 ounces of Sacred Trust

If you have youngsters of your own, then this picture must call up wonderful memories. How happy, how proud you were of the new baby. Proud, happy, and grateful, too. For no one had to tell either of you that your child was a sacred trust . . . that his or her happiness depended in large measure upon the way you measured up as a parent.

Today, you know better than ever how true that is. It's you the children look to for all things . . . for love, for learning, for fun . . . and, above all, for the good example to follow in life.

That's quite a responsibility. But, thanks to God, not a lonely one. For God Who blessed you with children, knows you need His constant help to raise them wisely —and that help is yours for the asking. Worship together, at your Church or Synagogue, every week.

Find the strength for your life . . . worship together this week

Bulldogs 'Lasso' Cowboys With 18-0 Grid Score

By Dorothea Rueff

The South High Bulldogs ended a successful grid season Friday night by defeating the West Cowboys 18-0 at Magly Field to tie Aquinas for second place in the City League race.

Both teams were fighting hard during the first quarter, but both were held scoreless.

Late in the second quarter Jerry Bordner, South halfback, raced 68 yards to the Cowboys' 12-yard line. Two plays later he tallied from three yards out for the first touchdown of the game. The conversion was no good, leaving the score South 6, West 0, at the half.

The third quarter resembled the first in that it was also scoreless.

Midway in the fourth quarter John Foster, South, caught a Cowboy punt and ran 15 yards for the score. The conversion was again no good. South marked up its final touchdown by going 50 yards in six plays with Al Weinberg going over from the two.

Great Southern Businessmen Honor Local Artists

Decorate Stores For Halloween

Inscribed trophies were awarded this week to the school boys and girls who decorated Great Southern Shopping Center during the recent fun-filled and mischief-free Halloween.

Neatness and originality — and artistic skill — were factors that influenced the judges. Gwen Roberts won first place honors, Dianna Womeldorf and Marcy Goodfleisch combined on a single project to wrap-up second place, and Frank Segar won third.

The picture was taken in Weiss Shoe Store, where all of the entries for the contest were accepted.

The photograph was taken by Tom Sharp.

Girl Shows Another How TB Seal Sales Help

A health career? At Christmas seal headquarters, Judee Farley, 1059 Berkeley-rd. right, a student at South High School, shows a pamphlet on dietetics to Nancy Trezevant, St. Mary of the Springs. The occasion was a conference for high school students on health careers, promoted by the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County as one of several health education activities for students. General good health, the society explains, is one of the best weapons against TB. The largest portion of receipts from the 1957 Christmas seal sale, opening Friday, Nov. 15, will be spent on health education projects for schools, industries, and community groups. Another of the larger expenditures will be the society's free Christmas seal X-ray program, to be expanded during the coming year to meet the needs of a growing Franklin County.

How To Dump A Truck The Hard Way—

Pictures Of A 'Stuck Truck'

This scene was taken at the new Pure Oil station on South High-st last Monday morning. The driver was preparing to fill-in two cistern holes when the ground underneath the rear wheels caved in.

The concrete cistern caved too, letting the truck settle down snugly; the motor stalled out. The driver, who was leaning out the door looking back, was thrown clear and uninjured. (Photo by Tom Sharp)

Farm Bureau Councils Discuss 'Togetherness'

HILLIARDS—"Working Together on Our Farm Problems" is the title of November's Advisory Council Guide, now being discussed by more than 1500 Farm Bureau Advisory Councils in Ohio, John Durban, Franklin County Farm Bureau Organization Director, said today. This includes more than 300 families in the 31 Franklin County Councils.

The Guide compares farm and labor organizations and then asks if Farm Bureau is strong enough to take a place in the nation of strong organizations.

Advisory Council members are discussing bargaining power through the Guide, Durban said, asking which farm problems can best be solved by farm organizations without government help and which can best be handled by government. Farmers, who are members of Farm Bureau and using the bargaining power offered by their membership, also are discussing how Farm Bureau builds and improves the farmers' positions in bargaining for materials and on the open farm production markets of the nation.

As a result of the Guide topic discussion, Durban said, farmers are asking how they can help individually to strengthen their farm organizations. Council members also are asking how they can help as a group.

OG's Notes

By OLIVER GEDEIST

Helpfulness Exalted

South Side people have much to be grateful about when stories like one in last week's South Side Leader are read . . . meaning, of course, the lift given by the South Side Business and Industrial Organization to a basketball team representing the South Side Settlement House. Hard cash was spent for membership in the league and for uniforms to wear while playing . . . blessed is a community whose members are willing to support worth-while activities with their money and with as much of their time as they can give while operating their own businesses . . . you are tops with us!

Happy Forecast

A healthy forecast for the future is tied up in the Gra-Clubs sponsored by the YMCA for the young fellows in elementary schools. Clean sportsmanship ranks high in the principles promoted by the Young Men's Christian Association, and the Gra-Y's learn the need for clean sportsmanship in every program in which they participate . . . and fair dealing . . . with their eyes directed to high clean living . . . it's an organization designed to prepare youth for high citizenship . . . a laudable phase of our living . . . and there is the PTA —what indefatigable workers these stalwart women of our communities are! Their good works entitle them to a high spot in the good will of all of us.

A Mile Post

An interesting mile post is occurring in the history of the South Church of Christ, whose minister is Rev. Clarence C. Mulkin. It is the 50th anniversary of the founding of the church. Naturally most of those who were charter members are gone, but it is likely that their descendants will participate in the observance of the occasion. The observance is to be week-long, Dec. 1 through Dec. 8. A banquet will mark the end of the observance.

That Flu Bug!

Every day another friend of the South Side Leader is reported "out of action" with the old flu bug . . . There is Mrs. William Conley, Lincoln Park Elementary School PTA publicity chairman, now "under the weather" . . . and there is an item about a PTA meeting. Here's hoping the "bug" quickly goes away . . . many meetings are being cancelled or postponed because the "bug" won't go away . . . and there's a happy thought on paper opening the week . . . from Mrs. Arnold Plageman, publicity chairman, St. Leo's Parish Hall dinner this Sunday . . . and a happiness-maker note from Publicity Chairman Mrs. Donald Salzer of Sie-

Corpus Christi Yule Plans Being Made

Christmas preparations are in the making in Corpus Christi Parish, according to information supplied by Mrs. James Wiltshire, parish Rosary-Altar publicity chairman, said.

Mrs. Wiltshire said that the annual Christmas party and gift exchange will be held in the parish social hall Tuesday evening, Dec. 3, at 8 o'clock.

As an added feature, new to this group this year, the members of the society will sponsor a baby shower as their charitable project for Christmas. Mrs. Wiltshire said this change in proceedings is due to the constant need for infants' clothing for Catholic Welfare in the area. She said the gifts will be brought to the Christmas party. Mrs. Charles Hahn, the society's charities chairman, is heading this project, it was stated.

Rev. Sutorious Sets Special Thank Service

Special Thanksgiving Day worship service will be held at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, 80 E. Markison-av, at 9 o'clock Thursday, Nov. 28. The pastor, Rev. C. J. Sutorius, will preach on the subject "True Thanksgiving Is Not Dependent Upon Outward Circumstances."

Leader To Be Closed Thursday

The office of the South Side Leader will be closed all day Thursday, Thanksgiving. Regular Thursday morning delivery of the Leader will be made. Should you be missed by your Leader carrier, please call after 8 a.m. Friday morning and delivery will be made during the day — most likely before noon. If you are missed, please call early. The usual number . . . Hi. 4-9261.

Singing Groups Invited To Join Yule Carolers

Groups throughout Columbus are being asked to take part in the fourth annual Kinder Key Christmas caroling project Dec. 11 from 6 to 9 p.m. In singing areas, carolers will receive donations for the support of the Kinder Key Heart Laboratory at Children's Hospital.

Groups will be singing in the south end from St. Stephen's Community House, Girl Scouts, St. Mary's Church, Barrett Junior High School, Camp Fire Girls and others.

Anyone interested in participating may contact Mrs. C. W. Jones, BE. 7-1274 or Mrs. Donald Gay, CL. 8-8508.

Barrett's 'Helpers' Given Applause For Useful Service

(Prepared at Barrett)

Vice-Principal Ruth Castner gets valuable help from two student groups in the office helpers and hall monitors.

Each hall monitor sits at an assigned location in the halls during one of his study periods and does his studying there. Being there, he can see that the lockers are closed and locked and that they are not being tampered with. They also check hall passes of persons in the hall. Thanks to the hall monitors, Barrett's halls are in good condition through the school day.

Office Helpers

The office helpers are another great help in the administration of the building. By looking up needed information, by carrying messages and doing other errands, they make the work of the building easier for other pupils and for teachers.

Family Night At Hevl PTA

Lloyd Ferguson, director of special services at Columbus State School, will be guest speaker at the family night meeting of the Heyl-av Parent-Teacher Association on Thursday, Nov. 21, at 7:30 p.m.

The girls chorus from the State School will entertain with songs, following a short business meeting. It was announced that children accompanying parents will be entertained during the meeting. Mrs. Gene R. Morris, 1044 S. Champion, is the publicity chairman.

To Lead Songfest At S. Methodist

The South Side Branch YMCA Young People's Inter-Church Council's monthly United Youth Program is scheduled for South Methodist Church, 6th and Morrill, on Sunday, Nov. 24, at 8 p.m.

The November program has been set up as a songfest with the popular Rev. Al Heinz and Mrs. Heinz as leader.

All young people and adults are eligible to attend and participate in this event to be held in the Social Hall with the South Methodist Youth Fellowship serving as hosts.

Gordon Ball, South Methodist, will deliver the welcome. Sally Paulus, St. John United Church of Christ (E&R), will lead the opening prayer, and host minister, Walter Peters, will deliver the benediction.

Halloween Area May Extend

When the Council of South Side Organizations met at the South Branch YMCA last Monday evening a packed schedule of items faced the members. Some of the items listed were of sufficient import to require attention, or were reports on work accomplished. Others, like extending the Halloween observance ala Schiller Center and Barrett Junior High School, had such import that considerable discussion is necessary, along with much study.

The subject was brought up at a recent executive committee meeting, when it was suggested that Barrett and YMCA extend the limits of the area participating in the annual Halloween celebration.

Brought Up

The executive committee of the Council referred the subject to the regular monthly meeting of the Council. This was brought up at Monday evening's meeting, when it was stated that at the Halloween time next year programs be set up to keep the young people in the Center or other housing for the fun sought by the youngsters on the occasion of Halloween.

It was also suggested that a planned program be built up through consultation, and further window decoration contests was suggested as one aid for the intended purpose. In this connection was the suggestion which some said required much consideration, with the idea in mind of not going beyond the capacity of the council to take care of the situations attendant upon such a program.

It is expected that reports will continue to be made on the recommendation to extend the limits of the Halloween party until the Council feels that it has ample information to guide it in its decision.

Pastor Broke Ground For New Modern Educational Building Adding To Church's Effectiveness

Rev. Carlton J. Sutorius, pastor of Emmanual Lutheran Church, 80 E. Markison-av, last Sunday conducted the service in association with the breaking of ground for the new educational building which has been in the form of something for "the future" for some time, but, now, the pastor said, has come into being.

The ground-breaking ceremony brought to the congregation the president of the building committee, a representative of the architects, Ramsey Croce & Abbot, and representative of the Don H. Hussey Co., contractor.

Ritual Program

The following ritual program was followed as a prelude to the actual breaking of the ground signifying the beginning of the structure which has looked large in the hopes of the congregation for some time. The program of responsive reading

Pastor: Whosoever heareth these sayings of mine and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock.

Congregation: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon the house; and it fell not, for it was founded upon a rock.

Pastor: And everyone that heareth these sayings of mine and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand.

Congregation: And the rain descended, and the floods came and the winds blew and beat upon that house; and it fell and great was the fall thereof.

Pastor: Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy.

Congregation: Break up you fallow ground for it is time to seek the Lord, till He come and rain righteousness upon you.

Pastor: That the glorious faith in Jesus Christ as Savior and Redeemer may be remembered and within us strengthened and from us caused to shine in the lives of our children.

Congregation: We break this ground.

Pastor: That by thought, word, and deed we may more abundantly serve our Lord and our fellowmen.

Congregation: We break this ground.

Pastor: That we with joy may learn more of His love and come to teach others of His saving power.

Congregation: We break this ground.

All: Bless us this day, O Lord, and guide us in thy paths that what we here begin today may be all to Thine honor and glory, both now and forever. Amen.

"Then shall the spade be put into the ground and the ground broken and we shall know that a good work is well begun."

Large Operation

This is one of the largest financial undertaking in the recent church life of the South Side community, it was stated. Pastor Sutorius announced that the total cost of the new educational building will be $90,000, and that the new building will connect the church building with the present parish house.

The two architect's sketches show the large area which will be covered by the new structure as it makes possible more space for Sunday school and other educational activities. Youth activities are expected to center in the new building, the congregation's youth program being in constant expansion, a member of the church told the reporter.

Start Soon

Although the Leader had no confirmation from the contractor nor from the church authorities, informed sources said it was believed that the beginning of the work is imminent, although it is likely that completion may be delayed because of possible severe winter weather. Everyone agrees that the undertaking has the good will of the public at large, as well as the enthusiastic support of members of Emmanuel Lutheran's congregation.

Yule Party To Be Held Earlier

Mrs. A. H. Bergener, president, Dorcas Missionary Society of Emmanual Lutheran Church, has announced that the group's annual Christmas party will be held Thursday, Dec. 5, at the church, earlier than usual.

The Wernle Orphans Home in Richmond, Ind., will receive gifts brought by members to this meeting, the president said, adding that the Home of Mercy in Williston, Ohio, also will be aided by gifts provided at this Christmas party.

The officers of the society will be in charge of the luncheon, which will be served at 12 o'clock, Mrs. Bergener said.

Following the luncheon, devotions, Bible study, and a business meeting will be held. Mrs. Delores Humes will give the devotions and Pastor Sutorious will present the Bible study.

Safer Now

It was reported that cross walks have been painted and that a traffic liht for school children's crossing is under consideration.

Lollipop 'Tree' At Hoermle's

Bill Hoermle eyes his newest feature, "The Lollipop Tree". Bill, Jr., created this tree especially for the kids, so that they can pick out their own sucker of a flavor of their choice. All the kids have to do is come in with their parents and pick a pop from the tree.

This new and novel way of dispensing suckers was built by Bill, Jr., and, according to him, is just another way of providing the newest and most unusual things, either for sale or for free in the South Side. Hoermle's Appliance is located at 1894 Parsons-av and carries a full line of appliances, toys, hardware and television.

Thanksgiving Is Turkey Time

The month has arrived when most American families begin to think of Thanksgiving and a big, plump, juicy turkey roasted to a golden brown with a savory dressing, cranberries and all the other trimmings. Turkey for Thanksgiving has become as much a tradition as Thanksgiving itself. According to the Agricultural Extension Service there is a plentiful supply of turkeys at reasonable prices this year. This is especially true of the larger sized birds.

In order to have a good turkey the homemaker must know what to look for in shopping for the "big bird." The first decision she has to make is what size to buy. The most desirable size of turkey for a particular family will depend upon the family size, storage facilities and family preferences. In terms of cost per pound, the larger sized birds are the most economical. These birds cost less per pound and, in turn, yield more meat in proportion to bone. Regardless of the family requirements, there will be a size to fit the need of the family, large or small.

Less than 12 pounds—¾ to 1 pound per serving.

Twelve pounds and over—½ to ¾ pound per serving. Large meat-type birds will yield about two-thirds white meat and one-third dark meat.

The small family, or one with limited refrigerator or freezer space, may want to consider purchasing their Thanksgiving turkey in: halves, quarters, cut-up, or by the piece—legs, breasts, etc. Frozen stuffed, ready-to-roast turkeys are available on most markets. Follow the packer's instructions for defrosting, care, and cooking.

Another important aspect in shopping is to select a good quality turkey which will have the following characteristics:

- Moist, pliable, waxy skin with few pinfeathers
- No bruises or discoloration.
- Short body, broadbreast, thick-meated thighs.
- Well distributed layers of fat under the skin.

Knowing how to handle the turkey after it has been brought home is also necessary in order to assure the homemaker of good results on Thanksgiving Day. Fresh turkey will keep two to three days in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Wrap it loosely in aluminum foil, parchment paper, or waxed paper before refrigeration.

Frozen turkey should be kept frozen until it is to be cooked. Allow sufficient time for defrosting. Defrost in the refrigerator. Allow two or three days to defrost a whole bird and one to two days for the small, whole bird.

Prompt cooking after thawing is best. Stuff the bird just before roasting.

Cooker turkey should be stored in the refrigerator. Separate the stuffing from the bird and wrap or cover each separately before placing in the refrigerator.

Happy shopping for your Thanksgiving turkey.

Well, Mr. Turkey, live it up this week, for you'll soon have a date with a plate of stuffing and cranberries! The women of the WSCS of Thurman-av Methodist Church are busy today preparing their annual turkey dinner for the 5-7 p.m. serving. Mrs. Thurman DeVore is chairman and Mrs. Robert Cheshir Sr. is the co-chairman.

Mrs. E. E. McAtee, 918 Berkeley-rd, was hostess on Tuesday to Group B of the OSU Mothers' Club. The group met at noon for a dessert luncheon. Assisting Mrs. McAtee were Mrs. William Champion, Mrs. A. A. Sebastian, and Mrs. Willard Hussey.

Cheery greeting cards would be so appropriate at this time for Mrs. McDaniels, 91 Woodrow-av. Mrs. McDaniels had the misfortune of breaking her hip and arm, when she took a tumble. Her room number in Mt. Carmel Hospital is Room 721.

Judy and Dohrman Frye, 1660 S. 4th-st, will soon be enjoying a vacation and we hope they have a fine time.

Paper hat and noisemaker time for those youngsters . . . Nancy Kitts, 63 Innis-av, Nov. 22; Cathleen Gibson, 1625 S. 8th-st, Nov. 25; Gary Stone, 146 E. Innis-av, Nov. 23; Patrick Smalley, 34 Woodrow-av, Nov. 26; Christine Gibson, 1625 S. 8th-st, Nov. 25; Vonda DeBoard 33 E. Innis-av, Nov. 26; Thomas Ellis, 225 Southwood-av, Nov. 27; Ronald Beck, 1463 S. 4th-st, Nov. 28; David Gibbs, 176 Frebis, Nov. 31; Sally Edwards, 78 E. Morrill-av, Nov. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jergens, 623 E. Moler are eagerly anticipating Nov. 26, for on that date they will be flying from Columbus to visit their daughter, Imogene Osborne, and her family. Imogene will be leaving for Germany shortly after her folks Dec. 11 departure for the Midwest. The Osbornes will be in Germany for three years, as Mr. Osborne is in the armed services. They had previously spent a tour of duty in Japan, so they really have seen lots of this old globe. Perhaps some of Imogene's South High School friends would like to send her messages, so why not call her mother at HI. 4-2886, and send them along; she'll gladly oblige.

Guild 32, South Methodist Church, meets at 10 a.m. today in Henderson Hall.

Our sympathy at this time to the family of Harley Hicks, who passed away last week.

PTA land news . . . Hayl-av meets 7:30 tonight, and the State School Girls Choir will furnish the entertainment. Lloyd Ferguson, special services director at Columbus State School, will have as his topic "Let's Count Our Blessings."

Rev. Anthony Becker will talk on "Sex Education for Catholic Children" when members of St. Ladislaus PTA meet tonight at 8 p.m.

A combined PTA meeting and bazaar will be held at Mohawk tomorrow night at 8 p.m. Sheriff Stacy Hall will speak and the Singing Sheriffs will provide the entertainment in the PTA portion of the evening, with the bazaar to be held immediately after.

Lincoln Park PTA convenes this afternoon at 1:30 in the school auditorium. The meeting topic will be "To Insure Domestic Tranquility." A movie on tolerance and unity will be shown with an open discussion following.

Barrett Junior High PTA will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight. Guest speaker, Collis Young, station manager of WCOL will have as his topic, "Positive Approach To Radio, TV, and Newspaper." The Senior Girls Glee Club will sing.

Evelyn Karen Bier, 1418 Miller-av, reached her "sweet 16" birthday Tuesday, Nov. 19, so our best wishes to the South High co-ed. Another South High junior who has a birthday this week is Sharon Dodson, 292 Innis-av, with Nov. 23 as her birthdate.

The South unit of the League of Women Voters will be meeting Tuesday, Nov. 26, in the home of Mrs. Paul Lenox, 1411 S. 6th-st. Mrs. William Durham will be the discussion leader and Miss Arline Zonder will be the resource person. The Federal Loyalty security program will be discussed. The meeting is open to all, but do call the hostess at HI. 4-1051, so she'll be expecting you.

Mrs. D. H. Gruber, 653 Stanley-av recently returned from a visit with her daughter and grandsons in East Lansing, Mich. Her daughter is Wilma Farmer and the boys are Michael and Jeffrey.

Members of the South Church of Christ congregation are busy making arrangements for the week-long celebration of the 50th year of the Woodrow and Bruck-st Church. The week will commence on Dec. 1 and continue until Dec. 8. The Homecoming is scheduled for 2 p.m. on Dec. 1, to accomodate those coming from a distance. Three of the charter members have been found and one of them, Joseph K. Newlun, celebrated his 97th birthday on Nov. 10. The other two charter members still living are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Throckmorton, who now reside in Chillicothe. Rev. Mulkins promised to give us further details, so we'll be passing them on when we get them.

A progressive euchre party will be sponsored by the PTA and PCCW of St. Mary's School, 585 S. 3rd-st, Tuesday, Nov. 26. There will be prizes and door prizes for the lucky ones that evening. The party will be held in the downstairs serving room.

A South Side resident for many years, Mrs. Homer Doty, is quite ill at this time, so I'm sure her many, many Columbus friends will want to send cheery messages to her California home. Her address is 9414 Woodruff, Temple City, Calif. Do get well, Mrs. Doty. (To those who know her daughter better, Mrs. Doty is Willa Davis' mother).

Societies of St. Leo's Parish are sponsoring their annual chicken and noodle dinner, Sunday, Nov. 24, in the school hall, from 12 noon to 6 p.m. Committee heads are: dining room, Mrs. Arnold Plageman; general chairman, Mrs. Clifford Lewis; tickets and publicity, Mrs. Anthony Ebelberger; dining room, Mrs. Morris Diamond; cleanup and refreshments, Michael Strelecky and Andrew Theado.

Little Barbara Davis, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Willie Davis 1460 S. 4th-st, has been a sick girl and spent most of last week in Children's Hospital. We do hope she is on the road to recovery now.

Happy silver anniversary to Pete and Dorothy Kessler, 174 E. Molar-st, who achieved this event on Nov. 19. Just in time to help her grandparents celebrate this big event, the youngest Kessler joined the family circle a few weeks ago. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kessler, 174½ E. Moler. And, so Johnny won't feel left out, we'll wish him belated birthday greetings!

The instrumental department of South High School will present the annual variety show tomorrow night.

Two birthday parties we know about, and not a one of the four celebrants had a Nov. birthday! Florence Spickler, 580 Moler-st had a September birthday and the seven other members of her birthday club honored her last week. This birthday club is unique, for it has been functioning for 20 years! (None of the gals could claim she was "sweet 16" in that club, could she? Maybe 31?) The other shindig honored Lana Itskin's Oct. 12 birthday, Paul Lenox's Oct. 13 and Bill Kaufman's Dec. 15 "getting old" dates. Nellie, Bill's spouse, was determined to surprise him, and she really did. (At last year's affair, he

Southwood's Six-Graders Go To Mercy To View Germs Via Microscope's Safety

Learning About Germs

Curiosity about germs brought the above-pictured group of sixth graders from Southwood Elementary School to Mercy Hospital to get a look at germs. The visit resulted from a visit by a few youngsters who told Mercy Superintendent Beard, "We are studying germs in school, so please let us come here and look at the germs." Since it would not be safe for the children to just "mess" around with germs, Mercy's medical technologist, M. T. Thogmarten, worked out a plan which would permit the children to observe germs under control and without danger of infection. The sixth-graders, after listening and looking, concluded that looking at those ugly germs with a microscope was much better and safer than uncontrolled "messin' around" with them.

Martin Luther Ladies Elect New Officers

The Martin Luther Ladies Aid has announced the election of the following officers: President, Mrs. Richard J. Brown; vice-president, Mrs. Charles Miller; secretary, Mrs. Richard Gahn; treasurer, Mrs. John Factor. The new officers will be installed in January.

The November meeting of the Martin Luther Ladies Aid was held at the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, 99 N. Front-st, according to the report. After a short business meeting, Mrs. John Factor conducted a "Special Needs Worship Service." This service informed those in attendance of the needs of the various Lutheran Homes for the aged, orphan children, and pastor's retirement.

The hostess of the Gas Company then gave a cooking demonstration of trimmings for a Christmas dinner.

The 36th annual Twig Bazaar will be held Monday, Nov. 25, on the mezzanine of the Neil House. For lots of clever Christmas gift items, why not plan to attend? The bazaar will be held from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Stertzer, Albuquerque, N.M., are the parents of a boy born Nov. 11. The Stertzers will return to Columbus in December, a fact which will make their friends very happy.

Mrs. Maurice Goldstein, 1174 Linwood-av merits congratulations for being elected treasurer of the ARC Advisory Board.

Our Gifts for Giving project has its first "responder" to thank Jerri Ross, 746 Thurman-av, heads the 1957 list, and we are grateful. Remember, it is not necessary to donate money or even to buy new things. The new, unneeded items we all have in our homes can help to bring happiness to the patients at Benjamin Franklin Hospital. This is the set-up; we collect the items, take them to the patients, who in turn can use them as "gifts to give" to their loved ones. We KNOW they get the things, as we put them into their hands. The surplus goes to Franklin Village and Orient, so a big part of Franklin County benefits from our thoughtfulness, and you're not asked to dig into your pocket. (We just assume everyone is i.. the Gadabout's "boat," or is it a liner, to accomodate us all?) Childrens items are particularly needed, naturally. However, the patients like to remember husbands and wives, too, so you see practically ANYTHING is appropriate and appreciated. Our "doll lady" Mrs. Bier, is still dressing her dollies, so if you have a discarded doll, won't you let her have it? She lives at 742 E. Gates-st, and her phone is HI. 4-4083.

That's all for this week, so either for "Gifts for Giving" or news, the phone is as ever, HI. 4-1051.

Twigs Plan Biggest Benefit Bazaar Of Them All

Proceeds From Gigantic Sale To Benefit Children's Hospital

More than 2,500 women, all members of the Twigs of Children's Hospital, will cooperate in staging the biggest benefit bazaar of them all on Nov. 25. The annual Christmas event will be held at the Neil House, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on the mezzanine floor.

Proceeds from the bazaar are given to Children's Hospital. The women do not specify the manner in which the money is to be used, but request the hospital to administer the funds in the way which will benefit the most children.

Last year the bazaar produced $20,000 to help bridge the gap between hospital expenses and income.

Thousands of hand-made items suitable for Christmas gift-giving have been prepared by the women this year in anticipation of the annual affair. Items range from Christmas decorations, needlework, baked goods and candy to dolls, toys, furniture and jewelry.

The bazaar, biggest major money-making project of the year, is the one event in which all Twigs participate. In addition, individual Twigs conduct benefit projects of their own throughout the year.

Home Ahead For Tot After Operation

A four-year-old South Side girl who has had the health breaks against her since birth went home from the Children's Hospital Tuesday with a good heart and a brand-new chance at life.

The girl, Cheryl Barnett, who was a premature baby, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barnett, 2269 Lawndale-av. She underwent open heart surgery Nov. 8 to correct the congenital defects which would have prevented her from living a full, normal life.

One defect, known as pulmonary stenosis, was a constriction in the pulmonary artery which prevented full delivery of used blood to the lungs to pick up oxygen for distribution throughout the body. The second was an unclosed bypass in this same artery which is vital to prenatal life, but which normally closes at birth. This was causing recirculation of blood between the pulmonary artery and the aorta, or main artery, serving the circulatory system.

In the three-hour, 45-minute operation, a team of Children's Hospital surgeons—removed the excess tissue causing the constriction in the pulmonary artery and then closed the bypass.

During the surgery, Cheryl's circulation was maintained for 14 minutes by a heart-lung pump developed at the Ohio State University College of Medicine. For this particular operation it was not necessary to stop her heart, as it is for many open heart operations. Blood to prime the pump was supplied through the Red Cross.

As with other cases, diagnostic work was done in the Kinder Key Heart Laboratory at the Children's Hospital to pinpoint the cause of a heart murmur discovered during a medical examination. The Bremer Foundation of Youngstown provided the specialized equipment for much of the open-heart program which started last spring at Children's Hospital. A schedule of two open-heart operations a week has been maintained at the hospital.

Cheryl will not go immediately to her new home, a house just purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Barnett at the Lawndale-av address. She is to go to the home of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Nina Frazee, at 97 Woodrow-av for the customary rest-up period. After that she is expected to be as active as any four-year-old.

Needle, Thread Guild Elects New Officers

At the last meeting of the Needle and Thread Guild, the members elected their new officers for the coming year:

Mrs. Alex Fuleky, president; Mrs. John Komives, vice-president; Mrs. Alex Nagy, recording secretary; Mrs. Alex Komives, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Martin Finta, treasurer.

Mrs. Michel Bordy, president, announced the officers would be installed in January and take over their respective offices the second Tuesday of January.

Mrs. John Komives has full charge of the kitchen for this coming bazaar to be held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, Nov. 22, 23 and 24, assisted by the members of the Needle and Thread Guild. Hungarian foods and pastries will be served, it was announced.

Cakes and cookies made with honey remain moist. For each cup of honey substituted for a cup of sugar in delicate baked goods, reduce the liquid in the recipe by one-fourth cup. Use one-fourth to one-half teaspoon of soda for each cup of honey in addition to the baking powder.

Free Dance On Schiller Slate, 29th

The Teen-Club of Schiller Recreation Center will sponsor a Holiday Hop, dress-up dance, Friday, Nov. 29, from 8 to 11 p.m., in the auditorium of the Center. Music will be furnished by Bob Huskey's Band, through the courtesy of the Columbus Federation of Musicians, Local 103, in cooperation with the Music Performance Trust Fund.

There will be no charge for admission, and all South Siders are welcome to attend.

Rejoicing, Preparation At South Hi

Dave Vargo, South Hi School journalism class, told the South Side Leader that South High has completed its best football season in a number of years, with a 6-2-1 record and a second place tie with Aquinas in the City League.

According to Vargo, the Bulldogs started the season as a mediocre team, but increased their skills game by game, until a championship was not far away when the season closed.

Getting Ready

But time for gloating is past, the South High news writer told the Leader, and just ahead now is basketball. Coach Colmery, basketball coach for South High is working toward a hoped-for successful basketball season. South's first game will be at Portsmouth Nov. 29.

Dance To Be Held Dec. 7

Mrs. William Rosenauer, co-chairman of the Needle and Thread Guild Dance to be held Dec. 7 at Croatian Hall, has distributed the tickets and they can be obtained at the door or by calling HI. 4-1747 or ticket chairman, Mrs. Paul Barton, HI. 4-7581.

Mrs. Rose Grose, chairman of the dance, has lined up her chairmen for the various concessions: Mrs. John Finta, Mrs. Paul Barton, Mrs. Judy Cline, Mrs. Martin Finta, Sr., Mrs. Andrew Szekely, Mrs. Alex Santo, Mrs. John Hunyadi, Mrs. Michael Bordy, president.

Honey may be used measure for measure in place of sugar in preparing puddings, custards, pie fillings, baked apples, candied vegetables, salad dressings, cinnamon toast, breads and muffins.

If you enjoy music in your home, why play the same records over and over again? Borrow records from the collection of more than 3000 albums at your Columbus Public Library, 96 S. Grant-av.

Seasons Mixed-Up

Lithopolis Pea-Patch Booms Again

Garden peas sometimes get their seasons mixed. Bright and sunny ,warm, fall days, cool nights and some rain—and here you have it.

Mrs. Virgina Behrens, who lives on the high hill road bending up out of Lithopolis, planted her garden last spring. She picked an early summer pea crop, too. Then disced down the plants, made garden room for her tomatoes.

Pea life lay fallow in the soil. With the coming of our long pleasant autumn, the plants started to grow; bloomed again, set pods, filled-out.

A crop for Thanksgiving?

Mrs. Behrens picked one small mess, week before last. Then came two cold mornings. The freeze did what frost couldn't.

"We were gypped out of our second crop," Mrs. Behrens said.

The peas almost made it, but not quite. The pods lay thick beneath full blooming two-foot plants last Friday — the first day of hunting season.

Mrs. Behrens, shown here with her son Duane, and daughter Bonnie, thought you'd like to see what mixed-up garden peas could do.

Reports Of Unsafe School Houses Just A Fuss; Cooperation Promised

The fuss made last week when several new school houses were declared unsafe by city building inspectors, has been quieted this week by both parties to the issue.

An effort for cooperation has been declared by both the city officials and the school board architects.

The office of Assistant Safety Director William L. Lehman acknowledged that investigations had been made, said that "trouble shooters" had been assigned to the job, but declined to say again that school houses were "unsafe."

"We have a job to do," he said. "We'll get it done if given a chance."

He had previously lodged an official complaint against school construction built in the $85 million system during the last two years.

"Reports of violations and pending official action have been exaggerated," he said when questioned early this week.

The Heimendale school building on Koebel-rd, completed in 1955, was one of those cited for poor construction.

Architects in the offices of the city board of education similarly declined to put more voice to the fuss.

"If our construction needs correction, we're correcting it," one man said.

"There is no great problem," he added. "We have provided over 200 new classrooms for our schools since last February. They're safe; and we have enjoyed good cooperation with the city building heads."

The code by which both groups work was adopted for all state school construction some years ago.

S. High Viaduct Improvement Is Near Completion

The $75,000 improvement job being given the S. High-st viaduct is almost completed, City Engineer Robert Werner said Monday.

The four lanes of the 50-ft wide street are now open for traffic, but cleaning and painting underneath the 43-year-old span continues. If weather continues bad, the job may not be finished by the end of the week. Officials had hoped to get everything done by Wednesday.

Construction of the new bridge floor is asphalt and concrete was done a section at a time so traffic could continue.

The cost of the improvements was shared by the city, the New York - Central and Chesapeake and Ohio Railroads.

Apartment House Construction Set For Courtright-rd

A $2 million apartment project has been approved for the north side of Livingston-av at Courtright-rd by the City Planning Commission.

The project will engulf about 32 acres, have 50 buildings, each housing four to six families, and a park and recreation area.

Cost of the buildings is said to be about $40,000 each.

The land is now zoned for single dwellings. A request for rezoning has been filed with Columbus City Council.

Local Church Observes Its Half-Century Mark

Week-Long Anniversary At S. Church Of Christ To Attract Many

Rev. Clarence D. Mulkin, minister of the South Church of Christ, Woodrow and Bruck-sts, has announced the program to be used in the church next Sunday, Dec. 1, during the observance of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the church.

Beginning with usual church school at 9 a.m., which will be followed at 10 a.m. by the regular morning worship service, the program moves into the afternoon.

Clevelander Speaker

A Clevelander will be the special speaker at the 10 o'clock morning service, according to the pastor, Rev. Mulkin. The speaker from Cleveland is Richard Felton, associate secretary of the Ohio Christian Missionary Society. Although the exact subject has not been announced, the speaker will cover the growth and influence of the church during a long history, it was said.

Rev. Allen R. Huber

Homecoming Service

One of the highlights of the observance will come in the afternoon observance period, when the speaker will be a former member. He is Allen R. Huber, minister, First Christian Church, Jackson, O. He represents the United Christian Church Missionary Society of Indianapolis, Ind. The homecoming service will begin at 2 p.m.

There will be introduction of charter members, according to the program, with greetings being presented from visiting ministers and friends.

Music will be provided for the afternoon service by the Broad Street Christian Church choir, of which Foster McElfresh, Jr., is director.

Moves Into Monday

The Monday phase of the fiftieth anniversary of South Church of Christ begins at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. Gaines M. Cook, Indianapolis, Ind., speaking. Minister Mulkin told the newsman that Mrs. Cook is "eminently qualified to present her subject, "Strange Places and Friendly People." This is so, among other reasons, according to Minister Mulkins, because Mrs. Cook and her husband, who is executive secretary of the International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) had a leave of absence from their duties and made a trip by plane around the world, visiting and studying mission fields. This trip, plus much other personal experience in mission fields provides a "rich background for an entertaining and highly informative talk," according to Minister Mulkins.

Music for the evening's program will be supplied by Monroe Avenue Christian Church Choir, Mrs. Mildred Blackwell, director.

Tuesday Evening

Clair Chapel Methodist Chancel Choir, with Mrs. R. H. Streaty directing, will feature "Community Night," which will be the subject of an address by Rudy Thomas, minister, Central Community Church.

Wednesday night finds "old-timers" glorified by a historical play, "Salt of the Earth," according to the program. The hour: 7:30.

Illinois Speaker

The speaker for Thursday evening comes from Illinois. He is Donald L. Ashton, minister, First Christian Church, of Harvey, Ill. He is the son of the late George L. Ashton, minister of the South Church of Christ for 10 years, from 1922 to 1932. As a young man he was very active in community activities. This will be his first visit back to South Church in many years.

The subject has not been announced but the Harvey man's reputation, it was said, "justifies the highest expectation in his address."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Daab of First Christian Church, McArthur, O., will be in charge of a song service. Music will be by the Wilson Avenue Christian Church Choir, directed by Russell Dugan.

Friday, Dec. 6

Friday evening and Sunday evening will be the final for the historic observance, the pastor said. Harry E. Smith, associate secretary, Ohio Christian Missionary Society, Cleveland, will speak at the evening service, which begins at 7:30 o'clock. Benfield Avenue Church of Christ Choir, directed by Clyde Friedlinghaus, will provide music.

Closing

Homer P. Gamboe, missionary to India, will be the speaker Sunday, Dec. 8, at 10 a.m., at the worship service.

The climax of the week-long program will be the Golden Anniversary banquet at 6 p.m. Sunday, when the speaker will be Floyd Faust, minister of Broad Street Christian Church.

Stark Shelves, Oppressed Farms Are Vivid In Refugee's Memory

Surrounded by symbols of America's abundance, Sandor Toth, newly-arrived Hungarian refugee, pauses on Thanksgiving day to recall the confusion of his revolution-torn country just one year ago. An employe of Chubby Distelhorst Market, 2445 W. Broad st, he had worked as a grocery clerk in his native Hungary, before emigrating to Columbus in August.

By Betty Daft

Sandor Toth, refugee farmer and grocery clerk from Hungary, will join his new American neighbors today in celebrating our national holiday with a true appreciation of the meaning of Thanksgiving . . . freedom from oppression and gratitude for plenty.

Sharp differences between an American grocery and the one in his native village make his new way of life seem much farther away than the miles of a dividing ocean and continent.

Sponsored by the Catholic National Welfare Association, he, his wife and month-old daughter are residents of 768 S. 17th-st. The family fled their country after the revolution, reached Austria, and were finally able to reach America three months ago.

Life on an impoverished Hungarian farm and the duties of a grocery clerk in a village of 3,000 are far removed from their new way of living.

He describes the contrast between American stores and those in Hungary with, "Only sardines, fish and processed meats were canned; cereals are unknown and flour and sugar are measured from bins for each customer. There was no fresh meat to sell, nor even refrigeration to keep it; our store could not afford an ice chest.

Grocers Given Allotments

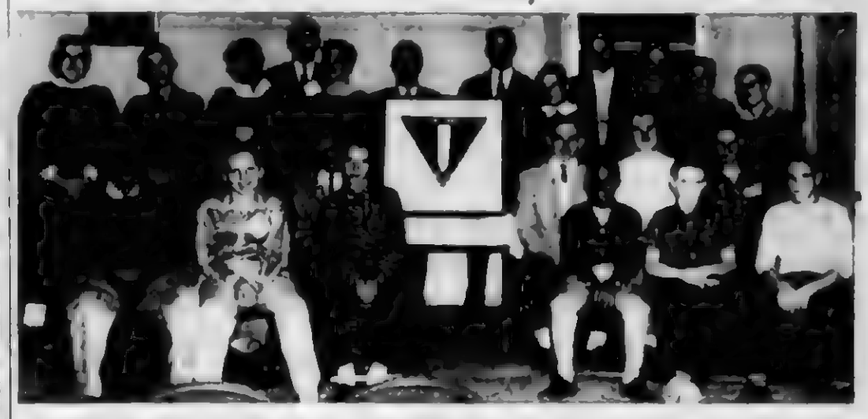
"A grocer never ordered what he needed, but just accepted what was sent to him."

Under the Russian regime, farms throughout Hungary are given quotas of produce, based on acreage, for the government's share.

Sandor described his family's contribution from their four acres as, "In addition to supporting eight people, our farm must produce a share for the government. Each year we had to give 15 dozen eggs, 16 pounds chicken, one fat duck, 36 pounds pork, 72 pounds beef, 360 litres milk, and 750 pounds grain.

"Peasant farmers, taking produce and meat to town for sale were required to stop first and show to a Communist official what they had for sale. He would check the farmer's account and many times find that all he had was owed to the government."

Arrived On Holiday



Mr. and Mrs. Toth arrived in America on Aug. 20, traditional Hungarian feast day honoring St. Stephen.

The festival, honorinf the Christian King Stephen of Hungary has come in modern times to be observed during the "Festival Of New Bread," the country's celebration of good harvest.

At festival time, Hungarian peasants decorate their community hall with great bunches of grapes and other fruits, bake symbolic bread from the first wheat of the new harvest, and dance in their native costume.

St. Stephen is still remembered by the people and his symbol, the crown, is honored. Even in their kitchens, Hungarian women cling to their Christian heritage by impressing the crown symbol on cakes baked for the Festival of New Bread.

Jr. Hi-Y Group Is Inducted Ohio-Av Church Ceremony

Pictured above are the inductees and program participants of the South Side Branch YMCA Junior Hi-Y induction. The ritual took place at Ohio Avenue EUB Church on the evening of Nov. 12, before parents and members of the Barrett and Roosevelt Clubs. Eleven boys were inducted into their respective clubs by the officers of the combined clubs, who conducted the ritual and worship service

Guest speaker for the occasion was Harold Washburn, principal of Roosevelt Junior High School, who challenged the boys to live by their Hi-Y purpose and let it guide them in the uncertain future. He spoke of the great advances and adjustments that have been made during his generation, and told the boys to be ready to see just as great an advancement in their lives to come.

They Work Hard To Serve Well!

Lions Look To Prowl Date To Garner Funds For Aid

Carrying on the usual benevolences, Southeast Lions Club members will be on the go Friday night, Dec. 6, when they hustle hard for the privilege of extending benevolences in directions which otherwise would be left untouched, according to a spokesman familiar with the humane activities of the Lions group over a period of a number of years.

What will the men called "Lions" in our midst be doing on the evening and into the night on Dec. 6? Well, they'll be filling up their financial account so they may do good through the coming year. This, as is well-known, is an annual custom, and many is the child or parents of the South Side who see and hear things in schools of the area which they could not have and see and hear were it not for the support of Mr. and Mrs. You of the area give to their work by the once-a-year purchase of the "Lions Roar," the annual, one-time publication.

On the Prowl

When the Southeast Lions go on the prowl one night in each December, there is a moving spirit which augurs well for hundreds, thousands of children in the schools of the community. Among the gifts to schools are recording machines and moving pictures — and whatever a school's greatest needs may call for.

Then there is another field which the public is not familiar with — the help to many whose eyesight is failing and who can see only if provided with proper lenses. The Lions to the 'front, again! For in almost silent activity they provide eyeglasses to make many a person competent to keep on holding his job. They are distributors of happy results and are blessed by literally thousands of people who have been helped by Lions.

Their Mission

When the Southeast Lions "go on the prowl" they have a definite and beautiful purpose: they are out to sell the "Lions Roar", which is the once-a-year newspaper devoted exclusively to the aid of mankind—including little people as well as grown-up needy people.

Regardless of the weather, regardless of other attractions, great numbers of men go willingly and happily to "the fray"—they go, one told this writer, because in "our feeble efforts" we are spreading happiness through removing handicaps under which many suffer. So, regardless of rain or snow, or sleet — iced streets or clean streets, out they go . . . ringing doorbells.

No Price Set

This writer was curious about how much people pay for the newspaper "The Lions Roar." Curiosity sent him out to follow many Lions around, and found that seldom ever is a Lion-on-the-prowl offered less than $1.00. In one instance the householder where a Lion had rung the doorbell came to the door with a five-dollar bill in his hand. When the Lion said he was sorry because he had no change, the householder said to him, "Lion, be brave; you dispense charity and helpfulness. Then don't be afraid to ask for five dollars. Now be on with you and garner more 5 and 10-dollars for each copy of your valuable Lions Roar."

Price In Love

As a matter of fact, that man was right, and he showed his appreciation for such an organization as the Lions. Lions can at their leisure, when they have it, reflect upon the multitude of acts of helpfulness done by the Lions . . .

. . . For that, the world is happy, including so many of those who have benefited when the kindnesses of millions who through the years have been buying the Lions Roar at from a dollar to five and ten, per copy, although Lions never set a price on the Lions Roar. .

A price can't be set except in tht amount which is prompted by those who have experienced the benefits of the work of Lions —except for the call of the heart to the conscience when the Lions Roar man comes to your door.

Keep a porch light burning, Friday evening, Dec. 6, which is next week. A happy feeling awaits those who give generously.

Nativity Scene Used Again To Tell Christmas Story

Services akin to those of last year when the South Side YMCA Young People's Inter-Church Council, with cooperation of the South Side Ministerial Association, the Council of South Side Organizations, and Schiller Recreation Center, sponsored a program at Schiller Park observing the birth of Christ in song and scene. "This replaced the former community Christmas tree lighting program and proved quite successful in really ushering in the Christmas season," according to Miss Ruth Storch, Young People's Inter-Church Council Advisor.

Again this year, such a program is being planned, and five meeting points for the starting of the program will be designated. The program will begin with these groups simultaneously approaching the one central point where the Nativity scene will be enacted and the Christmas story told in song and scene, with everyone participating in the carol singing.

"We have extended a cordial invitation to all the various churches, schools, and organizations to participate in this carol sing," Miss Storch said, adding the program will begin at 6 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 8, and will last no longer than 45 minutes.

Any church or organization wanting to participate should contact the South Side YMCA 864 S. Third-st, or telephone HI. 4-2151.

Since this is a "no jeans or levis" dance the girls will be attired in dresses or skirts and blouses and the boys in dress pants and shirts. Dress levis will be acceptable.

Bob Huskey's Band will provide the music for the evening. Bob Huskey is a South Side boy who has made good in the music field, and his band is furnished through the courtesy of the Columbus Federation of Musicians and the Music Performance Trust Fund, Tom Crawshaw, Center director, said.

The Schiller Auditorium will be decorated in the best dancing fashion, according to Jeanne Williams, staff advisor to the group. She also states that there will be refreshments available.

Thanksgiving Day festivities for alumni of St. Mary's High School are really exciting. In addition to the usual sort of things that the rest of us indulge in, the former S. Third-streeters will hold their annual alumni dance, 9 to 12:30, in the school auditorium. Ray Cincione's orchestra will play for the semi-formal affair. Some of the committee members working on the project are Mr. and Mrs. John Magaw, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rau, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Schultz and Mrs. James Messer.

Wedding bells have rung recently for these three young couples, so congratulations are in order: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Krieger, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Caridas, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur A. Storing, Jr. Robert Krieger is a South High and Ohio State graduate the latter school also being the alma mater of his bride. After the Nov. 23 exchange of nuptials, the Kriegers left for Miami Beach, Fla., on a honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside at 348 Mayfair-blvd. Mrs. Krieger is the former Nancy Carol Roberts of Zanesville. Before her Nov. 9 wedding day, Mrs. William Caridas was Miss Dortha Hilt, 1082 S. 22nd-st. Dr. Floyd Faust performed the 2:30 p.m. rites. The Caridas spent their honeymoon in the Catskill Mountains in New York. Mr. Caridas is an announcer at WHOK, Lancaster. They are making their residence at 1605 Huxley-dr. South High graduate Wilbur A. Storing had the distinction of having his father-in-law perform the wedding ceremony when he and Miss Ardythe Stockhausen exchanged their Nov. 17 vows in Pasadena, Calif. Mrs. Storing had originally been a resident of Jamaica, B.W.I. The Storings will be Columbus residents after Nov. 29.

Becky Campbell, 1745 S. 8th-st, became a young lady of seven on Nov. 19, but seven of her friends gathered two days previously to help her mark the occasion. The little friends were Deena Markus, Cheryl Cripe, Danny Besty, Herby Beaty, Shirley Hambrick, Carolyn Hambrick and Karen Bias.

Barbara Davis, the seven-year-old whose illness we reported recently, has a long siege of bedrest before her, and we do hope that cheery cards will find their way to 1460 S. 4th-st. Barbara's illness has been diagnosed as rheumatic fever, so she will lead an inactive life for at least two months. Barbara's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Willie Davis, want to thank all the kind folks who have already remembered their youngster.

The thinclads will soon be playing basketball, so we'll hope for successful seasons for all the schools in the area. Don't know the opening dates for the other schools, but the South High Bulldogs initiate their season tomorrow night with Portsmouth as their opponent. (Thinking of the lean and lanky look of most basketball players, maybe the name Bulldogs should be changed to Greyhounds for the basket shooters, hm?)

Mary Eichel, 1341 S. Third-st, celebrated another anniversary of her 39th birthday on Nov. 17

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Rinehart of Lockbourne will observe the 50th anniversary of their marriage on Dec. 7 with an open house from 1 to 5 and 6 to 8. Their actual wedding anniversary was Nov. 27. Included in the family circle are eight children, 19 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Birthday news from the younger set . . . Carol Penwell, 26 W. Welch-av, Nov. 25; Mary Poeschal, 329 E. Jenkins-av, Dec. 3; Daniel Delgarn, 1482 S. High-st, Nov. 24; Patricia Bowen, 1522 S. High-st, Dec. 1; Jeri Ross, 310 Jenkins-av, Nov. 29; Paul George, 1425 S. Fourth-st, Dec. 4; Eddie Travis, Gantz-rd, Dec. 4; Betty Travis, Gantz-rd, Dec. 4; Naomi Scott, 102 Woodrow-av, Dec. 3; Sharon Ross, 310 Jenkins-av, Dec. 1; Beverly Wray, 1615 S. Wall-st, Dec. 4; Keith Fillinger, 268 Jenkins-av, Dec. 4; Robert Rice, 175 E. Jenkins-av, Nov. 30; Bob Castle, 85 E. Moler-st, Dec. 2.

The first wave of the flu outbreak presented the PVA of Orient from holding their November meeting, so Dr. Lloyd Covault, the assistant superintendent, will be addressing the members this Sunday instead. Meeting tim is 2 p.m. Board members will convene a half hour earlier. Mr. Fyler, head of the PVA, sent the Gadabout a list of items appropriate for the mentally retarder at Orient, so anyone interested in thinking of these patients, Christmaswise, we'll give the information if you call us at HI. 4-1051.

The Columbus Wellesley Club will be presenting a "Prevue of Christmas" Tuesday, Dec. 3, from 1 to 5 p.m. Tickets for the tea and tour may be reserved by calling Mrs. Moulton, TU. 9-8727; Mrs. Jonata, HU. 8-8276, or Mrs. Greene, BE. 1-4462.

Nov. 21 and Nov. 28 were the birth dates of Fritzie Weichers, 236 E. Moler-st; Cathy Sergio, 1180 Gilbert-st, so our best to both of them.

The Re-Hi-Go Horizon Club girls met Nov. 19 for a panel discussion meeting in the home of their leader, Mrs. Michael Skobrak, 1593 Oakwood-av. Under discussion was the well-known phrase, "I'll do it anyway, I'm only hurting myself." The two speakers, Mrs. Walter Denney and Mrs. Pat Hatton, discoursed on the fallacy of the statement, religiously and in matters of career. Thirty girls were in attendance plus their leaders. Refreshments marked the end of the evening.

We do hope that the patients at Benjamin Franklin Hospital have been in your thoughts during this season. Remember, we're not asking for cash donations—just the nice "white elephant" type things that you have no need for, so the patients can give them to their loved ones as Christmas remembrances. If you care to bring happiness to these patients, call us at HI. 4-1051; we'll gladly pick up your contribution. (That's our news-taking number, too, you know.) Till next week then, 'tis

no one told Sad Sack about
WANT ADS . . .

Don't be like Sad Sack. He's tired of looking at the old stove and washing machine in his basement. He sure would like to sell them and use that money to help pay for the new ones his wife bought two months ago. He told his friends about them but they didn't tell him about classified ads.

Sad Sack also rents the upstaris apartment in his house, but right now it's empty. Funny thing, no one's even come to look at it and he has a sign in the front window. Someone should tell him about classified ads.

Sad Sack is a good repair man and he has a lot of spare time. He's repaired everything in the neighborhood and now spends his spare time looking gloomy. He loves to repair things, any thing. Classified ads could make him a busy man again.

Sad Sack needs another car. He can't afford a new one right now, so he would like to find a good used car. He's searched and searched, but all in vain. He can't find what he's looking for on the used car lots. He should get assistance from classified ads.

Local Man Takes Dream Safari to Africa

By ROD COCHRAN

A big game safari in Africa is the fond dream of every hunter, and his dream came true for Robert Richards of Darbycrest during the first two weeks in September. Richards, a West Franklin county attorney, is well known in this area for his photography and I had the pleasure the other evening of viewing some of 2,000 photographs taken on his trip.

Actually, Mr. Richards was in Africa six weeks and he spent most of this time traveling and taking photographs in parks, where wild animals walk around almost like they were in a zoo. They are quite wild, of course, and Richards reports it was very exciting to watch the many and varied animals of Africa in their native environment. The only protection in these parks is to stay in the automobile—with only a car door or windshield separating you from, say an elephant, lion, or rhino.

Took Tub, Tablecloth Too

Richards outfitted for his safari in Nairobi. His white hunter was young, but experienced, and the 13 boys were experts at tracking game and setting up camps. A safari today carries most of the conveniences of life, including a canvas bathtub and a refrigerator. Even a tablecloth is provided for dinner every evening.

The safari traveled about 250 miles northeast of Nairobi, and the hunting was done along the equator. The plains of Kenya are where vast herds of grazing animals live along with the predators, lions and leopards, and the scavenger hyenas. According to Robert, the multitudes of animals are almost beyond belief. His hunting license entitled him to take 76 pieces of game, but he shot far less than this.

Takes Leopard

The second animal he shot in Africa was a leopard, and for this the natives treated him with respect. Leopards are nocturnal for the most part, and it's a rare occasion when you see one with enough light left to aim your rifle. So everyone was pleased, including Richards, to take such a prize early in the trip.

Robert was selective in his shooting and brought back an impressive list of trophies. He shot six zebra (three for trophies and three for bait), one leopard, two cape buffalo, two impala, one oryx, one gerenuk, two Grant's gazelles, one waterbuck, four dik-dik, and one hyena. A rhino attacked Richards and the white hunter in a jeep, but they didn't shoot it since they weren't interested in taking one. Small game was also plentiful, and shooting wild pigeons with a shotgun provided good sport and good eating.

Just as impressive as the animal trophies that Mr. Richards shot, are the literally hundreds of excellent color slides that he took. These were taken from the moment he stepped off the plane in Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, on Aug. 15.

His next stop was Johannesburg, from where he traveled by auto to the fabled Kruger National Park. These parks are protected from hunting, and are fantastically large. It takes, for instance, two to three days to travel through Kruger by automobile.

Livingston was next, with beautiful mile-wide Victoria Falls. In the meantime, the Elizabeth National Park was visited in Uganda, and Murchison Falls National Park where hippos almost upset the little boat he was riding in. Richards hunted out of Nairobi, ager gave him in Africa. The and toured the Nairobi National Park. He finished the month and a half jaunt to Africa with a trip to Zanzibar.

Awaits Trophy Shipment

Richards hasn't seen all of the photographs yet, there are simply too many of them. The trophies, both heads and rugs, are still at Jonas Brothers, the taxidermists. So he has all winter to sort and catalog the pictures, and look forward to receiving his mounts.

In the meantime, he has a leather pouch within easy reach of his desk that a District Game Manpouch is scuffed, sweat-stained, and still has a little African mud and dust on it. Inside are steel-tipped arrows that have been dipped in a deadly curare.

The poisoned arrows were confiscated from a native hunter by government officials.

Ponsoned arrows are outlawed today in Africa, but have been used for ages by the natives to procure food for themselves and their families. These short arrows are a link with the past that is all too fast disappearing in Africa. A man likes to have such a link handy to remind him of his dream safari.

Robert Richards, local attorney, with a trophy waterbuck shot while on safari in Kenya, British East Africa.

Also at Murchison Falls was this huge elephant taking a drink. Many animals were found along the water, including large, ugly crocodiles, and beautiful wading birds.

Hippos photographed by Richards at Murchison Falls National Park. The outboard motor on a small boat stopped on this trip, and the boat almost drifted into a herd of hippos.

Free Chest X-Rays Given

The happy little face of Russ Kalak, III, will smile up at hundreds of thousands of local folks this holiday season, the local Tuberculosis Society announced this week.

He's the society's official Christmas Seal boy for 1957, and his picture appears on letters mailed to Franklin County residents.

Russ eats, sleeps and plays just like any other two-year-old. He's completely unaware of the sneak attack tuberculosis has made on his tiny lungs.

Downstairs, on the second floor of Benjamin Franklin Hospital, Russ' Dad also has TB. Unlike his son, Mr. Kalak is thinking serious thoughts.

He's remembering how well he felt, and looked, last May when he stepped on the Tuberculosis Society's Christmas Seal X-ray Cruiser.

And he's thankful that his wife, Jean, and little Emma Pearl, born during his hospitalization, are safe from his contagious disease.

Deaths from tuberculosis have been cut, but TB struck 702 Franklin County residents in 1956—the second largest number on record for any one year.

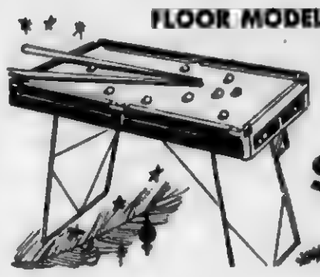
The Tuberculosis Society's two Christmas Seal X-ray Cruisers are constantly on the search to find tuberculosis early, when there will be less tragic waste of life, money, and happiness.

Last year the Christmas Seal X-ray Cruiser provided free chest checks for more than 1100 Obetz, Lockbourne and Groveport residents.

Christmas Seals also help families through the economic and social problems connected with TB, teach tuberculosis prevention, finance research.

Christmas Seals are your strongest weapon against tuberculosis! When you contribute to the annual Christmas Seal Sale you will be fighting tuberculosis the best way you possibly can.

For Christmas seals are the only support of the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County and its year-round program to fight TB.



The society is not a member of United Appeals. Approximately 90 cents out of each Christmas Seal dollar you contribute will remain in Franklin County to protect your family circle and thousands of others like it.

Gold Stars Meet Dec. 5

Columbus Chapter 1, American Gold Star Mothers, will meet on Thursday evening, Dec. 5, in the Veterans Memorial Building, for a pot luck dinner at 6 p.m., Mrs. C. May, publicity chairman, said, adding Santa Claus will be there and help with the gift exchange. Mrs. Frank Distelzweig, Sr., will preside at the business meeting which follows, at 7:45 p.m.

Thirteen members assisted veterans at Chillicothe hospital, with Christmas shopping for their families on Thursday. The Gift Shop was started in 1946 by the Red Cross and now a great number of organizations contribute gifts each year. There were 125 volunteers on the first shopping day, Wednesday, and 106 on Thursday. A total of 6,000 gifts was wrapped and sent to the post office for mailing.

On Dec. 9 members will spend the day again at Chillicothe, mending clothing in the morning and entertaining with card parties in the afternoon and evening.

A Picture for Remembrance

THE DEDICATED purpose of every funeral director is to make the final hour of parting one that will bring comfort of mind — to create a Memory Picture that will live through the long years ahead. This is the reason for the beauty of the caskets, the soft lights and music, the flowers and the evidence of tenderness and reverence in the service. We have dedicated our chapel to this high purpose.

Miss Hiltbrunner To Speak At Meet

Miss Cora Hiltbrunner of 704 S. 17th-st will be the vocational speaker Tuesday, Dec. 3, at the dinner meeting in Hotel Fort Hayes of the American Business Women's Association.

Miss Hiltbrunner is an office supervisor for the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company.

Golden Age Club Date

Schiller Park Golden Age Club will hold its regular meeting Dec. 3, at 1:30 p.m. At this meeting there will be a name exchange for Christmas presents, according to an announcement.

This going club has an average attendance of 50 with still room for more members. Anyone who is 60 years or older and interested in the activities and companionship of others in their "golden" years, is welcome, it was said.

Local Man Wins Army Promotion

James W. Taylor, 23, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kienzle, live at 828 S. High-st, recently was promoted to specialist third class at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., where he is assigned to Brooke Army Medical Center's Headquarters Detachment.

Specialist Taylor, an electrician and medical equipment repairman, entered the army in May, 1956, and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

A 1951 graduate of Boys' Trade School, he worked for the Capital Optical Co. before entering the army.

Pheasant Hunting Is Still Good

The good pheasant crop that hunters found in this area on opening day will provide better than usual hunting for the remainder of the season.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors

By ROD COCHRAN

Birds were more plentiful this year on opening day than they have been for several years, and hunting will hold up better than usual throughout the season.

Franklin County Game Protector Bob Strohm says that pheasants were taken in the county this year where there haven't been any for several years.

The report from Madison County is just as encouraging. Alan Ward told me that he checked more game on opening day then he had for some time. Rabbits are also up, and more quail were seen by hunters than were observed opening day last year.

Hunters Are Surveyed

A survey of the game shot and seen by hunters on opening day as conducted by game protectors in every county. This gives a pretty good indication of the game supply. It's difficult for hunters who may see very little game to believe that hunting is good. Jack Davis, for instance, saw only one rabbit and one red fox, and bagged them both incidentally.

Balanced against his observations are hunters with full limits of birds or rabbits. A quartet of hunters in Madison County had four birds over their legal limit; and now probably wish that hunting wasn't quite so good.

Game biologists have been telling us that rabbits and pheasants were up for some months. The opening day hunter survey is just one check on game populations. During the spring and summer surveys are conducted in the field that indicate whether it will be a good, medium, or bad year for hunters.

The proof of the pudding, however, is in the eating, and a good nesting population of pheasants in the spring does not insure good hunting. A wet season, or even one widespread, heavy rain at a critical period, can affect bird populations significantly. But a hunter survey is definite — they either see game or they don't.

Many More Hunters

In addition to more game in the field this year, there were more hunters. In fact, there was 30% more hunters afield this year than on Nov. 15 a year ago. Weather conditions were partly responsible for this, and the fact that the season came in on a Friday may have attracted more hunters. It is also an indication that more and more people want to enjoy the outdoor sports of hunting and fishing, and that wildlife supplies will have to be shared with an ever-increasing number of hunters and anglers.

Statewide, the rabbit take per hunter was about 15 per cent above last year, and the pheasant take was up 20 to 25 per cent.

Strohm reports a significant increase in bobwhite quail in Franklin County—67 hunters that he checked saw 584 quail. In Madison County, Ward said that Hungarian Partridges seem to be increasing. Several hunters reported seeing coveys of these fine game birds, and one hunter that Ward checked was lucky enough to bag one.

You won't see as many pheasants from here on out as you saw on opening day, but you might well consider some late hunting in view of the good season. Rabbit hunting sustains itself, and hunters with dogs will be taking cottontails right up to the last day.

Pvt. James Dover Ends Five-Week Army Course

Army Pvt. James H. Dover, 22, son of Mrs. Clara A. Dover, 512 Jackson-st, recently completed a five-week track vehicle maintenance course at Fort Hood, Tex. He entered the army last July.

A 1953 graduate of South High School, he was employed by the Dispatch Printing Company before entering the army.

Werner OK's Old Lewis-av Extension

If the recommendations of City Engineer Robert Werner are accepted by the City of Columbus, Lock-av, formerly Lewis-av, will be extended. The city engineer made his recommendations last Monday.

The city engineer had made a study of the proposed extension, it was stated, at the request of Fire Chief Walter Strickfaden. Werner was said to estimate the cost of the operation would be, including purchase of land, between $15,000 and $20,000.

It was said that Service Director Redick held that the project is in the offing but said that there are no available funds for the work. The suggestion is that it will come later on.

It was said that te new link would make the southwest section of old Marion Township more easily accessible to the Columbus Fire Department, which has taken over the operation of the station on Lockbourne-rd, just south of Refugee-rd.

Girl Scouts Make Report

Today at troop meeting we made some plans for Christmas. We are thinking about baking cookies for a rest home.

Last week we started selling Girl Scout calendars.

Each girl is giving a report on how other countries celebrate Christmas. We will have a Christmas party on Dec. 17, with a 50-cent gift exchange.

At our next meeting we will start making Christmas gifts for our mothers and give our reports.

We ended our meeting by playing games.

Sing Festival At Oakwood Methodist

The public is invited to a choir festival to be held at Oakwood Methodist Church Sunday, Dec. 1, at 7:30 in the evening. The Oakwood choir will be host to the choirs of Gates-Fourth Methodist Church, South Methodist Church and Hope Lutheran Church. Each choir will sing an anthem of its selection and then four choirs will sing four numbers together.

Howard Drake, director of Oakwood choir, is in charge of the program.

Gift-Wrapping Art Taught

A special gift wrapping class will be held at Schiller Recreation Center on Thursday evening from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m. At this time the art of making fancy bows, attractive packaging, and adding those little decorative touches to gift boxes that make them so nice to look at, will be taught.

This class is open to all adults and older teen-agers, but officials said it will be necessary for all interested persons to bring scissors, one or two boxes on which to practice, and several yards of ribbon. Some ribbon will be available at actual cost for those who wish it, the spokesman said.

New Recreation Center For Southeast? City Play Chief Nick Barack Says 'May Be!'

Columbus City Council and Planning Commission have both "consented" to let recreation officials "think" about plans for a new southeast playground and recreational center, Recreational Director Nick Barack said early this week.

Location of the park might depend upon location of land already owned by the city, he said.

The time for construction to begin would depend upon when the money became available.

Asked specifically if the newer parts of the city (old Marion Township) would be considered suitable for a new facility, Barack said that it would. But he warned again that costs and location of tracts presently held by the city would probably determine their choice of sites.

Cost of the project would probably be $350,000, he said. This figure is arrived at by measuring the facility at the city owned Whetstone Park in North Columbus.

Whetstone, which has a winter-enclosed shelter house, tennis courts and ball diamonds, playfields, archery courts, etc., is considered a standard by which recreation centers can be compared.

M. D. Portman, the city's budget chief, said the administration's five-year capital improvement plan (made this year) sets aside funds for such a center, as part of a $2,975,000 bond issue to be voted on in November, 1958.

Barack said that his department could go ahead when money was allocated; money from any source was suitable to them; that the recreation department had no authority to request revenue raising issues.

A new center should have a gymnasium and auditorium, he said. And it should have play areas where youngsters "can bat a ball around." If children do not have a place—nor supervision—they will "bat the ball around in places they shouldn't," Barack said.

Students from Holy Rosary School (Seymour-av and Mound-st) visited city council last week to declare their interest in a new recreational center.

Barack said then that the east (or southeast) section of the city was the logical place to build the next facility. It had been approved as an "idea and ideal," he said.

The city planning commission will make the selection of site.

Scioto Trail To Get New High-st Traffic Control

Scioto Trail School, on S. High-st and 11 other schools will have a flasher-type traffic sign erected to control speeding in front of the school, City Traffic Engineer James Musick announced this week.

He belives that 35 mph limits are violated because the school is hidden from drivers' views. The school zone is "not obvious" he said.

A flasher-type sign would enable school buses to make safer exit, slow cars without constant police surveillance.

Costs for the signs is about $500 each, Musick said. Monthly electric bill is about $5.

His plan was undertaken following a radar-type study, and because flasher-type signals have "very effectively" cut speeding in front of the Fulton-st school.

The latter school zone was put in the "dangerous" class a year ago, but now, according to Musick, the need for police surveillance is almost non-existent.

Money for the sign is not available at this time, but should be allocated after the first of the year, he said.

Extension Of Lock-av OK'd By Fire Chief

Plans to improve and speed fire service to Columbus' newest acquisition — old Marion Township — was given another step forward this week.

The extension of Lock-av, (formerly Lewis-av) between Lockbourne-rd and Wilson-av was recommended by City Engineer Robert Werner Friday.

Werner, who made the study at the request of Fire Chief Walter Strickfaden, estimated that the total project, including construction and land acquisition, would cost from $15,000 to $20,000.

Service Director Floyd Redick said the project is in the offing, but that no funds are available for construction at this time.

The new link would make the southwest section of old Marion Township more accessible to the Columbus Fire Department, which has taken over the operation of the station on Lockbourne-rd, just south of Refugee-rd.

Vegetables — head lettuce, pascal celery, potatoes, frozen peas, canned pumpkin.

Tart Cranberry — Long Popular

The story of the cranberry dates back to the days when the Colonists used it for sauces, jellies and jam, and to the Indians before them who mixed it with deer meat to make pemmican. The Indians called it, "i-bimi" (sour berry.)

Long before nutritionists proved that the cranberry contains a wholesome mingling of minerals and vitamins, the skippers of North American clipper ships had found it prevented scurvy, and kept raw cranberries in sacks on deck for sailors to munch.

Better Quality—Over the years cranberries have improved in quality. The plump berries you see in such abundance in your store this week are juicier and more flavorful than the earlier wild ones.

And cooks have been finding more and better uses for their tart, sweet flavor. They have discovered the flavor is just as good with ham and other meats as it is with chicken and turkey.

Plentiful — This year's cranberry crop is a bumper one. Prices are now at their seasonal low . . . a good time to freeze a few for later months. They are one of the few fruits which can be frozen without further processing. A whole package can be put in the freezer as is. Prepared sauces and relishes freeze well also.

When buying cranberries look for and demand good quality. A fresh plump appearance, combined with luster and firmness, indicates good quality. You will find good buys this week on canned products, too, if you prefer cranberries all ready for the table.

Post-Thanksgiving Menu

Stuffed Pork Chops — Chuck full of your favorite dressing, tempting'y browned and tender, may be a post-Thanksgiving treat for your family's Sunday dinner.

To serve, arrange rosy spiced crabapples down the center of the platter . . . they're a bright spicy go-with for pork. Pass a dish of buttered broccoli, a basket of hot corn sticks. Salad in a sunshine mold . . . dessert, cranberry sherbert and crisp oatmeal cookies.

What's Texas Got To Do With This Turkey?

There's a chance he might have been raised there. There's an even better chance the natural gas you used to roast him to mouth-watering perfection flowed to your home all the way from Texas or Louisiana.

Today's demands for natural gas far surpass supplies available in nearby Appalachian fields. So billions of cubic feet of this modern fuel are pumped from southwestern wells to serve homes and industry here.

The facilities required to bring natural gas to you are costly. But it's money well spent because it assures you of a dependable, economical fuel supply at all times.

That's another reason why natural gas is the modern, efficient fuel. And it serves you best when you use it with modern, automatic gas appliances.

Santa Claus Gives Sneak Preview To Adventure-Bound Grandmother

THE SPIRIT'S THE SAME—IT'S JUST THE DATE THAT'S DIFFERENT—A Christmas tree, brilliantly lighted and decorated with gay packages to open in the presence of the family members spell Christmas on Dec. 2 as well as the 25th. Since Christmas Day will find Mrs. Georgia Higgins, 2447 W. Broad-st, Apt. A, in a far-off native village in British Guiana, South America, she and her great-grandchild were treated to a preview of the Santa season on the eve of her departure, Monday evening. Seen, from left are Bobby, Terry and Richard Gray and, in Mrs. Higgins' arms, ten-weeks-old Kathy Sue Gray.

By Betty Daft

Christmas promises to be twice the fun this year for Mrs. Georgia Higgins.

Surrounded by family and friends, she enjoyed the traditional holiday merriment of a tree and gift exchange in her appartment Monday evening, and will celebrate Christmas day with her daughter, Nota, a missionary in South America.

Happily anticipating the adventure of spending Christmas in a primitive native village in a section of British Guiana accessible only by plane, Mrs Higgins left yesterday on the first leg of her journey.

She traveled from Columbus to New York by plane and will fly from there to Kato, British Guiana. A small plane, on its twice monthly trip, will take her to Parmatmakto Village where her daughter is stationed

Daughter Is Nurse

Nota Higgins, registered nurse and first white woman to enter the village, has lived with the natives for several years. Two other missionary families are now stationed in the village

Mrs. Higgins, 66, a resident of Chicago and Wisconsin-avs for her life until she moved to Hop three years ago, retired from the Federal Glass Co last February after 27 years' service

Her daughter, Mrs Dorothy Gray lives at 2447 W Broad st Apt D and two grandsons. Robert E. Gray is a resident of Eureka av and Richard E., of Fairmont-av

Refusing to be dismayed at the thought of spending Christmas Day with a tribe of aboriginal natives, Mrs Higgins took with her a small artificial tree and gaily colored decoration to make home seem not quite so far away to the missionary band

Nativity; Scene, Song, Schiller, 6 p.m. Sunday

Four different South Side groups will sponsor a Nativity pageant at Schiller Center at Schiller Park next Sunday evening, Dec. 8, according to an announcement from the South Side Branch YMCA.

"This seems an appropriate way to usher the Christmas spirit in with the Christmas activities," a spokesman said. The hour will be 6 p.m., it was stated.

The pageant depicting the Nativity scene will be associated with a song program, according to the announced program. "The song part of the program is designed for public participation, since the whole program is "built for the South Side," and it is appropriate for the people of the South Side to participate in the singing," according to the leaders.

Sponsors

The four sponsoring organizations have been announced as South Side YMCA Young People's Inter-Church Council, South Side Ministerial Association, Council of South Side Organizations, and Schiller Recreation Center

The announcement stated that the scene and characters in the Nativity will be presented by members of the South Side YMCA Young People's Inter-Church Council

Schiller Recreation Center director Tom Crawshaw will lead in the singing of Christmas carols, according to the program. He will be supported by a brass quartet from South High School music department, it was stated

Five Gathering Points

Instead of everyone going directly to the Center, all will stop at one of five gathering points, and every person should stop at one of the five points

The gathering points are designated as within Schiller Park just opposite the following: Stewart-av and City Park; Jaeger and Reinhard; Mohawk and Reinhard; Third and Reinhard; Stewart and Jaeger. The leader will lead the procession to the Nativity scene.

Precautions have been taken to carry out the program even in the event of serious rain. In that circumstance, Jim Wagner told the newsman, the program will be held on schedule inside Schiller Recreation And, the announcement emphasized, for further information or assignments of participating groups, Jim Wagner should be called at the South Side YMCA—HI. 3-2151.

Caution

A request was contained in the announcement that each person be equipped with a flashlight, the flashlight will be needed, it was said at the YMCA, to follow the singing and the program. It was believed by those in charge of the program that the program should be concluded within 45 minutes, permitting an early-home schedule

Teachers, Room Mothers To Be Feted By Board

PTA board members of Stewart-av Elementary School have plans in the making to entertain teachers and room mothers of the school at 12 o'clock noon, Tuesday, Dec 10, according to Mrs. William K. McDonald, PTA publicity chairman.

Mrs. McDonald told the Leader writer that the board members promised to "prepare and serve the ham dinner, with all the trimmings, to all of the teachers and all of the room mothers of the school."

Love for the helpless popped up in the preparatofy stages and resulted in the determination to arrange gifts for Christmas happiness and, to fulfill this promise, all board members and teachers were requested to each bring a gift to be sent to Franklin Village Children's Home. A spokesman said this was "assurance that the kiddies would not be without at least a ray of happiness at Christmas."

Children's Plans

Children of Stewart-av School are to present their Christmas program Thursday, Dec. 19, at 1:30 p.m., the publicity chairman announced Emulating parents of the board, the children are to take gifts of food for Christmas baskets, which will be distributed to needy families, it was stated

Friday Night 'Lions Roar' Sale Funds To Aid Public Service

"Power" goes on the march this Friday evening, Dec. 6. Because you know, there's real power in those Southeast Lions who will be on the march in a hundred causes. In fact, there's little of a general nature that is not influenced by what the Southeast Lions do . . . their giving, their helping, their deep selflessness . . . that's the kind of Southeast Lions that will be coming to your home tomorrow Friday, evening, Dec. 6, to sell the famous once-a-year newspaper — "Southeast Lions Roar"

And what do these Lions do with the money received as they call at hundreds and hundreds of houses where the selling the Southeast Roar? That's a good ques This writer picked up year's "Southeast Lions Roar to see some of the things done with your money and mine— your dollars, five dollars, and many give even more.

Only a look-in! Yes, this list is only a look-in at the list of achievements for the public, but it gives an idea of how the sales receipts for the "Southeast Lions Roar" are used in the public welfare.

A List

This list is composed of items taken from the current "Southeast Lions Roar" — the issue you will, undoubtedly, buy tomorrow evening: "Beery Junior Gets New Scoreboard," "New Flag Pole at St. Lad's", "New Projector Is Valued Gift For Roosevelt", "Lions Build 'Biggest' Slide at YMCA Park", "$180 Gift Boosts Blind Aid to $1,300", "Lions Pay $1500 Visit to Hartley", "Smith Road Gets Radios To Hear FM", "Lions Help C.C. Boys Park Bikes", "FM Reception Makes School More Fun", "Medi-Carts Presented To Mercy Hospital." These and many other gifts were made to institutions such as schools, where many a child now is adding to the education he is receiving because Lions gave to the school.

Also, you will read in your copy of "The Southeast Lions Roar" how Barrett Junior High School has been benefited through gifts made to the school by the Southeast Lions.

Lions on the Go

So, tomorrow (Friday) evening, when you receive one of the 'Southeast Lions Roar" Lions, who is for the evening a "newsie" selling his papers, just remember that the Lion or Lions are giving of their time and effort and of funds received entirely from the sale of "The Southeast Lions Roar" once each year. And every gift is one which will contribute to the welfare of children in the schools and other areas of our regular activities.

As told in this page last week, hundreds pay from a dollar to five dollars for "The Southeast Lions Roar" — well, not entirely, the five-dollar bill or the one-dollar bill, or even a ten-dollar bill takes on the nature of service to the public from a public-minded organization — the Southeast Lions.

Suppose . . .

Suppose you are not at home when the Southeast Lions Roar reaches your door . . . know what . . .? Well, he will leave a copy of this year's "Southeast Lions Roar" . . . and you may call Lion President Frank Neubeck at HI. 4-0212 or see him at 216 Thurman-av to receive your donation.

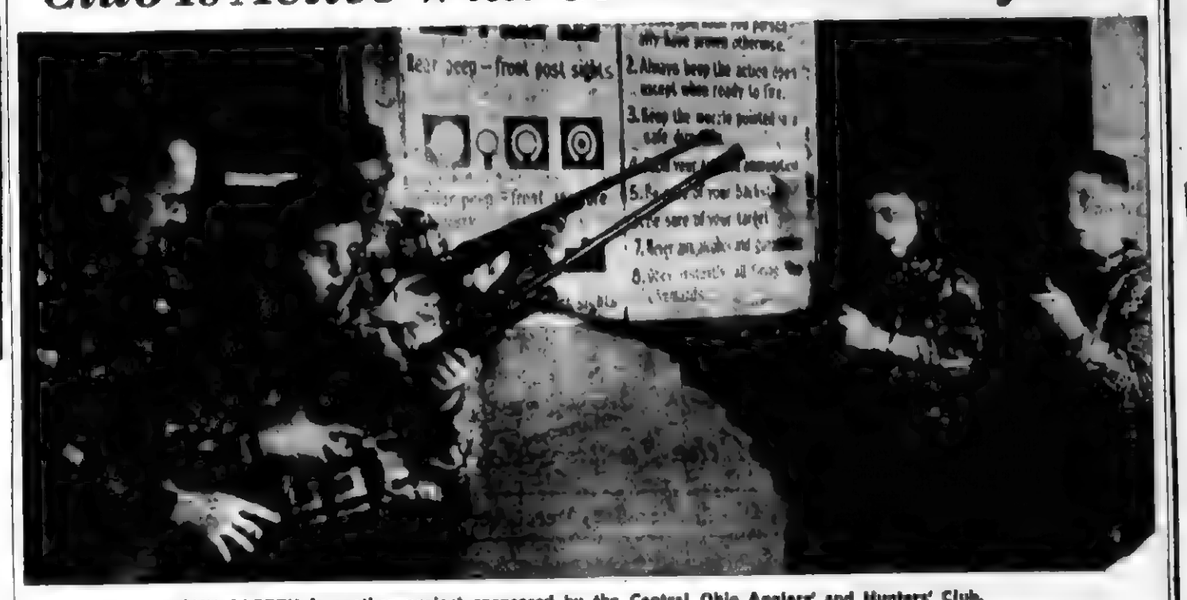
CA. 1-2345 Brings 'em In a Hurry—The Newest And Best



The south side of Columbus and areas of old Marion Township are being serviced by the city's newest emergency equipment, firemen announced this week.

The vehicle above has been installed in Engine House No. 4, on Lockbourne-rd, the building recently taken over from the volunteer Marion Township firemen.

Emergency Squad Supervisor, Captain A. S. Justus, said this equipment will bring the same high service that has been provided in years past.

The emergency phone number is CA. 1-2345.

Club Is Active With Conservation Projects

GUN SAFETY is another project sponsored by the Central Ohio Anglers' and Hunters' Club.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

One of the most active sportsmen's clubs in Ohio is the Central Ohio Anglers' and Hunters' Club with fine clubhouse and grounds located on Little Darby Creek near West Jefferson. At their doorstep is some of the best small-mouth bass fishing water to be found in this area.

Club members are not content, according to President Walter Lauffer, to improve this stretch of stream for fishing. Or to go out to the club grounds on weekends to shoot trap, or to hold regular meetings. They do all of these, of course, but the club has the idea that conservation is more than hunting and fishing—it's a way of life. For some years it has been carrying out a variety of conservation education projects, in an attempt to make youngsters aware of our natural resources, their priceless value, and their wise use.

These education projects are increasing each year, and have been financed from the 25-cent fee, obtained from issuing hunting and fishing licenses. The club has sub-agents that issue licenses all over this area, and they have an arrangement whereby the sub-agents and the club split the fee. The club takes its share and devotes it to youth education projects.

Here are some examples of work done this past year:

- 5,150 conservation charts and texts were donated and distributed to fifth grade classes of all schools in Columbus and Franklin County.
- A school bus and license was purchased to haul youngsters to and from conservation activities sponsored by the club.
- Twenty-six youngsters were taken to the National Rifle and Pistol Match at Camp Perry, and entered in the Junior and Tyro school.
- Two scholarships were made available to Ohio State University, one to the Natural Resources Institute and one to Stone Laboratory.
- Six partial scholarships were provided so that school teachers could attend the Ohio Conservation Laboratory last summer.
- A bus field trip was provided to boys and girls attending 4-H camp.
- Nine boys and girls were provided scholarships to the Ohio Forestry Association Training Camp at Tar Hollow State Park.
- Fifteen boys were provided scholarships to the F.F.A. summer camp at Leesville Lake.
- The League of Ohio Sportsmen's Conservation Bookshelf was presented to all but two of the scholars attending one camp or another. This amounted to 30 sets of books.

All this, mind you, was accomplished by the education committee of one club in one year. Many other worthwhile projects are carried on by the Central Ohio Anglers' and Hunters' Club, but few will be as long lasting as their educational work.

Only Real Wealth

People and natural resources are the only real wealth on this earth — everything else has an inflated value these days.

Many sportsmen do not realize the important work being carried out by the few pennies they pay as a license issuing fee. This money enables the Central Ohio Anglers' and Hunters' Club to work with the citizens of tomorrow, and to teach them about the natural resources that will feed and clothe them, and provide them with the healthful outdoor sports of hunting and fishing.

Fornoff School Patrol Guards Hazardous High-st

Two weeks ago, youngsters making the long lunch trip home from Fornoff School were knocked down by a motorist passing through the intersection at Frank rd.

The intersection is plainly marked by signs and traffic lights, but it's a three-way intersection and confusing to youngsters.

The motorist was reportedly at fault.

That it happened at noon is important. School boy patrols guard the intersection morning and night. There have been no accidents at these busy times.

It is a sort of tribute to the patrols who are trained and instructed by the AAA, and the State Highway Patrol. (Their signs and raincapes are furnished by the AAA.)

The patrols are drawn from the senior classes at Fornoff (sixth grade) and work a rotating shift at most school crossings. The Frank-rd-High-st crossing is manned by a permanent crew of four or five boys.

Principal Clark Durbin of Fornoff has supreme confidence in his patrol. "They do a good job . . . we have very little trouble," he said.

The patrol boys, themselves, look upon their obligation with responsibility beyond their years. They report violations to Mr. Durbin.

Boys are trained while in the fifth grade, become "regulars" only with the consent of their parents when they begin their last year.

All of the boys live near school and are assigned intersections in their normal way home.

Fornoff's patrol includes Stephan Becker, Charles Blankenship, Charles Carrico, Ronnie and Roy Casto, Tommy Class, Ralph Day, Milton Duitko, Robert Fischer, Mike Hanrahan, Gene Harvey, Glenn Hawthorne, Larry Kemper, Virgil LeMasters, Billy Marioth, Garry and Larry Powers, James Jones, Lathrop Bigsbee, Robert Ripley, Harvey Shepherd and Bill Sword

If there are paint spatters on ceramic tile, use a small amount of nail polish remover on absorbent cotton to take them off.

Building Inspector To Check Gas Heaters Upon Request

John T. Corrodi, recently appointed Franklin County Building Inspector, has announced that his staff will inspect gas heater installations in homes located throughout Franklin County and not within the boundaries of any city or village upon request of the occupants.

Corrodi emphasized this free inspection service is available only upon request of residents, since Franklin County has no regulations compelling property owners to have heated inspections. The county prosecutor is hoping to set up regulations to require that all space heaters be inspected. In the meantime the Franklin County Commissioners have authorized the County Building Department to make the inspections without charge. They invite county residents to request this service by calling CA. 1-1181 Ext. 315.

Encouragement For All Parents— Patty's Eighth Operation Successful

Operation by operation, four-year-old Patrician Sue Ward is getting over her trouble.

The little girl, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ward, live at 38 West Frankfort-st, now is convalescing at the Children's Hospital from her eighth and most serious operation — open heart surgery to correct two congenital defects. Six of the other operations were to remove cataracts from her eyes, and the seventh a tonsillectomy.

Patty, a familiar little figure in the corridors and beds of the Children's Hospital, is expected to go home this weekend to finish her convalescence — before returning for further eye work. She is shown here with Nurse Alice Hilbert.

Patty's open heart operation Nov. 20 was one of the longest in the two-a-week series which started last spring at the Children's Hospital. She was on the operating table for six hours, and for an hour and four minutes she depended on an intricate heart-lung pump for her blood circulation and pressure. For 25 minutes of this time her heart was arrested.

Students majoring in the humanities in college spend the most and those in education, the least. Between those in decending order are social science, engineering, biological science, medicine, physical science and agriculture.

A fairy-story romance culminated in the ringing of wedding bells last Saturday, Nov. 30, for Barbara Sunker and Roy Price. Many folks may remember reading about the Price's romance earlier in the year when Roy was hospitalized in Mercy Hospital for months and had to undergo 17 operations. While there he became acquainted with the pretty blonde receptionist. The friendship developed deeply and romance entered into the picture. Barbara's mother, Mrs. Sarah Sunker, has been an employe of Mercy Hospital for 17 years and Barbara worked there while attending Linden-McKinley High School and Ohio State University. Barbara's father has been dead since she was a very young girl, so it seemed especially appropriate that Mr. Charles Beard, superintendent of Mercy Hospital, do the honors of giving the bride away in Fourth Avenue Christian Church. After a wedding trip to Florida, Mexico and the western states, the Prices will reside in Huntington, W. Va.; where Mr. Price is vice-president of the Wallace Construction Co. Their return date is March 1.

Livingston Methodist Church WSCS will meet at the church today, Dec. 5.

A large crowd attended the tea at South Church of Christ last Sunday, Dec. 1, inaugurating the week-long celebration of the 50th year of the church's founding. Presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. Homer Steele and Mrs. Sidney Roy. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. Ray Hall.

Andrix, 897 Lilley-av, and Ethel Harpst, 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Mabel Keister, 672 Linwood-av. Dec. 11 will be the meeting day for Jessie Lee and Marcy Circles. Jessie Lee meets at 1 p.m., 671 Carpenter-st, home of Mrs. D. F. Davis, and Marcy meets at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Ray Wood, 1266 Mooberry-st.

PTA members of the area who were elected to council positions in their schools will meet at 1:30 today at Central High School. They will enjoy a Christmas cantata, "When the Christ Child Comes," presented by 35 elementary school children and directed by Mrs. Alice Carothers of Hubbard Avenue School.

Mae Dean of 33 E. Jenkins-av, celebrated a birthday on Dec. 3 as did Margaret Whalen of 846 Gilbert-st.

Bazaars and fairs are occupying the thoughts of many people in Leaderland at the present time, so we'll tell you of three of them. The Guilds of White Cross Hospital will hold their fair tomorrow in the hospital lobby, from 9 a.m. on. Featured items are homemade baked goods, candy, aprons, children's p.j.'s, toys and towels. Societies of St. Ladislaus parish are sponsoring a chicken dinner and bazaar this Sunday, Dec. 8, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the parish hall. Co-chairmen are Mrs. John Kustick, and Mrs. Joseph Zubovich. Other committee members are Mrs. John Mileusnich, Mrs. Adam Zubovich and Mrs. William Hoffman. Courage, Inc., members will be having their bazaar on Dec. 16 in the Neil House mezzanine. We plan to tell you more about it next edition.

South High's basketball team has two games scheduled, one Dec. 6 at South, with an instrumental department dance following, and one on the tenth to be played at Central.

Little Joe Spiker, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spiker, 67 Southwood-av, had a Dec. 4 birthday. He was the little one who had spinal meningitis and we're happy to report he's recovered wonderfully well.

Mercy Hospital Guild 8 held its December meeting last evening at Willard's Restaurant. Another group that met yesterday was Trudeau Guild 25, which met at the Oniked Club House for a planned pot-luck dinner. Husbands were invited. Trudeau Guild 10 meets next Wednesday, Dec. 11, in the home of Mrs. Walter Miller, 1400 S. Sixth-st.

St. Leo's Altar-Rosary Parish Council is taking orders for home made cookies, so if you could use some, why not phone Rose Burkey at HI. 3-6302 or Anna Kolas at HI. 4-1418. The price is $1.25 a box. Also, on Dec. 17, there will be a luncheon and games party in St. Leo's dining room at 1 p.m. Price is $1. We'll remind you of the luncheon next edition.

Mrs. James Colegrove, 1077 Bruck-st, has been on the ailing list.

Capital City Chapter IMCI will hold its annual Christmas party on Dec. 10, and honored guests will be shut-ins of the organization. Scene of the affair will be St. Peter's Lutheran Church. Entertaining at the party will be by Patty Poeschal with her puppets and the Christian Crusaders, singing group from Southwood Church of Christ. Starting time for the affair is 7:30 p.m.

Being a sports enthusiast, we notice that Navy and Rice will meet in the Cotton Bowl. The thought crosses our mind "kinda messy," eh?

"Gifts for Giving" thanks go to the Hampton family of 190 Jenkins-av, who responded generously to the plea for the patients at Benjamin-Franklin Hospital. Simply the project works thusly: We collect your nice, unwanted articles (men, women or children's items), then give them in turn to the patients at Benjamin Franklin Hospital, who can use them as gift items for their loved ones. Tuberculosis brings money difficulties to families of the patients as a rule, and Christmas is a bleak times for those who must lie and can't participate in the hectic rush of planning and preparing for surprises for their loved ones. If the response is enough, we hope to let them give to more than one, as we've done in the past. Do think of it won't you? Your unwanted "white elephants" will carry happiness to someone less fortunate than you! Well, till next week, we'll sign off, and hope you'll be calling us at HI. 4-1051.

Till then, 'tis

Barrett 9As Look To High School Studies, Work

Barrett Junior High School is in the midst of its Guidance Program, which is being carried on with the purpose of helping each student plan his choice of study according to his needs.

For the ninth grade, the following meetings were arranged by the school counsellor, John C. (Jack) Drenning:

On Tuesday, Nov. 19, all 9A's had a preliminary meeting on the subject of scheduling for senior high school.

On Wednesday, Dec. 4, South High school Principal Delbert Swain met with the same 9A's to advise and direct them on their 10th-grade schedules — their needs and their choices.

From Tuesday, Dec. 3 to Thursday, Dec. 12, smaller 9B groups will meet with Mr. Drenning to discuss individual needs, the offerings, choices, and selections through junior and senior high school.

Carolers Bring Hope For Young Hearts

Kinder Key Christmas carolers will sing in Columbus residential areas Dec. 11, 6 to 9 p.m. Wearing identifying heart bands, carolers will serenade each home with a porch light burning and accept donations for Kinder Key Heart Laboratory. Shown above, from left are Barbara Bay, 517 Deshler-av; Jan Pope, 509 Hanford-st; Teresa Willis, 364 E. Mithoff-st; Gerry Mullen, 445 Thurman-av. All are members of Brownie Troop 329 of Thurman Avenue Methodist Church.

Adult and children's groups from local churches, schools and scout troops will tour local residential areas of Columbus next Wednesday evening, 6 to 9, singing Christmas carols in an appeal for funds to support the Kinder Key Heart Laboratory at Children's Hospital.

Carolers will stop and serenade each home showing a light on the porch.

All money received will go directly to the laboratory. Time and services of the caroling groups and their sponsors are donated, and expenses of the drive are paid with money raised through other Kinder Key projects.

Only diagnostic center devoted to heart disease in this area, laboratory purpose is to provide tests for diagnosis and control of rheumatic fever and to make accurate diagnosis of congenital heart disease to see if heart defect may be improved or cured by surgery.

It is hoped that enough money will be raised in the drive to assure maintenance and expansion of the Kinder Key Laboratory for another year.

My best congratulations to Hazel Roberts. It couldn't have happened to a nicer gal. And I'm not trying to butter her up because I owe her for some flars, either.

A teen-age niece writes: "We are glad Princess Margaret defied her royal family and went out on her own the night the Queen had the party. How she must hate all the boring royal parties. Our gang agrees she's a good sport—a stout fella as they say over there. She can join our gang at the malt shop any day."

Mail — From Montana: "We had a dry summer, but never expect much rain as eastern Montana is classified as semi-arid. It is beautiful here; we still have our 'wide open spaces' and I suppose we always shall, because of our climate. An interesting sidelight on our peculiar climate is that it enables the wheat ranchers in a restricted area to produce the only premium high quality protein wheat in the country, and pardon my bragging, please" . . . From Columbus: "Have been addressing Christmas cards and all the elaborate verses would make Longfellow turn in his grave. Now and then there is a real classic" . . . From my dirt farmer friend near Buckeye Lake: "The trees are bare again; the last leaves burned. Last week we scoured Perry, Licking, and Fairfield counties looking for bittersweet and wild grapes and nuts, and found an abundance of all of them, especially walnuts."

Have you sent the money for your Christmas seals yet? That reminds me—I haven't either!

M-F Victor Over Franklin In Opener

Marion-Franklin High School cager team won its season opener with Franklin Heights by the overwhelming score of 74 to 29, an even larger margin than the M-F cagers expected when they entered the game.

A breakdown of the individual player achievement indicates an over-all superiority over the Franklin Heights crew, although Franklin Heights supporters look with confidence, some of them said, to at least a near-winning team.

These South Side Druggists Ask:
"Can You Understand This?"

gr. ℞ fz 3

these are some of the symbols your doctor gives your pharmacist for health - giving prescriptions

Your prescription is written in Latin (not to confuse you nor to make it secretive), but because Latin is a dead language and is used internationally. A prescription written in Latin by your doctor, can be filled not only in the South Side, but in Canada, France, Germany and even in Indo-China because the pharmacist and the doctor must understand Latin before they practice their professions.

"EX MODO PRAESCRIPTO"

this is . . .

DOCTOR - PHARMACIST

language

It isn't necessary for you to understand the meaning of "Ex Modo Praescripto" or any of the symbols at the upper left. It is important that the South Side has a number of people who do; an ample number of registered pharmacists who are qualified to read the written language of the physician when he prescribes compounded medicine for you. It should give us all a feeling of security to know that we are blessed with good doctors and good, reliable pharmacists who guard the health of our community. When you take your doctor's prescription to one of the drug stores, listed below, you can rest assured that it will be filled properly whether you understand the doctor's "Language" or not.

Teenagers To Dance While 'Lions Roar'

Brushing Up on "Allemand Ther."

Tomorrow night, Friday, the teenagers of the Roosevelt Junior High School area will be dancing while the "Southeast Lion Roars" about the South Side community selling the once-a-year money-earning program to help them help the community in many useful ways.

The round and square dance at Roosevelt is sponsored by the South Side YMCA Teen-Age Council and will be held from 7 until 10:15 p.m. Jim Wagner of the Y staff and a Southeast Lions member, will direct the gala affair and do the calling for the square dancing, the council reported. All proceeds, after expenses, will be turned over to the Southeast Lions Roar project fund, the "Y" spokesman said,

This annual Lions Roar benefit has become highly popular at Roosevelt School, it was learned, and ticket sale will be limited after capacity number has been reached. Tickets are available from Teen-Age Council members at the school, it was announced.

The boy with the biggest inheritance in town

The story of the gift that took a lifetime to make...

Like all grandfathers, he thinks the world of his grandson. Like all grandfathers, he'd give him the world, if he could. And, in a way, that's what he's done during all the rewarding times they have always spent together. He has tried to give his grandson a gift that will last the boy a lifetime, a gift that has been a lifetime in the making.

Faith . . . Faith that has been the strength and nourishment of his own life . . . that's what he has tried to show the boy, day by day. Faith in God, in himself, in his parents, in the town they live in, in the people he calls his neighbors. And so, every week, you'll see them, grandfather and grandson, worshipping with the rest of the family, at their church.

If you would like to leave as much to your children and to your children's children . . . remember this: only if you yourself have Faith, can you hope to give it in any measure. Begin this week to find the Faith for your life. Worship with all the family, at your Church or Synagogue.

Find the strength for your life . . . worship together this week

Mark 'Em Well: Old Marion Twp. Streets Get New Names

City workmen Friday began the task of changing signs for 15 streets in the old Marion Township area. The street name changes, City Engineer Robert Werner announced, are necessary to avoid confusion, since city streets in other areas bear the same names.

The changes approved by City Council last April are these:

Kian-av from Terrace-av to Eastman-av, will become Kail-av; Terrace-av from Southgate-rd to Lake-dr will become Thorndale-av; Lakeview-blvd from Terrace-av to its eastern terminus will be changed to Landers-av, and Lake-dr from S. High-st to Parsons-av will be renamed Loxley-dr.

Chase-av from N. High-st to Indianola-av will become Chase-rd; Dexter-rd from S. High-st to its eastern terminus will be changed to Delray-rd; Scottwood-rd from Parsons-av to its western terminus will become Stockbridge-rd; and Rosewood-rd from S. High-st to its eastern terminus will be renamed Rockwell-rd.

Collingwood-rd from S. High-st to Parsons-av will be changed to Colton-rd; Maplewood-rd from S. High-st to its eastern terminus will become Marilla-rd; Caroline-av from Parsons-av to Groveport-rd will be changed to Cochrane-av; Bank-st from Parsons-av to Groveport-rd, will be renamed Baltz-av; and Beechwood-rd from Parsons-av to its eastern terminus will be called Barcher-rd.

Robinwood-rd will become Rumsey-rd in the sections between S. High-st to Parsons-av and Lockbourne-rd to its western terminus. Lewis-av will be changed to Lockav, in the section between Groveport-rd and Wilson-av, but will be named Liston-av in the section between Alum Creek and its western terminus.

Proposed Signal For Williams-rd-High-st, Tabled

The request made by the Marion-Franklin Citizens Association for a traffic light at Williams-rd and S. High-st was tabled for a month by Columbus City Council this week.

The action was taken after Traffic Engineer James V. Musick said traffic counts showed the intersection did not warrant signals.

Members of the association led by president William Neno requested the light in a joint recommendation with Dr. Fillinger, president of Columbus City Council, at a meeting on Nov. 25.

There have been two serious accidents involving several vehicles at this intersection in the past few weeks.

During the peak hours of traffic, morning and evening, traffic using Williams-rd must wait prolonged times to make the turn into High-st.

Speed limit is now 35 mph, although a new limit of 40 mph has been talked by traffic officials.

The only difference between U. S. Grade A and U. S. Grade B turkeys is that the Grade B turkeys may have a skin tear or a crooked breastbone.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

December Plentifuls — Pork, broilers and fryers, turkey, apples, citrus fruit, winter pears, cranberries, canned and frozen peas, almonds and filberts.

DECEMBER FOOD PREVUE

With one feast over and another in the offing, many food shoppers will look for budget stretchers during the weeks ahead. With that thought in mind, here is a prevue of foods expected to be in plentiful supply throughout December.

Pork is Seasonal — Hog slaughter is increasing seasonally and will probably hit its peak in December. You can expect pork prices to take a downward trend. Consider buying a whole pork loin if you have storage. Remember, it will include those expensive center cut chops and loin roasts that would cost you about 30 cents a pound more if bought separately. Ham offers convenient, easy-to-prepare meat dishes at reasonable prices. Don't overlook smoked picnics and Boston butts for economy meals.

Because of record turkey production, turkeys will continue to get top billing for value in meat dollars spent. Broilers are high on the list, too, since the total 1957 production is expected to exceed by 6 per cent, the 1,345,000 birds produced last year.

Vegetables — Increased supplies of lettuce, cucumbers and snap beans will mean lower prices on these items. The end of the cauliflower season is approaching. Sweet potatoes are coming out of storage now at slightly higher prices, but they are cured, which gives them better keeping qualities. Potatoes are also expected to be slightly higher this month.

Because of the huge crop, prices will stay low on both canned and frozen peas. Watch for the multiple sale . . . such as six packages in a bag, or three cans taped together.

Fruits — This year's large crop of both oranges and grapefruit is reaching the market in volume. Give your family lots of these vitamin-rich citrus fruits to ward off December colds.

Apples and more apples will be the story for December. There will be many varieties available for your choice . . . apples to eat raw, for salads, to bake or to fry.

Sweet juicy winter pears will be plentiful, and there's lots of cranberries for colorful, healthful accompaniment to poultry and pork dishes.

'Thanks' Given Hamilton Band

Enthusiastic boosters of the Hamilton Township Marching Band acknowledged this week the fine job done by the group's director, Mr. Seelingbinder.

The band members are currently selling pecan divinity candy bars to buy new hats, and collecting sales tax stamps.

Stamp collection day is Dec. 12, the next regularly scheduled boosters' meeting.

Congratulations were also extended to senior band members who will soon terminate active participation.

WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

The Photographer Who Took The Picture

Yes, giving credit for photography done by others than Leader photographers is the accustomed way of doing things. However, when the Gremlens are frisky no one can know what they will do. The occasion is the picture at the top of the front page of last week's South Side Leader, which reflected the high artistry of the photographer who is James Topia of 720 E. Whittier-st.

He did a good job of photography and we want it known that he did.

How Can It Be?

. . . Yes, how can it be? I mean how can people be brutally mean (or mean at all) to children, and especially when a child is too young to understand the why of being beaten, with marks scarring the body. I have just read of several such cases in Columbus and not far away from the city . . . "suffer the little ones to come unto me," and the biblical story does not add that their precious little bodies shall be marked with scars, that they should be beaten by people who allow their brutal instincts to surmound their common sense . . . and there is the injunction that they shall not be in any way hurt, mutilated, frightened nearly unto death . . . O, Devil, where are you? Please the papers and get busy on these who so justly deserve a reservation with you on the shelf you maintain bearing the legend "Let me make it hot for you" who so miserably abused a little child!

Happy Experience

It was a happy experience—taking a picture of the four painted windows in one of Southwood's school rooms . . . a bit of artistic ingenuity by members of the fifth grade class taught by Mrs. Esther Harvath, who said the 35 pupils in her class all had a hand in designing the natural-look window and in "papering the four windows. There is a story in picture in this issue of the South Side Leader . . . look for it in these pages. So often we who are older look upon the "young things" with compassion because they "are incapable of taking care of themselves," and then the youngsters make monkeys of us while we gloat in empty joy at our own intentions and efforts. Oh, well, it was ever thus!

"Merry Christmas

Let's each of us see to it that we make Christmas a legitimate merry time instead of the principal in a funeral procession. Let's REALLY be careful . . . and live un-mangled.

Away With Scrooge

Christmas is near. May there be joy in every heart. If there be any Scrooges, may Marley's Ghost bring a "conversion" in thought and comfort like unto that of Morley's Ghost and the "Merry Christmas" Scrooge.

Yule Party

The Mothers' Club of Wilron Avenue Christian Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Doris Grace, 747, Linwood-av, Wednesday, Dec. 18, at 8 p.m. for the club Christmas party. The entertainment committee is in charge, Mrs. LeRoy Underwood, publicity chairman said.

Yule Subject At Deshler PTA Meeting

"Greater Understanding Through Knowledge of Christmas With Children" is the theme for the December meeting of the Deshler Elementary School PTA when it meets at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 18, Mrs. Fred Roeger, PTA publicity chairman, has announced.

Students from several classrooms will entertain the parents with a three-part shadow tableau entitled "Deshler's Christmas Stories," with different classroom choral groups furnishing the music background. Deshler teachers have prepared and will direct the program, which will also include a vocal solo by Cherylidee Barash and a prayer by Kenneth Weinburg in celebration of Chanukkah. An instrumental group will also entertain with several selections under the direction of Richard E. VanMeter, instrumental music instructor.

Following the program, refreshments will be served.

Golden Age Date Is 17th

The Schiller Park Golden Age Club will hold its next meeting next Tuesday, Dec. 17, at 12 noon in the dining room of Schiller Center. This meeting will be in the form of a pot-luck dinner, a Center statement said.

The program following will consist of a Christmas party and gift exchange. Each person attending is to bring an inexpensive gift, men bringing a man's gift, and women bringing something for a woman.

The dining room will be decorated in holiday fashion, with an eight-foot Christmas tree as the center of attraction. The tree will be decorated Monday afternoon and any person of the community who is 60 years or over will be welcome to help in this project, and also to become a member of the Schiller Club, Tom Crawshaw said.

Bake Sale On Dec. 15

Members of the Rosary Altar Society of Corpus Christi parish are making preparations for a bake sale to be held Dec. 15 in the parish social hall. The sale will start at 7:30 a.m. and run to 12:30 p.m.

The chairmen, Mrs. Clovis Schall and Mrs. Christian Kohnle co-chairmen, along with their committee members, are planning to feature the sale of hot breads, Christmas cookies and fruit cake, according to Mrs. Irene Wiltshire. The public is invited.

Circle Directory

The WSCS of Thurman Avenue Methodist Church announces Circle meetings for December:

Ruth Circle meets on Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Jack Hysell, 1856 Oakwood, for the annual Christmas party. Co-hostess with Mrs. Hysell is Mrs. Paul Hanson.

Mary and Elizabeth Circles meet jointly in the church recreation room today, Dec. 12, for a potluck Christmas luncheon with officers as hostesses. A business meeting will follow.

Susannah Circle will meet Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. Agnes Schmitt 1054 Oakwood-av, with Miss Virginia Birch as co-hostess. This will be a potluck Christmas party, it was said.

Artistry In Youngsters' Fingers Shown

Artistry is in the minds and fingers of five fifth-graders of Southwood Elementary School, judging by the artistic achievement on four windows of Mrs. Esther Horvath's fifth-grade room. It seems that Mrs. Horvath and her charges were thinking of how to do something unusual, and a number of children suggested the window decorations. The teacher agreed.

Each student submitted a design for the four scenes and the class selected four, different designs for each window. It took a week and a half, Mrs. Horvath said, to do the work.

Designers

Then, at Sharon's left, are "Jesus, Mary and Joseph," designed by Lloyd Gray.

"Angels," by Janet Smith and Rosemary Barnhart; "Shepherd is by Barbara Johnson.

This is part of the Christmas celebration, which next week will find a large number of children in Yuletide dramatics. Following are third through sixth grade pupils participating in the dramatic presentation before the regular PTA meeting Wednesday evening, Dec. 18:

Thespians To Give Plays

The Children's Theater of Schiller Recreation Center is reported busy preparing for the Christmas season. Director Tom Crawshaw said. This year the group of young Thespians will present two Christmas plays on Friday, Dec. 20. "Why the Chimes Rang," based on the old story of the little boy who gave his last coin as a Christmas offering, will be one of the plays, and the other will be a repeat performance of "Bobby and Betty In the Toy Shop," which proved to be highly popular last season and is being presented again this year by request. This play tells the story of a little boy and little girl who find themselves locked in a toy shop over night. At midnight the toys come to life and entertain the children.

Prexy Hostess To S. High Board

Mrs. Donald C Fischer, president of South High School PTA, will entertain executive board members with a Christmas party at her home, 799 Deshler-av, Wednesday evening, Dec. 18, at 8 p.m. There will be a gift exchange.

After the business meeting there will be a Christmas program presented by the children in the third through sixth grades. Mrs. Clarice Gedeist, fourth-grade teacher, is directing the play.

'Open Your Heart' Is Cry Of Charity Newsies Dec. 14

Twenty-two South Side area men will participate in the fifty-first annual drive of Charity Newsies, the "100 percent for charity" organization.

They will join scores of other Columbus and Franklin County men in selling the annual special "Open-Your-Heart" edition of the "Charity Newsies" newspaper Saturday, Dec. 14.

Last year's sale resulted in 6278 children being clothed by the Newsies. In addition, other emergency calls from families in need due to sickness, death, fire or other calamities, were answered. Every call received by the unique Columbus charity organization is answered. This is made possible because every cent donated goes to charity and the men directly in charge are your friends, neighbors, or business associates.

When you donate to the Newsies you know that every cent of your donation is going to some one in need, since administrative costs are borne by sporting and social events sponsored earlier in the year.

Newsies presently are taking clothing applications from needy families, with nearly 1,000 already having applied at the organization's headquarters and clothing center in old Memorial Hall on East Broad-st. All applicants are investigated by Newsie members to make certain a need exists and that efforts of other charitable organizations are not being duplicated. All clothing presented by the Newsies is new, it was said.

South Side area men who will participate in the Dec. 14 sale are these:

John A. Allen, 388 Reinhard-av; Robert Benjamin, 1467 Parsons-av; Heinie G. Butler, 1196 Geers-av; Joseph O. Buttler, 735 E. Beck-st, John E. Cloud, 540 Cline-st; Pearl Cloud, 545 Cline-st; Jack Cannon, 1218 Wilson-av; Edward Crooks, 111 Parsons-av; Louis W Draudt, 318 E. Wolff, 881 E. Whittier-st.

'Lions Roar' Moved Into High In Spite Of Rain

Last Thursday night and Friday evening seemed to have undertaken the task for itself of discouraging Lions of the South Side in their promotion and sale of the "Lions Roar"—as if our South Side Lions could be intimidated any more than could the majestic big brute in the forests of some areas of the world!

Had a Task

For the Southeast Lions had a task to accomplish . . . a target to reach. The target, according to the records of the day's work, was achieved — with the additional honor and success of reaching a new high in selling the annual edition of the "Lions Roar" as a means of raising funds to pursue their established task of doing a public service for worth-while things and people in its South Side area.

Reports show that, despite the heavy rain, soggy clothing, prospects of "flu" as a result of working in wet clothes, the Southeast Lions Club sold more "Lions Roar" than previously and increased by a small margin the amount of funds received from their campaigns in the past.

One Lion reported the feeling of just about all members of the Lions Club as "Can't get any wetter, so might as well go faster and get bigger results." And those Lions made good on this thinking.

With depleted funds replaced, Southeast Lions Club will continue to do the good deeds in the community which marks it as a highly respected and appreciated group of public-spirited men — Southeast Lions Club, one Lion appreciatively said.

'Ten Shooter' Is Something Only A Gun Collector Knows

Author McConnell examines a boy's percussion halfstock rifle that is approximately 100 years old. His book, GRAN'PAPPY'S PISTOL, is now available in bookstores.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

With television and movies saturated with "adult westerns" these days we are surrounded by re-creations of the frontier, and with a little imagination, the smell of gunsmoke.

Much shooting is done on film, usually with a six shooter, and more specifically with a Colt revolver. Even with this emphasis on guns, only a gun collector would know about a 'ted shooter.' Especially if said gun had only five chambers in the cylinder, two hammers, and one trigger.

Columbusite Duncan McConnell has written a book about such things, primarily for would-be gun collectors. Practicing gun collectors will enjoy the book, which is called GRAN'PAPPY'S PISTOL, if they can stand to laugh at themselves and their eccentricities. McConnell defines a collector as "a dealer that is trying to preserve his amateur status." With tongue in cheek the author relates how deadly serious the art of gun collecting is. After years of experience, that extends from Colorado to the East Coast, he has heard only one collector laugh out loud. They are almost always presenting a grave expression, and telling you that the gun in question was once owned by Jesse James.

Cover of the book says it is for everybody, particularly armchair sportsmen. A few lines at the beginning of Chapter 8 are fairly typical of the whole book. They go:

"I shoot a shot,
And brag a lot,
But do not care
To meet a bear.
—A. Plinker"

Even though the book pokes fun at the gun-collecting fraternity, McConnell is a serious collector and speaks warmly of the hobby. At present Dr. McConnell is research professor at Ohio State University. He has held various positions in mineralogy and chemistry over the years, allowing him to look for guns, powder flasks, bullet molds and the like, in a wide variety of places.

Are Traders Mainly

He claims that gun collectors are about the same everywhere. After they come into possession of a few guns they begin to trade — a transaction where no money changes hands. This gives them an inflated value of the guns involved.

"It's like the man who had a dog for sale for $30,000," says McConnell, "and a friend was somewhat incredulous on learning the price. In a few weeks the friend inquired about his progress, and the man said he had been completely successful. He had traded the dog for two $10,000 cats."

The author has made many such trades, but is still very modest about his collection. He says it is a small one, selected on quality as much as anything else. I do know that he seems to have guns throughout his house, even the bureau in his bedroom is full of them.

Not many of us will become gun collectors. But the fact remains that the history of our country is deeply associated with firearms. Early settlers, the Minute Men, buffalo hunters, soldiers of Blue and Gray, cowboy, frontier train robbers, fur trappers, river boat gamblers, Rough Riders, and all the rest had their guns.

These men seem to come alive as you look at their guns. Gun collectors are preserving an important part of our heritage — an interesting hobby indeed.

Mrs. Florence Griffith's Son Makes 'Big Switch'

Army Specialist Third Class Bill Griffith, son of Mrs. Florence Griffith, 142 Hinkle-av, Southeast Columbus, recently participated in "Operation Big Switch" with the 261st Engineer Company in Europe.

The purpose of the switch was to move Specialist Griffith's unit from Toul, France to Furth, Germany.

The world would be a better place and more would be accomplished if we stopped talking about other people.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits—Apples, grapefruit, oranges, tangerines, bananas.

Vegetables—Cabbage, head lettuce, frozen lima beans, canned pumpkin.

Protein Foods—Beef rib roast, whole ham, cheese.

FOOD GIFTS

Have you run out of ideas and still have some names on your Christmas list?

There is warm sentiment attached to "homemade" gifts. Most folks do appreciate a gift made by the giver. Food gifts qualify all around. A family or an individual may enjoy making such gifts. Such a project offers an excellent opportunity for your whole family to take part and share the true spirit of Christmas.

Some ideas include fruit baskets, other food gifts such as jams, stuffed fruits, fruit cakes, cheese assortments, and even cured meats.

A little basket or tray filled with plastic bags of shelled nuts, all measured ready to use, and tied with gay ribbons will be a joy to the woman who loves to bake.

Fruit Baskets—A nice box or basket of fruit is always refreshingly welcome at Christmas time. You can assemble your own assortment from the fruits that are plentiful. Ohio food markets, at this time of the year, offer excellent quality apples (Ohio growers had a super crop this year), citrus fruits, bananas and grapes.

If your gift is to travel far it is wise to pack the fruit in a sturdy box or basket. Line the contained, whether it is to go near or far, with a gay dish towel, colored cellophane, or other attractive paper such as gay Christmas paper napkins, bringing the points up over the edge of the container. Cover the top with transparent cellophane paper and tie a big red ribbon bow on the handle or pin it on the side. Such a gift is colorful, refreshing, nutritious and worthwhile.

Similar gifts may be assembled from a variety of food products or from cheeses. Cheeses make attractive gifts by themselves or in combination with other foods. Give small quantities of several types of cheeses. How about this . . . pack a small round cheese on a little cutting board (about 50c) . . . fasten with a gay ribbon, and you have as festive a gift as anyone ever received.

Almonds and Filberts

The supply of almonths and filberts is the second largest on record. The 1957 crop is reported to be above average in quality.

U.S. Grades—This is the first year that there have been U.S. Standards for grades of Christmas trees, and it seems likely that these standards will bring better trees to market and prevent shipment of trees so poor in quality that they show up as dreary after-Christmas casualties.

'Barrett' Taken In First Game

By a Barrett Reporter

Barrett Junior High School's Bearcat basketball team had a busy time in the week of Dec. 2. After beating their own faculty team 40 to 20 on Tuesday they went to Champion Junior High School on Thursday, Dec. 5. There they met a strong, well-seasoned, well-coached (we quote Barrett's Coach Don McCualsky) Champion team, which wasn't fooling away any time.

Champion took an early lead. Barrett gained the lead and was ahead at the half. Champion regained the lead in the third quarter and kept it. The final score was 61 to 40 with Champion on the heavy end. Burke scored 28 points for Champion; Loveless, 14; Valentine scored 18 for Barrett, Schumacher 8 and Merriman 6.

"It is no pleasure to lose," says Coach McCualsky, "but Champion played hard and played fair and won the game. We are not complaining because we can't complain."

After the game, both teams had a tasty lunch prepared by Champion's home ec kitchen. The boys enjoyed the lunch fully as much as the game.

Even the milkman isn't safe from the snoopiness of the Gadabout . . . he'd not been around for a couple of weeks so we asked the whys. We found out that he'd been on a vacation and had spent it in hunting and general relaxing. Mr. Johnson is his name and he is a resident of Frebis-av.

The Gifts for Giving project is beginning to quicken the tempo and we are so grateful for the sakes of the TB patients at Ben Franklin. These fine people have responded this week, so a public thanks to them: Mrs. Swickard, Mrs. Brixner, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Farnsworth, Mr. Gix, David and Mrs. Colegrove, once again the Hamptons, and Mrs. Shipman. There are several groups also, but we're saving their names for the next week's list. We talked with Mrs. Mart at the hospital and will be distributing the things on Dec. 18, so Dec. 17 will be our deadline. She told us there is also a need for good used clothing, as some of the patients could go home and give their gifts personally, but have no warm clothing to wear. Remember, the little things we all have around that we can't use are really luxury items to some of the needy folks at the sanitarium. As a few suggestions for the women, hankies, cologne, costume jewelry, hose, dozens of items; men, socks, ties, pens, pencils and anything that appeals to children, the more the better as we'd love to have enough to let the patients remember all their kiddies. Today will be our last plea for this year and we hope lots of folks respond, for if they don't, we won't reach our goal of going the rounds at least once. It won't be our disappointment that counts as much as that of the Ben Franklin patients. No more news for this time, so we'll sign off, giving our phone number per usual and we hope it really rings a lot, hm? The number . . HI. 4-1051, and till next time, 'tis

Southeast Lions, Laden With Gifts

However the weather — rain, shine or snow — the Southeast Lions are always ready to provide a need indeed is the thought of Scioto Trail School officials. For, though slushy snow provided a traveling hazard, four gallant ambassadors of good will, in the name of Southeast Lions, made a trek to Scioto Trail Elementary School last week and presented to Principal Maurice Lowks, before a school assembly, another Southeast Lions Roar project.

The project included three Alice and Jerry film series correlated with the first, second, and third grade readers of the same name; a microscope to aid in science studies, and a Royal Primer typewriter with Great Primer type. Approximate value of the project was $400.

'. . . Christmas Is For Everyone—But Avoid Duplications,' Christmas Bureau Asks

The Christmas Bureau, a service of the Council of Social Agencies, this week reminded all persons interested in sharing Christmas by giving to needy families that, (1) Christmas should be for everyone, (2) donations of money are better than gifts, and (3) duplications can be avoided if donors will give through a social agency.

Last Christmas, 144 needy families in Franklin County were left out because some families were helped by several groups . . . and others were overlooked entirely.

Last year, 4000 families were helped through the services of the Christmas Bureau. Here's how it works:

Call the bureau and register the name of family you want to help — for example the Jones family. Their name will be recorded in a confidential file. Later, if another group calls to register the same family, they will be told that the Joneses are already taken care of. In this way, a second needy family can be taken care of.

A confidential record of each family's need is kept on file at the Bureau.

The bureau recommends indirect giving through a social agency because direct help often embarrasses the family.

They suggest money gifts because the family knows what it really needs and money will provide those real needs.

AND ABOVE ALL, avoid duplication whenever you can, the bureau asked.

"Remember the 144 families overlooked last year," they repeated. "Remember that Christmas belongs to everyone."

In the words of Tiny Tim, they said, "God Bless Us . . . Everyone."

Dies in Father's Arms

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo. —A father, Junior Scott, and his eight-year-old son, Richard Leroy, went hunting in the mountains. Unsuccessful in their attempt to find a trail down from the shale rimrocks in the dark they were forced to remain in the mountains overnight with the temperature in the middle 20's. The father held the boy against his own body in an effort to keep him warm, but the child froze to death before rescuers found them.

Skilled workers are most likely to be in debt because of credit. Next are the semi-skilled, unskilled, service workers, professional and semi-professional and managerial workers. Least likely to have consumer debt are farm operator families.

A dustcloth or mitt treated with a solution made up of one tablespoon kerosene or turpentine and one pint hot water will pick up and hold dust.

You Can Help 2,250 People Have A Happier Christmas

As the Christmas season approaches, an appeal for toys and gifts for the 2,250 residents of Columbus State School is again being presented to the community. By doing so, an opportunity is offered which will enable many to share the joy of Christmas and the joy of the Yuletide Season with others.

Receptacles have been placed in Moore's Stores and Penney stores in all the shopping centers and also downtown for the convenience of those wishing to deposit gifts.

"Giving to these patients will give a wonderful feeling of satisfaction that will make your own Christmas a happier season," a CSS official said.

The following suggestions are made:

For small children—large rubber toys, crib gyms, rubber dolls, soft toys (with washable covering), pull toys, roller skates, coloring books and crayons.

For older girls—costume jewelry and all cosmetics.

For older boys and men—basketballs, footballs, cigarettes, playing cards, smoking tobacco and pipes, table games.

Gifts may either be deposited in the before-mentioned containers or delivered to the Columbus State School at 1601 W. Broad-st.

Banquet Ends Week's Observance Of 50th Year

The modernized and refurbished Fellowship Hall of the South Church of Christ, Woodrow and Bruck-st, provided the setting for the Golden Anniversary Banquet Sunday evening, bringing to a close an eight-day celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the church in what is now the Apostolic Christian Church, 1750 S. Sixth-st, on Dec. 26, 1907.

Capacity Group

The dinner was served to a capacity group by the Fabco Class of the West Fourth Avenue Christian Church, assisted at the tables by a group of young people from South Church. The minister, C.D. Mulkin, presided for the program. Leaders of the song service were Joseph and Elizabeth Daab of the Christian Church, McArthur, O. Greetings were extended by Theodore A. Kundts, chairman of the church board, followed by a vocal solo by Clare Ashton, son of the late George L. Ashton, minister of the church from 1922-32. Greetings of "A Timothy" were brought by Joseph Daab, as one representing four young men ordained through the years to the ministry from South Church and of several others who have gone out and were ordained elsewhere.

Ex-Missionary

The guest speaker at the morning service, Homer P. Gamboe, for 33 years a missionary to India and now of Indianapolis, spoke briefly at the banquet. He is a firm believer in the freedom of the press, but stated that American reporters make fantastic statements about India which greatly damage our relations with that country. He reported that Prime Minister Nehru is doing a good job at an almost impossible task.

Floyd Faust, minister of the Broad Street Christian Church, featured speaker at the banquet, held the rapt attention of his audience throughout his address on "Alexander Campbell Speaks to Our Day."

Mrs. E. L. Stephenson, 121 E. Lakeview-av, was the chairman in charge of arrangements and Mrs. Ray Hall, 269 E. Morrill-av, was in charge of the decorations for the occasion.

Baby Falls Five Floors

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—Lawrence Woods, 2, fell from a fifth floor window of his parents' apartment and apparently suffered no injuries. A neighbor, Mack Morton, 35, saw the child falling and just missed catching him as he landed in a row of bushes. Taken to a hospital, he was found to be uninjured.

He who would climb and soar aloft
Must needs keep ever at his side

Air-Borne Santa Claus Now At Great Southern

All of the lucky kiddies who saw Santa Claus drop down out of the skies by helicopter last Friday at Great Southern Shopping Center can now visit with him there every day.

He'll be in the Center every evening and Saturdays from 12 noon until 9 p.m. . . . he'll listen to all the secret wishes of every good boy and girl. The youngsters who visited Santa last Friday are pictured at Weiss Shoe Store, where they have put up this beautiful eight-foot tree. All of Santa's friends are invited in for a chat.

KIDS! Mail Your 'Lucky Santa' Letters

Santa Claus made an early visit to Heermie's Appliance Store last Friday night, and made arrangements to get his "Christmas Wish" mail right at the store.

He'll be back in person the last few nights before Christmas so that all youngsters can tell him about their last minute extra special wishes.

In the meantime, all Southeast youngsters are invited to enter his "Lucky Letter" contest. Here's all you have to do to win a prize: Write a letter to Santa and make a wish. Then mail it in the Special Santa's mail Box right here in our store. Santa Claus will judge them and the best letter will receive the gift of his or her choice, not to exceed $10. Mailing deadline is Dec. 21. The prize winner will be announced Christmas Eve. Neatness will be a factor in judging. Print your name, address and phone number on your letter. Remember: the best letter receives a prize. Bring them to Heermie's Appliances, 1894 Parsons-av.

A Picture for Remembrance
THE DEDICATED purpose of every funeral director is to make the final hour of parting one that will bring comfort of mind — to create a Memory Picture that will live through the long years ahead. This is the reason for the beauty of the caskets, the soft lights and music, the flowers and the evidence of tenderness and reverence in the service. We have dedicated our chapel to this high purpose.

CHIEF WARNS DRIVERS TO LOCK PARKED CARS

Police Chief George W. Scholer issued a warning yesterday to motorists and shoppers who leave their cars unlocked either on the streets or in shopping center parking lots.

Chief Scholer said, "December is the worst month for thefts from unlocked parked cars due to the attractiveness of Christmas packages and gifts."

He urged that motorists lock their cars at all times when they are to be parked on the street, in a parking lot or in shopping centers to avoid theft.

The police chief also reminds motorists to be sure to remove car keys from the ignition, always. This is a state law, he said, however, it does not cover locking the car itself. A car, unless it is locked, may be started by tampering with ignition wires. "Thus far, 1957 has been the worst year for auto thefts in recent years," added Chief Scholer.

Schiller Keglers Tune Up For Christmas Tourney

By Tom Crawshaw

The Schiller Saturday A.M. Bowling League has been getting better results from the bowlers who are getting ready for the Christmas tournament, according to Director Crawshaw.

Scores last week were good for both girls and boys. Lewis Purtee rolled high single game with a score of 200. He was closely followed by Jerry Hart with 194 and Kenny Lee with 192. Jerry Hart captured the three-game total honors with a series of 519.

Sandy Pherson paced the girls with high game of 180 and series total of 453.

Team honors were closely fought with the All Stars rolling 912 and 2,692, and Superior Plumbing 905 and 2,643. The girls' team, Hot Shots, rolled 867 and 2,493 for honors.

Team standings for a 10-week period, are these:

Team	Won	Lost
Hot Shots	23	7
Harts Folly	20½	9½
All Stars	20	10
Allied Signs	18	12
Superior Plumbing	18	12
Ideal Sport Goods	17	13
Gems A.C.	13	17
Lucky Strikes	11	19
Roosevelt	5¾	24½

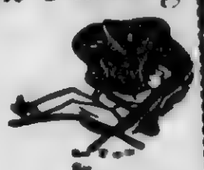
Peb's Plan Yule Party

On Tuesday evening, Dec. 17, 7:30 p.m., the Peb's from South High School will meet at the home of Mrs. Cecil Smith, 312 Southwood-av, for their monthly meeting.



Mrs. Fred Grace, the president, will preside over the business meeting, which will be followed by the Christmas party, when there will be a dollar-gift exchange.

Co-hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Guy Burgess and Mrs. Walter Hilt, Jr., according to Mrs. Herb Germain, publicity chairman.

Intellect can raise,
From airy words alone, a
Pile that ne'er decays.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

SNOWFALL ON ROCKS

The rocks are sharp, the rocks are sharp and hard,
Dull gray they are, unfeeling, motionless
Beneath the sunshine's friendly, light caress,
Their unresponsive features deeply marred
By wind and water, and by frost so scarred
Beyond the power of warmth and light to bless,
Too taciturn and haughty to confess
A kinship with the pulsing land they guard.
But see how snowflakes fill the jagged maw,
And smooth the mutilated craggy brow—
The tell-tale wounds of centuries of shocks—
Till gray white softness covers every flaw,
And Nature shows her misty magic now
In motherly compassion for the rocks.

Russell Pettis Askue,
in his book,
The Brown Thrush Sings.

Columbus has lost a fine man. The Larry Heischman family were our next-door neighbors when their Jo-Ann and our son were small. We had a warm regard and respect for them then, and it has never lessened through the years. Larry, Jr., had not yet arrived when they were our neighbors. Larry's family knows the sentiments of everyone who knew him, including the Weakleys.

Columbus is a better town because "he passed this way."

The privilege of listening in on the conversation of two little girls was given to me recently. How refreshing it is to listen to children when they are not aware that they are being overheard. They discussed—most intelligently—everything from religion to sputnik.

They were sure they saw sputnik, and we were sure it was a plane but didn't disillusion them. I learned that they have an unbounded faith in God; their parents; teachers and in Santa Claus too.

What their parents and teachers tell them is indisputable so far as they are concerned. They read the Bible and know that they will be punished for their minute sins, if they do not ask forgiveness.

They don't care for rock 'n roll; they love the old Shirley Temple films being shown on television; they like Pat Boone but not Elvis; they also like music, poetry, beautiful scenery and sunsets, and have a fierce protective feeling for their younger sisters and brothers.

These children are typical—therefore, I think that so-called juvenile delinquency has been over-rated and over-emphasized.

Hundreds See Nativity Scene

Stable Scene Sunday Evening

Crowds visiting the Nativity scenes at Schiller Park Recreation Center last Sunday were estimated at "several hundred," in spite of the bad weather.

As announced in last week's South Side Leader, there were several stations, each the beginning of the trek to the Nativity scene, which was near the Schiller Park house. The beginning points were manned by one or more attendants to lead an accumulated crowd to the main scene near the house. Pictured is one of numerous scenes in the nativity program.

My Neighbors

"What do I want with smoke-oil—heaven knows that I'm having trouble keeping him quiet as it is!"

Ambition is our idol, on whose wings
Great minds are carry'd only to extreme;
To be sublimely great, or to be nothing.—Thomas Southerne.

Plan Early Construction On Local Freeway Leg

Contracts for the first section of the Cincinnati to Columbus leg of the north-south freeway will be let early next year, Highway Chief Charles M. Noble has announced.

We have tentatively scheduled for contract sale in early 1958 the segment in Franklin County running south of Columbus between Stimmel and Lambert-rds," Noble said.

This segment is technically a relocation of US Routes 62 and 3, Noble pointed out, but will carry State Route 1 — the Cincinnati-Conneaut Freeway.

The department paved the way for early construction of this section by approving the relocation following a public hearing Nov. 7.

Major portion of the freeway's south leg, between Cincinnati and Harrisburg (Franklin County) is planned for construction after July 1, 1959—conclusion of Governor O'Neill's announced biennium program.

The Franklin County section begins at Stimmel-rd, where it ties in with the Sandusky-st leg of Columbus' innerbelt system. From here it extends south to Frank-rd, east of State Route 104.

At this point the new highway begins to angle southwest, following a southwest course to the end of the project just north of Harrisburg. It connects present Routes 62 and 3 just east of the B&O Railroad crossing.

Interchanges are planned at Frank-rd just east of State Route 104; at a point in the vicinity of the present Dyer-rd - State Route 104 intersection; at Stringtown-rd, about midway between Hoover-rd and 104; and at State Route 665, in the vicinity of the Seeds-Haughn intersection with 665.

Provisions will be made for an interchange at Lambert-rd, end of this project, which is to be completed as part of a later project.

Bridges are to be constructed to carry Hoover and Young-rds over the freeway. Another bridge is tentatively planned to carry the Freeway over White-rd, about one mile east of Hoover.

The Hoover bridge (grade separation) is to be built between Orders and Holton-rds, and the Young bridge in the vicinity of the present Young-Zuber intersection.

The new highway is to be four lanes wide, with opposing lanes separated by a median strip. Median width for the entire stretch south of Frank-rd is to be 84 feet wide. It will gradually narrow between Frank and Stimmel to connect the Sandusky Expressway, which has a 50-foot median.

The relocation of Routes 62 and 3 was first discussed at a public hearing last year, after which it was determined certain modifications should be considered. The routing as now adopted is slightly different than the original line.

Slight changes made provide for better interchanges at the Dyer-State Route 104 intersection and Lambert-rd and a less expensive grade separation with the railroad north of Harrisburg.

Noble said the 12-mile Franklin County Freeway section will be constructed as two separate projects.

"We hope to sell the contract for the White-rd to Lambert-rd section by March and the other (Stimmel to White) within a short period after."

Noble noted that some 66 miles of the freeway north of Columbus will be under contract by Christmas.

An unintentional error is often stupid but not as stupid as the derision which often greets it.

It is safe to leave food in tin cans after opening, but like fresh-cooked food, food in tin cans needs to be covered and kept in a refrigerator or other cold place.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from the Bible

In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.—(Psalm 62, 7.)

To whom can one with unfailing assurance turn in time of deep sorrow, when his own strength is as water? There is only one sure salvation, one sure source of strength, and that is in God. He is ever present, ever ready to save us from the depths of despair.

OG's Notes

By OLIVER GEDEIST

Please Take Care Of You! That's the gist of a form letter recently mailed out by the Columbus Fire Department. The mailing is, of course, timely . . . it's time you and I and everyone else should keep fire away from inflammables in and around the Christmas tree and decorations—lest our "merry Christmas" will become our fiery furnace where it oughtn't to be . . . Everyone knows the DON'TS. One DO is important: everyone should know how to call the fire department . . . in Columbus, it's CA. 1-2345. Call the firemen, quickly and without excitement, then get that family out . . . and, O, yes, do not leave little ones alone around any kind of fire, or with matches. Let's observe the simple rules of common sense . . . and live longer . . . Keep Christmas trees away from warm air registers and radiators, heaters, stoves. Be sure your electric outlets or cords are not overloaded!

Student Teacher Brings 'Space' Into Thinking Of Youthful Pupils

While excitement over "Sputnik" still prevails in many areas and while many of us are disturbed by what Russian leaders may do to the world, Columbus has its own counterpart of the Space Age, and it is proceeding with complete indifference to the achievements of the Russians. Miss Marilyn Hedrick is responsible for the presence of the Space Age come to our town. She, by the way, is from Fairfield County right here in our own Ohio.

Of course, there is much more to the situation than meets the eye or mind even in the Space Age, which now is located, under Miss Hedrick's deft touch, in a fifth-grade room where she set up the enticing presentation to help her show the youngsters in the room what "Space Age" means and what the planets are, where they are—and well, just too much for an ordinary reporter to assimilate.

Geophysical Year

This being the Geophysical Year, the young lady from Carrollton and Lithopolis now become a student teacher as part of her educational program at Capital University, where she is in her senior year, undertook to bring the special year into simple understanding for elementary students. Here's what she did and is doing, as well as a reporter inexperienced in the intracies of "Sputniks" and "space" can tell about it. She is majoring in elementary education.

Miss Marilyn Hetrick

The student teacher knows so many words average people never heard that readers should willingly pardon the ignorance on the part of the writer and give approval to Mohawk's contribution to a high scientific development here in our own neighborhood.

Most of us have long wanted to reach the moon, the stars, or at least one of them, but with the full knowledge that we are earthbound except for current air, transportation systems, which do not go high enough—yet. In the schoolroom at Mohawk there are stars, planets, moons, sun — a galaxy of those so-far-distant "things" in our universe that we knows so little about.

In building the program so children could understand, Miss Marilyn Hedrick, student teacher, suspended likenesses with legends of moon and sun, proceeding gradually until Sputnik arrived, when she rearranged or extended her program and gave realism to the subject of space.

Began in September

Miss Hedrick started with stars, the moon, the sun, then to the solar system, including the sun and nine planets. Specially bent and trained wires with "dressing" represent some of the distant bodies, signs help at other points, and when these items have been digested the young teacher took the class into the mysteries of the solar system.

Other Studies

It might seem that the routines of the class might be disturbed by this invasion of unusual things "in the sky," but, Miss Hedrick says, "not so; we pursue the courses prescribed and do not permit the "space" program to interfere in the slightest degree with regular studies.

To point this out Miss Hedrick called the reporter's attention to the new vocabulary the youngsters had mastered, scrap books dealing with "space," creative writing, constellation mobiles, stories, and many interesting library book subjects. Spelling, Miss Hedrick thought, had improved considerably, as well as interest in the subject, since "space" became a substantial part of the thought-life of the pupils.

Large Importance

One of the interesting physical demonstrations of phases of teaching about "space out yonder" is a box with light bulb demonstrating Big and Little Dippers.

The Start

Because of the interest in the Geophysical Year, and questions concerning the meaning of the phrase, it was easy to drift back into an intensive subject of the study, according to Miss Hedrick. That accounts, she said, for the numerous clippings from newspapers, magazines, and other sources, placed on the wall of the room. Some of these may be seen in the picture shown here. There are many of these, some too small to show up in the picture.

So, Miss Hedrick said, it is necessary that regular studies be continued while studying "space" since the education started in the elementary grades must grow and grow into an expanded mental grasp of the world and the significancies in the world—including "space" and its wonders.

Good Time For Hunting Rabbits

pile out of our sight. We figured she was just trailing one of the rabbits we shot. We ignored her and went on. Finally we realized that she was back in the woods again, and almost out of hearing.

Just at that moment she came into view at the fringe of the woods, hot on a trail. She had taken a rabbit into the woods, and the rabbit had circled around the edge again — but we were a quarter of a mile away. We ran back to the woodlot, and we could hear her still trailing deep in the woods. We had to stand quietly to hear her, for the roar of the wind in the trees almost carried her voice away. Suddenly Al called, "Here he comes right toward you." Then I saw the rabbit sneaking along too close for me to shoot. I waited until it got past me and at good range, and then I dropped him neatly.

Lost Trail In Wind

Trudy bove into view trailing furiously. I didn't pick up the rabbit, I wanted to see if she would find it. The dog was trailing at least six feet downwind from where the rabbit actually ran. The scent had drifted that far in the strong wind. Trudy came to the end of the track and was puzzled. She circled in one direction, hit the track, and came to the same dead end. She circled in the other direction, almost jumped over the dead rabbit, hit the track, and was still lost. It wasn't until I showed her the rabbit that she realized it was several feet from its track.

I gave Trudy a pat for doing a good job, and then we hunted on until both had limits. It was a day to remember. We had found rabbits. The rabbits were running. And the dog had a good day.

We shall, indeed, not soon forget this day. But the moral of the story is to not wait for ideal conditions to go hunting. If Al and I had listened to our better judgement we wouldn't have gone afield this day. It would have been easy to say, "This strong wind will ruin scenting conditions," or "All the bunnies will be holed up on a day like this." You can expect a little inclement weather this time of year, but go hunting anyway. It's a long time until opening day, 1958 — and remember, December is for hunting rabbits.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — citrus fruit, apples, bananas, frozen orange juice, dried fruits.

Vegetables — head lettuce, Brussels sprouts, celery, sweet potatoes.

Protein foods — turkey, chicken, ham, sausage, large eggs, cheese.

FESTIVE FOODS

Festivity at Christmas time invariably calls for eating. Children home from school, family dinners, and visits from friends all call for a well-stocked larder that will enable you to serve holiday treats without too much bustling and hustling at the last minute.

Lots of Fresh Fruits — Fresh fruits around the house, either available for between-meal snacks or as part of the regular meal, are probably the most popular type of festive food. And what a wonderful variety of fresh fruits to choose from. We are particularly lucky this year with a good crop of many of them.

If we compare the fresh fruits available today with Grandpa's time, we realize how lucky we really are. At that time a few apples stored in an apple cellar and an orange in the toe of a stocking on Christmas morning were about the extent of holiday fruits. Modern technology and improved marketing practices have changed all that.

When you shop this weekend you'll find Ohio apples of excellent quality, abundance of oranges of various varieties, tangerines, grapefruit, bananas, fresh grapes, fresh pineapple, pears, cranberries . . . all within your budget. At slightly higher prices you can add variety to the fruit bowl with tangelos, kumquats, avocado, and many more.

Dried Fruits Are Popular — They are good mixers, making delicious conversation pieces, as well as contributing good nutrition to menus. Dried fruits do wonders in the cooky jar and dried fruit strips dipped in powdered sugar are particularly easy to serve for an informal party. Dried fruits stuffed with cheese and nuts are a delightful party snack.

Crunchy Nuts Are Popular — To add variety to your festive food bowl, a good supply of the various nuts available will be popular on any holiday table. This year's supply of almonds and filberts is the second largest on record, which means that they will be cheaper than usual. Although the pecan crop is shorter, there are plenty of Brazil nuts, English walnuts and of course, chestnuts are always popular at holiday time. The ever popular Virginia type peanut is always a favorite.

Cheese and Cracker Snacks — Try this good quickie fruit and cheese platter. It's easy to prepare, inexpensive, and will have something to appeal to every taste.

Cover a large platter with crisp salad greens. In center of platter place small dish of salad dressing. Arrange on platter in a pretty pattern: avocado stripe, apple quarters (leave skins on for color), Emperor grapes, grapefruit and orange sections. Garnish with holly or evergreen, and use celery stuffed with cheese for dividers.

Fill another platter with an assortment of cheeses around a center tower of crackers. Add a beverage and let the guests help themselves.

By ROD COCHRAN

The weather was brisk, and the west wind was a little too strong for good hunting conditions. The best time to go hunting, however, is when you can, so Al Staffan and I loaded Trudy into the trunk of my car and we headed for northern Madison County.

This is really the most pleasant time for hunting. The pheasant season is over — the bird fever has run its course. Winter weather keeps you from becoming overheated. Rabbits are in a mood to run, and a good beagle does his best to oblige them. December is for hunting rabbits.

Al and I gained permission to hunt from a farmer friend, and we decided to take a swing around his woodlot. Almost immediately, a bunny poppped out of a dead treetop, and started putting trees between us. I sort of surprised myself by connecting on my first shot of the day. We walked only a short distance and Trudy bounced another rabbit out of some brush, and this one ran in Al's direction. As he picked up his prize, Al remarked, "Maybe all this wind isn't going to hurt things after all."

Scout Fencerows, Brushpiles

It turned out that he was right. After hunting only part of the woodlot, we started toward our favorite field. Its a pasture with several large brushpiles in it. Here is where Trudy really proved her worth. She tackled those brushpiles, and the rabbits came out. Trudy was yelping like a coon hound, and Al and I were burning powder. After the excitement died down, the dog came out of one big brushpile and seemed to be satisfied that all the rabbits had been chased out. So we started over the hill toward a fencerow where a couple of rabbits had headed.

Trudy started barking again about this time behind a brush-

To the experienced eye, the history of the world is locked in rock. That's why these core samples, drilled from deep down in the earth, provide essential clues in the never-ending search for more natural gas.

Science plays a key role in the task of satisfying your ever-increasing requirements for natural gas. Micro-geology and electronics assist in the drilling operation . . . chemistry helps improve the purity of the product . . . automation speeds its distribution.

Today, no effort is spared to make certain that a constant supply of dependable, economical natural gas is always available . . . where you need it, when you need it for better living.

No wonder then that natural gas is the "wonder fuel" . . . modern and efficient. And it serves you best when you use it with modern, automatic gas appliances.

HI. 4-1051

Th "Big Day" draws ever nearer and life gets quite hectic at this point, doesn't it? But all the ordinary things of life continue too, so we'll pass along some of the daily events we've heard about.

Little Stevie Merritt, 384 Reinhard-av, had a 10th birthday on Dec. 12, and another recent birthday was that of Jeannie La Rue, whose natal day occurred on Dec. 10.

South High basketball players play two games away from the home court this week, making a short trip to Eastmoor tonight and a longer trip to Mansfield tomorrow night.

Priscilla Dicke will journey to St. Marys, O., over the week-end to be present at the golden wedding celebration of her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Dicke, Sr. Her brother, Don, will be unable to make the journey, unfortunately.

Betty Sue Edwards, 692 Thurman-av, popular junior at South High School, had a Dec. 16 birthday.

PTA doings that are to take place this week . . . Lincoln Park PTA tonight at 7:30 in the school auditorium. The children will present the program, which will be followed by a sale of homemade articles in the hallway. Stewart and Heyl Schools will meet at 1:30 this afternoon. Stewart PTA will be entertained by the students of the school. At Heyl Avenue, "Christmas Around the World" will be presented by the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. The sixth grade chorus will sing. A short business meeting will precede the program and a tea will follow.

We hope "Tuffy" Lanfear's mouth has healed nicely by now, so he can enjoy his Christmas bone. You see, "Tuffy" forgot he was a dog and thought he was a fish, biting on a fish-hook!

Guild 1 of St. Raphael's will meet on Dec. 21 at 8 p.m. in the home of Miss Ann Cook, 1038 Lockbourne-rd. Assisting her will be Miss Mary Boland.

Mr. and Mrs. Cassady, 1711 S. Third-st, were able to move into their brand new home just in time to get settled for the holiday season.

Three soon-to-take-place weddings that we know about: Patricia Lee Kerns, 999 S. High-st, will become Mrs. Harry I. Gardner on Dec. 21 in Clinton Heights Lutheran Church. South Methodist Church will be the setting for the Dec. 21 wedding of Evelyn Mae Whitten, 640 Napoleon-av, and Burl Allen Whaley, Corning, O. Miss Whitten is a South High graduate. Another South High graduate, Victor Levin, will wed Geraldine Schwab of Buffalo, N. Y., in that city on Dec. 22.

South High EUB WSWS will meet for a Christmas party Dec. 19, in the youth building. The hostess will be Mrs. William Snieder.

The ailing list for today includes two folks: Mrs. Fanny Pfeiffer, 518 Columbus-st, and Virgie Lenox, who spent a few days in Grant Hospital last week.

Marty Pehrson, South High graduate and athletic star who has been hospitalized in Benjamin Franklin, will reach his 21st birthday on Dec. 21. It would be so nice if his former schoolmates and friends would remember him with a shower of cards. Marty's sister, Sandy, will be celebrating her birthday on Dec. 19.

The smaller fry birthday list . . . Anthony Bolton, 374 Hanford-st, Dec. 23; Robert Reed, 368 Sheldon, Dec. 31; Gerald Feyh, 1419 S. Fifth-st, Dec. 19; Christy Preston, 32 E. Ingis, Dec. 23; Phillip Ball, 1578 S. Third-st, whose birthday is a Christmas day one, as is that of Michael Hoffner, 164 Hanford-st; Bonnie Gregory, 1583 S. Third-st, Dec. 24; Jeanne Miller, 1499 S. Fourth-st, Dec. 23; Mansfield Moore, 350 Morrill, Dec. 20; Aretta Moore, 1656 S. High-st, Dec. 4; Cheryl Quest, 1467 S. High-st, Dec. 20; Jerry Ellis, 225 Southwood-av, Dec. 20; John Grayem, 1477 S. High-st, Dec. 19; Peggy Jordan, 1596 S. Fourth-st, Dec. 19; Judith Blackburn, 1570 S. Fourth-st, Dec. 29; and Charles Huston, 1608 Bruck-st, Dec. 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilkerson, Barthman-av, will be celebrating an anniversary on Dec. 23. Two Welch-av residents have December birthdays, one past and one about to occur. Little Deborah Ratliff, 84 E. Welch-av, had several of her schoolmates in to help her celebrate her Dec. 13 birthday. Danny Boyes, 47 E. Welch-av, will be celebrating his birthday very soon, think it's tomorrow.

The Leach family will have a memorable holiday season this year, for the entire family is traveling to California for the festive season. While there they will visit relatives and watch the OSU football team play in the Rose Bowl on Jan. 1.

Guess it was inevitable, with all this scientific talk of today. A little boy, one of the "Asiatic" flu victims, was recuperating in bed. His mother came in the room. He raised up on an elbow and said "Mommy, 'this 'atomic' flu sure is something, isn't it?"

We seem to have reached the end of our news items for this week except the latest report on "Gifts for Giving." I believe we will be able to give the patients at least one gift to pass along to their loved ones and we're so happy, don't mind admitting we were plenty worried for awhile. Our warmest thanks to those folks whose generosity will bring happiness to others less fortunate than themselves, the members of the Southeast CCL; the Friendship class of Ohio Avenue EUB Church; Mrs. Oscar Jenkins and Amanda Chase; Mary Mason, Mrs. Floyd Belcher; Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. H. Rice and son, Bob; Marge Hoptry, Trudeau Guild 3; Trudeau Guild 30; Lillian Ryan, Dale, Glenna and Beth Edwards, Molly Minninni, and the Beginner-Primary classes of Southwood Church of Christ. We'll be able to report on the distribution next week and to give the names of those who helped us. We wish it were possible for everyone who donates to accompany us on the rounds, to see first hand the happiness that their contributions brings to the patients.

Absolutely nothing left to report about now, so we'll be signing off. Do let us in on your Christmas festivities, won't you? We know there will be lots of activity, company coming, folks visiting, out of city relatives, etc., so tell us about it. As always, the phone number is HI. 4-1051. Till next time then, tis

By Esther Weakley

THE CHRIST OF BETHLEHEM

The heavens were filled with a silvery light
Shining down deep into the hearts om men,
Revealing to God the hidden things
And showing the need for Christ—
The light for all mankind.
So Christmas, nearly two thousand years ago,
Was the gift of the Christ Child
To fill the need of man
With an undying faith that bestowed
A spiritual love . . .
Today, on lofty mountain peak
And across the mighty ocean foam,
In valleys deep and in fertile fields;
Where cities and villages meet,
We find the Christ of Bethlehem.
Invisible, He stands with outstretched hands
To welcome all who will accept His love.
The bells of Christmastide still carry
The tidings of peace and joy to all hearts everywhere,
And the true spirit of Christmas extends
To our neighbors and friends, and those who tarry
In distant lands — to find the Christ of Bethlehem.

Nellie Gray Amsbary.

Mrs. Amsbary is an ex-Hilltopper, now living in Gallipolis. This poem has been published and read read on various radio programs.

LITTLE TOWNS

We like little towns on Christmas Day,
With streets running gaily every-which-way
Past cottage and stable, but going nowhere,
With a "Good Morning" here and a "Howdy-do" there;
Past chapel and church tower and pointed spire
With sweet carolers from the village choir;
Past chimneys high and past chimneys low
With stockings and presents all hung in a row;
Asking for nothing from hollow and hill
But a Star to guide them and guard them still.
These little towns—we sorta like them—
They sorta remind us of Bethlehem.

Fred Zartman.

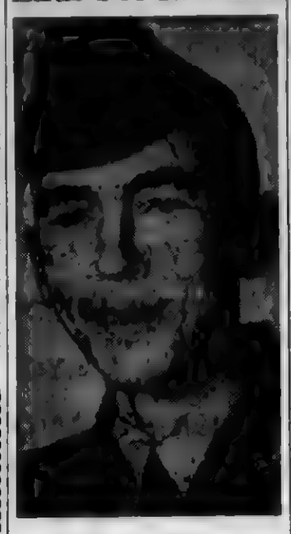
A MOTHER'S WAY

Son, when you find the Baby King tonight—
Before you offer frankincese and gold,
Give His Mother this white woolen blanket
So she can protect Him from the cold.
Tell her it is one I made for you
When you were little . . . she will understand.



And when you and the others reach the barn,
Do not approach it with your arms outstretched
Lest she see your shadows,
Like three crosses, etched
Across the sand!

Bids Rejected On Addition For Village

Building commission for the Franklin Village receiving center may have to accept a structure cut to a size once referred to as "disappointing" by the Child Welfare Board, because of their limited fund of $300,000 made available by voters a year ago in the general election.

Bids made two weeks ago were all rejected by the commission, headed by Ollie Oelgoetz, because they were all too high. The lowest bid submitted was $348,000. It has now been decided to eliminate part of the proposed structure and readvertise for bids to be opened Jan. 22.

Oelgoetz said two wings, with a capacity of 24 children each, are being cut from the original plans. He added that one wing had already been deleted in alternate bids.

The Child Welfare Board officials in July termed plans for a center equipped for 36 children as "disappointing." Oelgoetz said the structure as now planned will have facilities for 42 children, as compared to the 60 or 65 in the original plans.

Ralph C. Kempton, commission architect, said the bids were not out of line. He said that the two wings can be added should the need arise at a later date.

NO LAST FRONTIERS

America is still the land of opportunity. Every day there are those who have contrived some new way to be useful and to make that usefulness pay. There are no last frontiers for an American. Nor will there ever be. There always will be something just a little way ahead that is an improvement upon what has gone before. —Elbert Hubbard.

Optimists Boys' Glee Club Practices Under Paul Ward At South Side YMCA

The Optimist Boys' Glee Club is pictured above under the direction of Paul Ward from Central High School. Practice for the group is held every Monday night at the South Side Branch YMCA. Along with their singing engagements through the year, many outdoor activities tours, and a week at the South "Y" Park during the summer are included in their experiences. Membership of the Glee Club has increased by 10 members over last year's attendance. Boys with good voices are encouraged to attend any Monday night practice to become acquainted with the proceedings, it was said. Pictured in the front row, left to right are Jeff Nogawick, Bill McCarthy, Robbie Burton, Richard Bartlett, John Brining, Ed Yeauger, Ed McCarty, and Bob Justus. Middle row: Bob Truax, Mike Fischer, Ed Speakman, Tom Hauck, Roger Stallard, Jack Sigafoos, Stanley Sobel, Mike Harold, Ray Speakman, and Jim McMahan. Back row: Alan Cook, Charles Richardson, Dennis Adams, Don Wonn and Tim Cook.

S. H. School Hi-Y Club Inducts Into Group

Pictured above are the leaders and backbone of the South High School Hi-Y Club. They recently took part in the induction of 16 new boys into the club and are now in the process of planning entertaining and educational activities for the coming year for the newly formed club.

"Time and effort of these boys, and many others like them, have made a contribution to the community that is often left unnoticed by the accent being placed on the other extreme of their peers, a spokesman said, adding, "They are true members of the community."

"The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?"

Find the strength for your life...

...KEEP TOGETHER THIS WEEK

"I have never known a man to have f[illegible]," goes an American adage, "unless he first has faith in God."

It takes such courage to face life . . . greater courage than any of us has alone. It takes such strength to accept success humbly, to overcome setbacks . . . greater strength than any of us has alone.

And yet the world is full of unacclaimed heroes and heroines . . . men and women who have, in the course of their lives, faced seemingly insurmountable obstacles and griefs. Faced them, and conquered them. If they were the kind of people who talked about themselves, they'd tell you . . . "I never could have done it without the help of God."

The strong Faith they called on to help them can be yours. Build such a Faith for yourself. Make it the firm foundation of your family's security and happiness. Begin this week to worship together at your Church or Synagogue. There you'll find the strength for your life.

Says State Lands Available For Street Extension

R. M. Larimer, director-designate of Ohio Public Works, announced last Thursday that State Hospital ground on W. Broad-st could be made available for the proposed southern extension of Grandview-av.

Councilman W. Ralston Westlake made the original proposal that Grandview-av be extended south of McKinley-av across W. Broad-st to connect with S. Central-av.

Larimer said the exact location of the proposed route would have to be determined in connection with plans to build State Highway Department buildings on the site. The new roadway would cut across state-owned property both north and south of Broad-st.

Westlake was to introduce legislation before City Council Monday night asking the state to give the project top priority.

City Council Monday night authorized Service Director Floyd C. Radick to meet with the state highway director to discuss the continuation of Grandview-av to Central-av.

Barrett Wins

Barrett Junior High School cagers won a hard game with Starling Junior High School by a score of 32 to 31 Thursday evening, Dec. 12.

Barrett was behind through the end of the third quarter. Valentine made 10 points for Barrett, Schumacher made nine and Merriman made 7. Potts made 12 for Starling and Miller made 4.

Coach McCualsky was pleased with the defensive floor work, but was very unhappy about some atrocious passing and scoring, which he plans to correct.

Toys given to toddlers should not have removable parts which the child may put into his mouth.

POOR HOST

A house party guest was asked if he were having a good time.

"Oh, sure," he replied. "Fine food. I have a swell room, the host and hostess are marvelous, weather is great, and the entertainment is all anyone could ask. Actually there's only one thing —

"One thing you don't like?" asked his fellow guest. "And what might that be?"

"Probably I shouldn't even mention it, but to be perfectly frank with you — they're not giving me any spending money." — Investment Dealer's Digest.

Holiday TURKEY

Turkey is a favorite holiday treat, so be sure your bird is tailor-made to fit your family's holiday appetites and plans.

Birds are plentiful at this time of year and most stores are stocked with birds ranging from 6-pound hens to 27-pound toms. A young turkey weighing between 4 and 6 pounds is ideal for a small family. For a slightly larger number, a young hen or tom weighing from 10 to 25 pounds will provide ample servings.

Allow at least one pound of uncooked bird per serving. If you plan two dinner parties, it's wise to buy a larger bird, cut it in half and store half in a locker or home freezer.

Select your bird carefully. A tender, juicy bird will have plenty of finish, or fat. This fat is most noticeable in the feather tracts, but should cover the entire bird. The best turkey has moderate depth and a well-fleshed breast carrying well back between the legs. A broad back and short drumsticks also mean more meat per pound.

A well-fleshed bird has a broad, flat breast and enough flesh over the back, legs and thighs to make all parts of the dressed bird blend together, with no prominent bones.

Holiday Decorations

Instead of the conventional wreath on the outside of your door why not string some bells and tree ornaments on narrow baby ribbon and hang from a huge red bow?

Make your door and window frames bright and cheerful by framing them with ribbon and sprigs of holly. Hang the ribbon in festoons across the curtains and tie at the sides in wide sash bows for colorful effect.

While Joseph and Mary were at Bethlehem, the days for her to be delivered were fulfilled, and she brought forth her first-born son, wrapped him up in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger. (From the second chapter of St. Luke.)

Brilliant Star Heralds Birth Of Christ Child In Bethlehem Stable

King David Line Linked To Holy Son

GOSPEL OF ST. MATTHEW

And all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost.

Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily.

But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife.

And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins.

Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet saying,

Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us.

Then Joseph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him.

And knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son; and he called his name JESUS.

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and we are come to worship him.

(From the first chapters of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, with the omission of the verses recounting the genealogy of the House of David.)

Family Is Turned From Inn; Child Born In Manger Cradle

GOSPEL OF ST. LUKE

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria).

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David).

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, living in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

An when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS.

And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord.

And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, a pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him.

And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ.

And he came for the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said,

Lord, now letteat thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:

For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,

Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

And Simeon blessed them and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against;

(Yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom and the grace of God was upon him.

Miracle Of Child's Holy Birth Is Foretold In Angel's Tidings

GOSPEL of ST. LUKE

There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia; and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.

And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.

And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing at the right side of the altar of incense.

And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

But the angel said unto him, Fear not Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.

And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth.

And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God.

And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this?

And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.

And when he came out, he could not speak unto them; and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple; for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless.

And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God in-

Writing two columns within a few days time means a short second one, so hope you don't mind a brief visit this week.

In addition to the Christmas activity, one young couple will long remember December, 1957 for another reason. Stacy Smerles, of N. 4th-st. and Gregg Arvantes, 615 E. Sycamore-st, will be married on "Bride and Groom" TV program, on Dec. 27. Miss Smerles is an Ohio Bell Telephone employe and her fiance is a student in the College of Commerce at OSU. Three other couples have chosen Dec. 28 as their wedding date, so congratulations to them as well. Patty Martin, 1060 S. High-st, will wed Carl J Dammeir, of Highland, New York in Gates-Fourth Methodist Church at 7:30 in an open church wedding. Beverly Ann Benedict, 1079 Ellsworth-av, will become Mrs. Phillip C. Reed this Saturday. Patricia Wolf, 1350 S. James-rd and Charles William Holden, 188 Sheffield-rd, will exchange their 9:30 a.m. vows in Christ the King Church.

Gertrude Ramey, S. 3rd-st, finds life a little complicated these days, attempting to do things with a severly burned hand.

Ailing members of the community that we know about include Nancy Edwards, 198 Jenkins, James Ritter, 336 E. Jenkins-av and Andrew Paskell, 171 Markison-av. Even tho this is such a busy time, there is one thing we'd appreciate your doing. Marie Hoffman, 229 Southwood-av, is in Mt. Carmel Hospital and had her second leg removed. Her morale is very low, and cards would give her a needed lift. Please remember her, won't you? We'll remind you again next week, if you don't mind. (She is the mother of Kate Williams, of the Southwood Market, incidentally).

Four families we know about have done some travelling during the Christmas vacation . . . Slim and Jean Snyder, with "Sonny" will spend the entire vacation in Florida; Lana and Lorraine Itskin and son Darrel, were in northern Ohio; the Ikehorns will spend a few days in Toledo, and the Snyder family of Deshler-av will be in New York. Edith LeRue, of Florida is in Columbus for the holiday season. Oh yes, and "Mailman" Don Dicke will put aside his mail bag and travel to Terre Haute, Ind., with the Capital University basketball team, Dec. 26 and 27.

Christmas week birthdays . . . Richard Early, 398 Southwood-av, Dec. 24; Mary Coleman, 162 Welch, Dec. 30; Carol Deri, 137 Hinman-av; Dec. 26; Beverly Blackburn, 1370 S. 4th-st, Dec. 30; Bill Kinser, 1359 S. 5th-st, Dec. 26; Saundra Brooks, 1578 S. 3rd-st, Dec. 28; Susan Willoughby, 81 Hanford-st, Dec. 30; Lon Evans, 1317 S. High-st, Dec. 29; Marlin Harrington, 157 Hanford-st, Dec. 31; Richard Woods, 161 Frebis-av, Dec. 31; Mary Bivens, 306 Welch-av, Dec. 30; Linda Carter, 124 E. Morrill-av, Dec. 27; and James Hemmerly, 211 Southwood-av, Dec. 30.

Received a warm note of thanks from Mrs. Homer Doty, asking us to thank her Columbus friends for sending her cheery wishes while she was so ill. She still must rest a lot but is allowed up a little longer each day, so that is encouraging.

And now to our Gifts for Giving project and another report. The things were delivered on Dec. 18 to very appreciative patients. Due to some of the things being received later, another load was delivered on Dec. 22, and the articles designated for Orient were delivered on that date also. Our helpers at Benjamin Franklin Hospital were Mary Claar, Mrs. Bier, our beloved "doll lady"; Lova Itskin, Mary Eichel and D. D. Germaine. Three contributors since last edition were Wilma Herrel, the Horizon Club Re-Hi-Go, and Ashville Methodist Church. The latecoming things will be given to the needier patients at the San so they can remember more members of their families, particularly their children. High spots for ye Gadabout were many, but naturally one or two stand out particularly. One was a young lad who asked for something for his nine brothers and sisters so he received a chest of games. Another young father was so grateful, as he'd worried about not being able to give anything to his seven year old daughter. This had worried him considerably, naturally. So our very deepest thanks to all the wonderful folks who once again made the project a success. And Mrs. Bier asks that we thank all her contributors also, in-helping her with her wonderful project. We should also include our patient spouse, Paul Lenox, for his part in the success, for his chaufeuring in the pick-ups, and stepping around a crowded dining room so sweetly! Thanks everyone!

May Christmas for all of you be a wonderful thing, with the Spirit of Christ prevailing. That is the wish from—The Gadabout

Meeting Set

The Men's Brotherhood of Washington-av Evangelical United Brethren Church, of which Boyd C. Rife is pastor, will meet at the church Thursday, Jan. 2, 7:30 o'clock, according to an announcement.

Industry With A Bible In It

When the reporter went to get a picture of the large Christmas tree was set up in the lobby of the office building of Buckeye Steel, he found a book somewhat unusual for a large industrial program. The unusual book for an industry is the Bible, which is placed with other reading material for persons calling on various executives of the company and awaiting the coming of the desired official. According to a spokesman for the company, the Bible has had a lot of usage, and has proved through five years to be a popular contribution to "waiting" for a desired company official. The tree was set up by Art Starrett.

Holy Birth—

to a city of Galilee, named Nazareth.

To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David, and the virgin's name was Mary.

And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee; blessed are thou among women.

And when she saw him she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favour with God.

And, behold, thou shalt bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.

He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David:

And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.

OG's Notes

By OLIVER GEDEIST

Merry Christmas

Yes, Merry Christmas. May the holy peace designed by the Divine for human living and for the soul of humanity be at least approximated during this season of good will and happy good wishes. Merry Christmas!

We must, of course, realize that there is no peace in the earth—man is too weak an institution to expect that that much-desired accomplishment ever will be achieved. That, however, does not justify hopeless resignation to the inevitable. Nearly every adverse circumstance holds some alleviation from human fears if people will seize upon the proper pitch in thinking . . . alleviation from fear is one of the segments available to man in his progress toward what the future holds.

There's hope for all who order minds and hearts to receive the spirit of kindness and helpfulness, the key to the happiest sort of human living. The one phase of observance of Christmas which leads man upward is our proneness to give . . . to share with friends and neighbors . . . to let them know that they are in our minds and make a happy spot in our lives when they are present . . . that's toward making for "Merry Christmas!" . . . and we are glad that it is so—that this good wish carries to you every significance indicated in MERRY CHRISTMAS . . . . from me to YOU!

Thank You . . .

Yes, our hearts are filled with gladness that so many of you were kind enough to flood us with Christmas greetings, including a great array of Christmas cards . . . bless you, every one of you . . . and the family joins me in wholehearted gratitude . . . THANK YOU ! ! ! ! . . . EVERY ONE OF YOU!

Merry Christmas!

Yes, Merry Christmas to you, whoe'er you be. May the joy represented by the birth of the Babe in the lowly stall be reflected in every heart . . . and Happy New Year too!

Christmas Spirit Present At South

The Y-Teens Club of South High School is again sponsoring its Christmas basket project for the needy.

Each homeroom in the building has picked the name of a needy famly and is filling a basket full of the materials needed for a happy Christmas dinner. Some of these things are vegetables, bread, butter, potatoes, milk, and such extras as candy, cookies, nuts. Money will be taken up to buy such perishables as some of the vegetables and meat.

South High School has always had the reputation of giving freely to such worthwhile projects as the Shoe Fund and the Christmas baskets and it hopes to surpass previous goals, this year. — by Dorothy Ruoff.

SECOND PERFORMANCE

Remember the drama at Bethlehem,
The star over a stable of hay
When three of the players in diadem
Brought riches from far away.

Remember the light on the noble cast,
The hush on the lowly stage;
Little was spoken yet wonder will last
For the audience of each new age.

Though all of the actors, gone from the earth
Will never hallow our sight,
Will the glistening star that shone on that birth
Bend low again one night?

CHRISTMAS YARN

"Christmas," she said, "is nothing but worry;
A string of tinsel to dim a star;
The whisper of feathers lost in a flurry
Of angel hair from a Ten Cent Store."
Then she fluted tissue until it pointed
A star for a glass of currant jam
And never saw that her love anointed
The ruby glass to a Wise Man's gem.
Needles chattered of minutes timing
Heart beat wound with a skein of wool.
Doesn't she know the bells are chiming,
Marking the date of an infant's wail?

The Recording Angel frowned and nibbled
A quill as he watched from Celestial Height:
"She didn't worship," he wrote, then scribbled,
"The gloves she knitted warmed a heart."

Vandals Hit Yule Tree At Church

Pastor Boyd G. Rife, of Washington-av EUB Church, at Washington and Markison-avs, thinks it is about time that vandals stopped taking the lights from the church's Christmas tree.

The latest light-bulb-snatching occurred last Wednesday evening, the pastor said, some time after the evening service was held.

The previous raid was made on a Sunday evening. In both incidents most of the light bulbs were removed, it was said, involving a considerable amount of money.

Eight trees were denuded of bulbs along with other decorations.

New Zealander Awarded Degree, Returns Home

John J. Small, PhD., whose home is in Christchurch, New Zealand, has returned to his native country with his wife and their first-born, a daughter, born in University Hospital.

Last week the New Zealander was awarded the degree of philosophy at OSU.

Perhaps the largest audience in South Side appearances was at St. Mary, where Dr. Small spoke on the subject of his own country and customs, especially those having to do with education.

Dr. Small and his family had looked forward to a more leisurly trip than they are taking. Instead of visiting a number of places as well as having time to bid good-by in person to many who have been impressed by the friendliness of the new philosophy doctor, they left Monday for the West Coast, stopping for a few hours in two cities along the way, and leaving at midweek for their home, all the way by air.

A professorship awaits the new doctor and they must be there right away to take advantage of the position. The couple married just before leaving their homeland in August of 1955. He was a Fullbright exchange student and arrived with his wife in time for the opening of OSU in Sept., 1955.

Their daughter was born in December, 1956.

Barrett Wins Its Second League Game

(By Barrett Reporter)

Barrett Junior High School Cagers beat West Junior High School by score of 44 to 37 last Thursday.

Barrett took an early lead and was ahead at the half by 26 to 19. However, West was a real threat during the entire second half. Merriman, Bell, Gaulke, Schumacher, and Valentine scored for Barrett and Kenny Lee played a good floor game. Schumacher played an outstanding floor game, besides scoring points. Valentine played his usual good game. Gaulke did well on rebounds and brought up his scoring potential.

For West, Hill made 18 points. Ross scored 7 points, besides playing a rather special floor game.

Earlier in the week Barrett dropped a non-league game to Indianola, 42 to 39.

Indianola won the game at Barrett's expense on free throws.

Former Canal Winchester Resident Dies Dec. 19

Mrs. Shirley Z. Green, 68, of 1276 S. Champion-av, died Dec. 19. She was formerly of Canal Winchester.

The New Look For Hunters This Year Is Bright Yellow

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

One of the most interesting observations I've made during the hunting season this year is the trend to yellow in hunting togs. The traditional red hunting cap and jacket is giving way to the brighter color. This is particularly true among deer hunters. Some hunters are also using bright orange clothes.

This swing to yellow was prompted by the fact that researchers have found it is the most visible color in the woods. Red is not easy to see in poor light, even when the fabric is new and bright. Then too, one in every ten men is color blind. This is a frightening thought when you consider that red-green color blindness is the most common kind.

The flashy togs shouldn't spook game, for biologists claim that most wild animals cannot distinguish colors—everything looks grey to them. Extensive studies have been carried out on deer and dogs, and they always wind up with the same answer. They are both completely color blind. Experienced hunters will tell you that animals look for movements and not for colors.

Not Bulletproof, Though

They haven't discovered a color that is bullet proof yet, so the important factor in hunting safety is to be sure of your target. For heaven's sake don't shoot at movements in the brush, or at what you think is a squirrel or deer. Get a clear picture of game animals before you pull up your gun.

If you must wear red, however, the studies pointed out that neon red and fire orange, made of fluorescent dyes, were more visible than ordinary red.

Before next hunting season rolls around you will be seeing more and more bright yellow clothes in the sporting goods stores. Yellow boots were available this year. It won't be long until hunters will be tramping around in clothes more gaudy than the feathers of a cock ringneck.

Funeral Services Held For John Metzger, 79

Funeral services for John W. Metzger, 79 of 96 Alcott-rd, were held in Schoedinger Hilltop Chapel Saturday. He died Dec. 18 in Alum Crest Hospital.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Frances Pritt; a son, John; sister, Mrs. Mae Broom and a brother, Ralph Metzger, two grandchildren.

Burial was in Darbyville Cemetery.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Holiday Foods — Citrus fruit, apples, dried fruits, popcorn, variety of cheeses, milk and eggs for eggnog, nuts, food for last-minute gifts.

After Christmas

'Tis the night before Christmas and you probably have done your food buying for the most festive meal of the year. When that event is over all of us will have to give some thought to food for meals and snacks for the rest of the holidays.

Fresh Fruits — Now is the opportune time to serve your most tempting fresh fruit salads and desserts. They are easy to prepare and add lightness to the heartier-than-usual holiday meals. And at this season you are lucky, because the supply of several season fruits is outstanding. Among the fruits more plentiful than usual in December this year are apples, winter pears, oranges and grapefruit. Bananas are good now and there are still fine Emperor grapes. Keep the fruit bowl full of shiny red apples and these wonderful fresh fruits, and watch them disappear.

Grapefruit — Versatile and still inexpensive, is now at its best in sweetness and flavor. Besides being refreshing and appetizing, it is one of our best sources of Vitamin C, the vitamin that we must have daily because our bodies cannot store it. Being low in calories is an advantage, too, at this season.

After you've tried all the ways you know of serving grapefruit halves and sections, try adding a scoop of orange sherbet in the center of a grapefruit half for a refreshing dessert. The new cocoanut flakes, either plain or tinted, are delicious with grapefruit and orange sections. Serve them very cold to bring out the nippy flavor. If you have received gifts of exotic fruits as avocados, persimmons or pomegranates, they will add appealing touches to both salads and desserts.

Confections For Children

If there are children in your family, the old tradition of making candy at home will show up during the holidays. Mothers often ask about candies simple enough for children to make and suitable for them to eat as well.

Dried fruit balls are among the confections that meet these specifications. They require no cooking. Simply grind or chop a mixture of dried fruits—apricots, raisins, prunes, dates or figs as desired. Add some orange juice and peel if you like. Then shape the mixture into balls and roll in powdered sugar. For variety roll in shredded cocoanut, graham cracker crumbs, or corn flakes. The blend of different dried fruits gives these confections an attractive flavor. They offer good nutritive value along with the natural sweetness of the fruit. And they're so easy to make!

Some other confections suited to children's making and eating: popcorn balls, sugared popcorn, and prunes or dates stuffed with nut meats. Your small fry will love sharing these goodies with their friends.

'First Baby '58' Marathon Has Many Rich Prizes

Large List Of Merchants, Service, Businesses Offer Reward For First Leader Area Baby Born In 1958

Gifts

Reading the list of items set aside for the first baby born in the South Side Leader area sounds like calling the role of about all the items a new baby would need. Most South Side people are aware of the section called the South Side Leader area. For the benefit of those who do not remember or are new in the area, the following is the area in which the prizes are offered in the South Side Baby Derby for 1958:

In order to establish eligibility to enter the contest, parents of the baby must reside in the area serviced by The South Side Leader. The area is bounded by Livingston-av on the north to Lockbourne-av; south to Frebis-av; east to the N&W railroad; south to Watkins-rd; east to Lockbourne-rd; north to Marion-rd; east to Parsons-av; south to Dexter-rd; east to S. High-st; north to Kossuth-st; east to S. Sixth-st, north to Livingston-av.

The simple contest rules make this one of the easiest contests one could want to enter. The first requirement, of course, is that you live in the area described above in bold type—in what is known as the South Side Leader area. Officials of the contest say that the rules must be completely fulfilled—like the place of residence and like the date, hour, minute, second of birth, and the names of parents.

Man, persons keep the rules as published below and check immediately after birth to be sure the parents will qualify for their new-born 1958 baby. "Just before" and "just after" the time will not qualify. Birth must be after midnight of Dec. 31 and exactness is important in reporting the exact time—like minutes and seconds.

Magnificent

In event of ties, the one first officially reported will be declared winner. These simple details should be completed early and taken to the South Side Leader office, 1542 Parsons-av, Thursday, Jan. 2.

The list of magnficent prizes awaiting the 1958 youngster who arrives in time to claim the articles described in the following list will be "rich in reward" and a blessing to the parents, provided they do their part by making immediate and complete report with the required details.

Prizes for Baby

Prizes are listed below and are given by the business houses whose names precede the prizes:

Fountain Drug Store—40-piece Even-Flo Layette feeding set.

Hoermle's Appliances — West Bend aluminum baby bottle sterilizer.

Heil & Scheiderer Hdwe.: porcelain sanitary diaper pail.

High Mithoff Pharmacy—Johnson & Johnson baby set.

Joe Ronson's Barber Shop — Free haircuit for any member of the family.

Fayette Beauty Salon — Free shampoo and wave for mother.

To be installed are Helmuth Guthell, 243 Mithoff-st, and Hugo Schweizer, 220 Jenkins-av, as elders, while Curtis Hicks, Jr., 710 Franklin-av, Paul Roth, 4732 Grebus-rd, and George C. Reefer, 886 Wilson-av, will be installed as deacons; Robert Herren, 7663 Sawmill-rd, as trustee; Thomas Haines, 1338 Miller-av, as recording secretary; Albert Schwenkel, 1999 Elmwood-av, as treasurer.

Richard Rausch, 311 Deshler-av, was elected to the Board of Religious Education. Norman Volz, 1098 Kingsbury-pl, was named assistant Sunday School superintendent.

Local Church, National Group In Anniversaries

Wilson-av Church of the Nazarene, 1650 Wilson-av, joins the denomination in the celebration of its golden anniversary year, according to the pastor, Rev. D. E. Day. The pastor explained: The church became a denomination in 1908 when groups of like faith from various parts of the country met at Pilot Point, Tex., and formulated the basis for union.

The Board of General Superintendents at the international headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., has proclaimed 1958 as the anniversary year and that it should be a year of intense activity and growth befitting the anniversary.

The Church of the Nazarene has experienced a continuous growth since its beginning. The membership in 1908 was around 6,000 and within 50 years has gained to over 300,000.

The church maintains seven colleges in the United States, one in the British Isles, and one in Canada, as well as a theological seminary in Kansas City, Mo. The missionary outreach of the church, it was stated, touches almost every major field in the world with 346 missionaries and 1,418 native workers.

The tithing plan is urged as the scriptural method of supporting the work of the church; The per capita giving for the entire membership for 1956 was $130.

The local church on Wilson-av, formerly on Parsons-av, was organized in January 1928, therefore will celebrate its 30th anniversary during this same year.

Special services will be held Sunday, Jan. 5, to begin the golden anniversary year. Sunday school will begin at 9:30, followed by the worship service at 10:30. The choir will introduce the golden anniversary song, "The Sun Never Sets in the Morning," by Haldor Lilliness, nationally known gospel song writer, during the worship service, and the pastor will speak on the subject, "Preparing for a Greater Tomorrow," he said.

An evening service at 7:30 p.m. will feature the old hymns of the church to the accompaniment of an old-fashioned reed organ. Members who have been with the church since the beginning will have a part in the service.

Hours Set At Center

Schiller Recreation Center will observe the following hours this week. Monday, Thursday and Friday the Center will be open from 12 noon until 9:45 p.m. On Tuesday the hours will be from 12 noon till 5 p.m. On Saturday the regular hours of 9 a.m. to 12 noon will be observed.

Beginning Monday, Jan. 6, the regular hours of 2 p.m. to 9:45 will see the building open Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday. During school days, boys and girls who are attending school will not be permitted in the building until after school is out for the day.

New Bicycle Racks Now Being Used

Schiller Recreation Center now has two new bicycle racks, which were installed last week. These were purchased from the "Coke" fund sponsored by the bikes and they have been placed near the parking area of the Council of South Side Organizations. Each rack will hold 20 bikes and they have been placed near the parking area of the Center.

All people riding bikes to the Center are asked to park their vehicle in the rack, and, as a safety measure, the bike should be locked to the rack if at all possible.

New Year's Eve Service Dated

Rev. John O. Lang has announced that St. Paul's Lutheran church at 322 Stewart-av, will follow a long-established custom, and hold a service at 7:45 p.m. New Year's Eve. The pastor said he will speak on "Enter the New Year With Hope."

Glub, glub, will someone please push those pot-holder aside long enough to let me write the column? Santa left a loom for the eight-year-old, and six packages of material. At the rate she's going (with help from the ten and fifteen year olds) we'll have a potholder for every day of the year! Think we'll start a new style by sewing them together in a dress . . . it could not look much worse than some of the creations being sold now-a-days.

As we said we'd do last week, we are again making an appeal for cheery cards and letters for Marie Hoffman, 229 Southwood-av, who had a second leg removed a short while ago. Her morale is very low and thoughtfulness now would be so much appreciated. She is a German lady who loves so much to converse in her original tongue, so if any of the readers who know this language could visit her personally in her home, you would certainly be doing her a great kindness. She is the mother of the popular Kate Williams, of Southwood Market.

The South High Bulldogs visit Middletown on Jan. 3. Good luck against Jerry Lucas, stringbeans! Our own stringbean travelled to Terre Haute, Ind. for the Midwest Jaycee Tournament. The first opponent was Indiana Central and Cap won by a close 67-63. Game two, with Bellarmine was lost, 69-60. (Our Cap student must have expected to stay awhile . . . he took all five shirts that Santa had in his pack for him!)

It was with great shock that we heard of the death of Elta Butler, charter member and most beloved member of the Trudeau Guilds. To her family, the greatest sympathy at her too-young demise.

Birthday time for the following youngsters: Evelyn Crego, 1422 S. 3rd-st, Jan. 2; Terry Bradley, 245 Southwood-av, Jan. 4; Darrell Hughes, 1849 S. 3rd-st, Jan. 6; Eddie Whitson, 1951 Gantz-rd, Dec. 29; Charles O'Neill, 46 Southwood, Jan. 2; Roy Cassary, 19 E. Innis-av, Jan. 3; Edith Curry, 1695 S. Pearl-st, Jan. 8; Ida Marcum, 195 E. Moler-st, Jan. 6; Jane Smith, 34 W. Hinman, Jan. 6; Larry Claar, Gantz-rd, Jan. 3 and Vivian Taylor, 94 E. Woodrow-av, Jan. 1.

Bob Schwab and Edna Ann Baughman were two college students we know who were home for the Holiday Season.

The State Hospital patients were recipients of 19 boxes, donated by the Loyal Women's Class of Southwood Church of Christ.

Helen Arrick figures in our news in two ways today. First, a belated greeting for her Dec. 21 birthday. Second, she and hubby Don with son, Joe, will be receiving friends at 1479 S. High-st. Don't know is they're in their new residence or not but we imagine they should be there by now. Welcome home, strangers!

Happy birthdays to two fine gals . . . Helen Branscome, 1789 Goethe-st, and Marge Hoptry, 280 Southwood-av, Helen's natal day is Jan. 1, while Marge celebrates on Jan. 8.

Shirley Bushman is having the thrill of her young life, for she is attending the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena with her uncle, Bob Anderson. The two were planning to make the trip by plane. Shirley is a resident of S. 3rd-st, and her uncle resides on Jenkins-av.

A pre-Christmas jaunt to New York City was the happy way that Audrey Weaver, 73 Morrill-av, spent her time prior to Dec. 25. The vacation was spent in shopping and theater going.

The Frey family, of 1660 S. 4th-st, are certainly conservative about using the other months of the year to celebrate birthdays and anniversaries. Mr. and Mrs. Dohrman Frey, celebrate an anniversary on Jan. 1, which is also the birthday of Mr. Frey. January 1 is also the birthday of the Frey's son, Robert. A daughter, Shirley Beck, celebrated her birthday on Dec. 28, to make the week a humdinger in the gift giving department. (A five-way job, if my figuring is accurate.)

Joseph Mansburger, 323 Markison-av, will exchange his Jan. 4 vows with Ruth Stanley, 523 Cliffside-dr. The program director of WTVN-TV is a South High graduate and attended OSU. His bride-to-be is a graduate of North High School and OSU.

One of our reasons for enjoying Christmas cards so much is the yearly exchange of news with folks we only hear from at this time of the year. One such card was from a former South Sider of many years, Velda Brown. Since her children had attended the South Side schools, we're sure their former classmates would appreciate news about them. Joyce Bologh had her second offspring, a daughter, about 11 weeks ago and named her Linda Suzanne. Larry is now married and is a resident of Detroit, Mich. Roy is a paratrooper in Missouri. Bob is still a little young for service or matrimony, so is taking care of the educational department.

Mr. Boyes, of Welch-av, hopes his daughter Debby doesn't acquire any more black eyes . . . he'd take her places and people would glower at him, as if he'd done the eye darkening job on his young daughter! Mr. Boyes, you big brute.

The Sergo family, of Gilbert-t, are busy entertaining their daughter who is visiting from Connecticut.

Don and Mary LaRue spent the recent weekend visiting Mary's sister in northern Ohio.

Local Boy Wins 'Lucky Santa' Letter Contest At Hoermle's Store

Gabriel Lopresti now "believes in Santa Claus." Until last week Gabriel was not anticipating a "high" Christmas. He lives with his mother at 326 Hinman-av. He also reads the South Side Leader. It was there that he learned about Hoermle's First Annual "Lucky Santa" letter contest. He entered the contest — and Gabriel won the contest, as is indicated in the picture when the happy youngster had received an armful of gifts from Mr. Hoermle, as shown in the picture above.

Gabriel picked out his own desired items — and received them free because he won the contest. Among the items were a football, a "Cootie" game, a test-drive set, Roy Roger lantern, a Rin-Tin game.

"Does it seem like Christmas now?" Gabriel was asked, to which he replied, "Even though there is no snow, I really think this is Christmas because you gave me these prizes, Mr. Hormle."

Hoermles' contest brought a great many letters, it was said, all being subjected to the same rules for judging.

Bike License On Sale Now

Bicycle licenses for 1958 will go on sale Dec. 26, at the city auditor's office, Room 111, City Hall, and in 24 other locations throughout the city.

The licenses for bikes will cost 50 cents. A 10-cent service charge to agents who sell licenses has been authorized. These authorized agents are not employees of the City of Columbus, nor do they receive compensation from the city, it was stated. There is no service charge on licenses sold at the City Hall.

The last due date on which a bicycle may be used without a license is Dec. 31, now almost here. The period covered by the new license is Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1958.

City Auditor John H. Price states that bicycle licenses are excellent theft insurance. In recent years, 98 percent of all licensed bicycles stolen in the city have been recovered by the police. The stolen bikes can be identified by the manufecturer's serial number stamped on the bicycle, which number is recorded when the licenses are issued.

Bicycle licenses may be purchased by South Side people at Martin Bicycle Shop, 1330 S. Fouth-st, and Southside Cycle Shop, 1175 Parsons-av.

St. Mary's Scene Lures Many

At St. Mary's Catholic Church the camera found a unique scene on the lawn of the official residence and also framing the front door of the residence, shown with Rev. F. R.
